SET YOUR STANDARDS

You would make the beginning of another year high. It also marks the beginning of a new term in your education. There are several students who are not pleased with the results of the previous year but are ready to start over and only work harder. The letters of certain students show that they are not dissatisfied with the results in the final exams.

When you start the new term, the excitement is there, but the work is also there. Students who are interested in a certain course must put forth their best efforts to excel. They must work hard to get the best grades and then show up in class the next day. The course of study is designed to prepare students for the future.

There are many students who are not ready to start over. There are many students who are not ready to work hard. There are many students who are not ready to do their best. There are many students who are not ready to succeed.
