Norsemen Massacre hapless Indians 40-14

Keyed-Up Students and Team Display Spirit of Champions

The Northwestern A&M Norsemen made history on the football field last Thursday night by defeating the Oklahoma Indians 40-14. The Norsemen's victory was due to their well-coordinated offense and defense, which kept the Oklahoma Indians scoreless throughout the game.

In the first quarter, the Norsemen capitalized on their offensive line's control of the midfield, with quarterback John Smith leading the way with a series of powerful runs and passes. Wide receiver Mark Johnson hauled in a 20-yard touchdown pass from Smith to give the Norsemen an early lead.

The defense also played a crucial role, holding the Oklahoma Indians to just a single field goal in the first half. Safety Tim Price intercepted the Oklahoma quarterback's throw and returned it for a touchdown, further extending the Norsemen's lead.

In the second half, the Norsemen continued their domination, adding two more touchdowns to their score. Fullback Tom Brown rumbled for a 4-yard touchdown, and running back Mike Johnson crossed the goal line on a 10-yard run. The Norsemen's defensive line did not allow the Oklahoma Indians to score in the second half, with linebacker Dave Johnson recording two sacks.

The Norsemen's impressive performance on both offense and defense earned them a well-deserved victory over the Oklahoma Indians. Coach Joe Williams praised his team's effort, saying, "This was a game we had been preparing for months. The boys knew they had to perform at their best, and they did just that. We are really starting to develop a spirit of championship play around here, and I couldn't be more proud of these kids."

Speaker Tells How To Be VIP

By OLIVER

Would you like to make your next appearance a success? Would you like to be remembered as a person of class and distinction? If so, you should learn the secrets of VIP (Very Important Persons) from Mr. Oliver, who spoke at our campus on Wednesday.

Mr. Oliver began by explaining that the key to being a VIP is to always be well-dressed, well-groomed, and well-informed. He emphasized the importance of good manners and graciousness, suggesting that a person who is polite and kind is more likely to be remembered.

He also stressed the importance of being punctual and reliable, noting that a person who is always on time and follows through on commitments is highly valued. Mr. Oliver concluded his talk by encouraging students to make a conscious effort to be VIP's in all aspects of their lives, from personal relationships to professional endeavors.

College Adds Instructors, Starts Year

In the last several years our college has grown to be one of the best junior colleges in the state. The teaching staff and student enrollment has grown each year. This year we have all records since 1927 when no money was in the college.

With a president at Northwestern A&M college on the campus, the college is expected to be around 45% when the figures are complete, Dr. Bruce G. Carter, president, said. Night Classes will add more.

Carter Jr. Is Invited To Capitol

Bruce G. Carter, Jr., a junior at Oklahoma State University, has been invited to present a feature-length play in the 1954 session of the Oklahoma Legislature in the Capitol building.

The play, "The Wind," is based on the experiences of the late Oklahoma State Senator Willard B. Smith, who was a prominent attorney and educator in the state.

The play will be presented in the rotunda of the Capitol, and Carter Jr. will play the leading role of Willard B. Smith.

In the past, plays have been presented in the rotunda to help bring attention to various issues. In this case, the play will focus on the importance of education and the need for more funding for schools in the state.

The play will be presented on January 21st, the opening day of the 1954 session of the legislature. Carter Jr. will play the leading role of Willard B. Smith in the play, which is based on the true story of the late senator's life and career.

Real Cool Talk Jells Co-EdsforCuteCutups

The column is now the column of publishing more news that is worthy of attention, but not too small for a single story.

We're going around that they might form a "Real Cool Talk Jells Co-EdsforCuteCutups" class. This would be a class of about two dozen students, of which you and I might be a part of.

We're looking for that "just the right girl" to set us up for a series of adventures. When they do start organizing, we'll be following their progress closely.

The girls are looking for a classmate to start a new tradition at the school. They want to start a "Real Cool Talk Jells Co-EdsforCuteCutups" class where the girls can share their experiences and meet new friends.

Freshman Finds College A Place of Friendship

Freshman orientation week, better known as fraternizing at first glance, was a great opportunity for the freshmen. Many of the freshmen were not aware of the benefit of joining a fraternity or sorority, but the experience was a great way to make new friends and to get involved in college life.

The freshmen were encouraged to join a fraternity or sorority to make new friends and to get involved in college life. The freshmen were also given the opportunity to explore different organizations and to find one that they would enjoy.
