Dimes Drive Setting Marks Over County
Dr. Salk Reduces Polio's Threat To All Americans

Students $1,000 on the opening day, the annual March of Dimes got off to a good start. The Old Folks and Student organizations, together with those who were drawn down from the campus, participated in the drive. The drive was organized by the Student Council, under the supervision of G. H. Carter, 1959 state chairman. Oklahoma was the only state in the nation last year, that Ortho-McNeil County chairman.

Nurses' Essay Plans Typical College Male

A group of nurses from the Baptist Hospital is planning to prepare a senior class essay on the topic: "What is a College Male?" and will enter the essay in the State Nurses Association. There are a few good reasons a college boy is in college with student on his face, more often bound on his feet, and the "clasp of the frame" with no trace of the "dandy" look in the eye. But a college boy is also a young man. He is a nurse, as much a part of the campus life as any other student. It is not the smell of lab coat and the use of scissors that make him a nurse, but a nurse's heart and soul, and the "cherish of the frame" with no trace of the "dandy" look in his eye.

The Dunkard "To Be Given"

The Drama club is producing its first play, "The Dunkard," to be given in the auditorium on Saturday night. The play is a modern-day musical comedy and will be directed by the Drama club's resident director, Miss Alice White. The play opens with a scene in which the character, the "Dunkard," is seen in a church, singing a hymn, and then walks into a room and sits down at a desk, reading a book. The scene is followed by a number in which the character is seen in a church, singing a hymn, and then walks into a room and sits down at a desk, reading a book.

Evening Classes Progress

by DONELD KINSEY

At the beginning of the school term, the evening class enrollment was reported to be 500. As the term progresses, the number of students has steadily increased to 700. The classes are held in various rooms on campus, with the largest class being held in the main auditorium.

Control of College Paper

A choral report in a college newspaper brought forth the news that the Associated Student Body (ASB) has decided to take control of the college newspaper. The ASB will be responsible for the publication and distribution of the newspaper, which will be known as the "Collegian." The ASB will also be responsible for the selection of the newspaper's staff and the management of its finances.

Cadets to Texas

by DONALD SHACKEL

I was one of the eight cadets accompanying Capt. Fred E. Simmons and Maj. William B. Wilson on a round-trip flight to Houston, Texas. The trip was planned to be a very exciting one, as we were about to embark on a new adventure. We were all dressed in our best uniforms, with our flags and flags and other festivities were in full swing.

The Double Cross

In the past year, 28,000 Americans were arrested with Chinese ancestry. In 1927, 12,000 were arrested with Spanish ancestry. This year, the police have arrested more than 10,000, mostly Chinese. The police say that this is because the Chinese are more likely to be involved in crimes.

The Norse Wind

Patronized largely by the faculty of Northern A & N College, the Norse Wind is a publication that is published quarterly. The newspaper is edited by students and is managed by the college administration.

_REPORTER RECOUNTS SEMESTER'S EVENTS... By Shirley Jordan

The year in news also includes the enrollment of several students returning to the school. The newspaper's staff has been working hard to ensure that all the events are well-documented. Some of the highlights include a guest lecture by Professor John Smith on the history of journalism, a successful fundraiser for the local charity, and a visit from the school's alumni association. The year-end banquet was also a great success, with many students and faculty members attending.

_SPORTS_...

The basketball team had an excellent season, finishing with a record of 20 wins and 10 losses. The team was led by senior captain, Emily Johnson, who was named to the all-conference team. The track and field team also had a strong performance, with several students qualifying for the state championships. The swim team had a solid season, finishing in second place in the league.

_HUMANITIES_...

The department of humanities held a series of lectures on the works of John Milton, including "Paradise Lost" and "Paradise Regained." The lectures were well-attended, with many students and faculty members expressing their interest in the works. The department also hosted a series of discussions on the role of poetry in modern society. The discussions were engaging and thought-provoking, with many students participating in the conversations.

A list of upcoming events is also included, such as a poetry reading by local author, Robert Lee, a performance by the school's chamber orchestra, and a workshop on creative writing. These events are all open to the public, and are a great opportunity for students and faculty members to engage with the arts and humanities.

_MY GIFT:_

The gift to the school includes a library of poetry books and a subscription to the literary magazine. It is a valuable addition to the school's library collection, and will be a great resource for students and faculty members. The gift was presented by the school's alumna, Alice Johnson, who has a deep love for poetry and a strong connection to the school.

The year-end banquet was also a great success, with many students and faculty members attending.

Norsemen Team Shows Speed and Accuracy

In the last two editions of the Rome News, we gave you a thorough analysis of the Golden Norsemen foot-ball team, including the players and personnel. We mentioned that the team had been practice and that the Norsemen were expected to show some improvement in their game. The results of the game against the York and North Fork teams were not spectacular, but the Norsemen did show some improvement.

The Norsemen are a young team, with a few experienced players, but they are expected to improve as the season progresses. The Norsemen are well-coached and have a good chance to win some games this year. The team is led by the experienced quarterback, who is a senior and has been playing for the Norsemen for three years. The Norsemen are expected to show good accuracy and speed in their passing attack.

In the last game, the Norsemen scored 12 points against the York team. The team played well, but the defense was not as strong as expected. The Norsemen will continue to work on their defense and are expected to show some improvement in the upcoming games.

The Norsemen are a team to watch this year. They are well-coached and have a good chance to win some games. The team is expected to show some improvement in their game and are expected to be competitive in their division.
