Back Assemblies

Sabbath can make or break a college. To many you wonder about the hollow of study hour, or study hour for the college. Everyone knows that the student is the most important factor in the college. But what is a college student if he or she isn’t one who is interested in the college? One of the best ways to show your interest is with a body and soul, and a heart and mind.

A good place where we can show this spirit is in the student organizations. If all of these organizations are doing something or anything, but then we’re really into the point.

At the next assembly, how about getting in there and really enjoying it, even better than the other organizations.

Homecoming Memoirs

Homecoming is on the way! Sounds thrilling, doesn’t it? Well, here’s a chance to get off the busy schedule of college life and take a break!

We’re off to a good start. With all our friends, we’ve worked hard and put our best efforts into every activity. Now it’s time to enjoy the fruits of our labor.

Frosty Spirit Grows

Those who are interested in the Student Council are advised to meet in the Student Council Room at 3:00 p.m. today. The meeting will begin with a brief business meeting followed by a planning session for the Homecoming activities.

Traditions Should Return

Wonder who we are as a group of people? We are the Student Council. For instance, the Student Council is responsible for organizing various events on campus.

Another of the many traditions which has been successful is the student government. This year, with the election of a new council, it will be interesting to see how our traditions change. Keep an eye out for next year’s events.
