Football Expenses

Now you may think what it is, or how you want to turn out at a well-equipped athletic or school organization. But our boys are not equipped. The football expenses are the same as they were five years ago. The team is almost the same as it was last year, as it was five years ago. With the same equipment, the team is just as good as the last year's team. The officers have had no extra duties. The officers have had no extra duties. And it is just as it was last year. The officials have had no extra duties. The officials have had no extra duties. And it is just as it was last year. And it is just as it was last year.

Mental Defectives Present A Challenge, Anna T. Scraggs Tells Sociology Class

"Mental defective people present a challenge," stated Mrs. Anna T. Scraggs, supervisor of the Sixth School District for mentally defective children, in an address to members of the sociology class October 25 at the University of Oklahoma. Mrs. Scraggs went on to say that the challenge of the mentally defective child is more than that of the ordinary child because he is limited in intellectual development. She added that the primary duty of the social welfare worker is to determine the type of work that will be most effective for the individual and to develop his mind and skill. The mentally defective child, she said, must be taught by different methods than the ordinary child.

Griffins Wrap Hopes in Jackrabbit Nervily
The Northwest's opening game of 1951 was at home, in the Pan American. The Norsemen's defense was leery, and there was the usual buzz of Preseason Games and a lot of hype. The Griffins were a potent team, and the Norsemen knew they had to be on top of their game. The game was close, with the Griffins clinging to a 10-point lead in the first half. But the Norsemen fought back, and in the second half, they took the lead and held on to win, 72-68. It was a thrilling victory, and the Norsemen were ecstatic.

Norse Plasters Murray 32-0
The Northwest's A.M. Murphy took the lead over the Red Devils with a powerful offensive attack. The Norsemen were on fire, with Murray leading the way. The Red Devils were struggling to keep up, and in the end, the Norsemen won, 32-0. It was a dominating performance, and the Norsemen were pleased with their victory.

J. Simpson Compiles Statistics
Individual statistics were being compiled on each player for the season. John Simpson was leading the way, with a total of 250 points. He had scored in every game, and his performance was a testament to his talent and hard work.
