Homecoming Preparation Will Culminate Tomorrow

Each year for days, the pulse of campus life quickens, and the normally fast pace of activities increases. Various clubs and organizations begin the inevitable process of meetings, elections, fund raising, and construction work. Failure of sounds of drill and practice must be met. Football squad, Band, Norse Stars, and ROTC units, all must strive for perfection. Finally, these hours and weeks of preparation, planning and work must reach their climax on that special day known as homecoming.

This year, the N. E. O. Alumni promises to be a very busy and rewarding homecoming for the students and former students of Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

RECEPTION TO BE HELD FOR ALUMNI

A reception will be held throughout the day in the Bruce C. Carter Student Union, for all returning alumni. The Student Union building will also serve as a focal point for many of the other activities during the course of the day. A noon luncheon at the VFW will honor the members of the "O" Club, who are Northeastern A&M alumni of former years. The student union will also serve as headquarters for the judging of the homecoming queen candidates.

Any club on campus may, upon payment of a fifty dollar fee, enter a candidate for homecoming queen. This year 12 girls will represent their club or organization in the competition for the honor of being crowned queen of the homecoming activities.

The panel of judges who will choose this year's queen, are all senior graduates of Northeastern A&M.

QUEEN CANDIDATES MEET JUDGES AT 8 A.M.

The procedure for choosing a queen will begin at 8 a.m. Friday. The first group of candidates will meet with the judges in the student union from 8 a.m. until noon. Then, the candidates will change in appearance and have lunch with the judges at the student union. During the entire morning, the candidates will be observed and judged on beauty, poise, intelligence, conversation, and deportment.

After lunch, the judges will return to select the girl who will reign as Northeastern A&M queen. Their decision will be announced, however, until the actual halftime crowning ceremony.

This year there are twelve girls who, along with their clubs and titles, are Diane McKenzie, McCune; Gail D. O. Carter Student Union; Sherri George Allen, Reconstruction in Space; Air Force R.O.T.C., Boss Castroville, Miami, "Moments Tomorrow," Business Club; Dionne Pledger, msu; "The Tellers of the Tales," Engineering Club; Judy Billingsley, Tulsa; "The Wright Brothers," Journalism class; Sue Rampely, Broken Arrow, "Panther," 1975, Chen Bradshaw, Portland, "The Founding of the United Nations," International Club; Jane Grant, Wyandotte, "The Canon and Tuley," Language Club; Betty Hall, Miami, "Liberty and Learning," Phi Theta Kappa.

安全管理, Miami, "The Raising of the Flag on In Jims," Ptas, University of Oklahoma; Sandra Stockton, Bragg, "Washington Crossing the Potomac," sophomore class.

Time those who have not yet selected a queen but have a float are: Commons Hall and the Gert Derr, "Vorboys Return Home," Dyer Hall, "The Tough Horse," and the Home Economics Club, "Beverly, Making the Flag.

Flowers will be judged on uniformity, color, arrangement, and presence of the theme, audience appeal and completeness of construction. First, second, and third place prizes will be awarded.

Last year's first place float was a "Eel Tribe," designed by the ITS, consisting of a group of oarsmen, with a large sail and a background for their oars.

PARADE TO BEGIN AT 1 P.M.

This week's activities will feature the annual homecoming parade. Floats from many of the clubs on campus will compete for the grand prize of $100, with various bands and the men of the Alpha Rho Chi Corps will make up the marching units of the parade.

Mr. Nye is the homecoming parade chairman for this year, and Mr. Smith is in charge of scheduling bands to march in the parade. The same parade route will be used, with the various floats entering the parade.

Following the parade, there will be an alumni dinner held at the Bruce C. Carter Student Union at 6 p.m., and the homecoming queen will be introduced on the stage.

GAME TO BEGIN AT 7:30

At 7:30 the evening's activities continue as the undefeated N.O. "Golden' Norsemen" meet Tulsa on Joe Snow Field. During halftime the homecoming queens will crown the homecoming king in a spectacular ceremony. In charge of this ceremony will be: Vigo Lea Wilson, Bruce Owen, Mr. Hueston, and Mr. Swanson.

When the homecoming football game is over, a full day of activities will be completed by two dances on campus.

A dance will be held in the gymnasium for all of the alumni. At the same time, a semi-formal student dance has been scheduled in the student union.
Oh H...! What a Week

Today is the last day of Hell Week, an annual affair at Northeastern Ohio A&M. The campus is blooming with girls in denim dresses and jeans. The guys are wearing white shirts and ties, with either a suit or sports coat. Both sexes agree that they are being viewed as much today as at any other part of the week. Girls smiled a little quieter when the young boy sitting next to them in English class suddenly became a well-dressed young man. Boys couldn’t resist a smile at the pretty young woman in a chic knelt suit.

Earlier this week, however, Hell Week lived up to its name. All freshmen choirs were worn backwards, with shoes of two different colors. One girl reported that she had to borrow a shirt from her roommate who was there. At the end of the day, hot water had to be used to remove it from her hair.

Tuesday the freshmen were given a break from the wearing tricks. It is reported that the sophomore class concurred with only one cry of Carter’s insistence.

Wednesday the girls wore short skirts with ribbons on their hair and on the front of their blouses. Boys wore the same type of dress, berets, mohawks, small bow ties, and suspenders.

Thursday, in the tug of war, the freshmen won the right to remeasure their houses.

Connie Smith Is Feature Twirler

Connie Smith, a Tulsa Freshman, was chosen feature twirler for NEA’s Norse Band. She is the first girl to hold this position in eight years. Connie will march not only at football games but at every other event in which the band participates.

Norse was a major event at Edinburg High School. In 1988 she was the title of Miss Majorette of America as well as receiving many local awards.

In addition to being a feature twirler, Connie is a dancer major, works in the cafeteria, and is a member of the Norse Slate.

Students Donate

116 Pints of Blood

One hundred sixteen pints of blood were donated to the Blood Mobile during the last week in September, according to Darrell Watts, Student Body President.

The Sophomore gave 71 pints and the Freshman gave 45 pints.

Each person who donated blood was given a ticket for a drawing in which a sweater was given to the winning boy and girl. Sue Lin and Jim Harding were the winners of the sweaters.

Watts said that the operation was good, but it was much better this year that the past few years.

The Blood Mobile will return to the campus late in the winter. The Student Council is looking into the possibility of the students to operate a program themselves.

A Utility Ball Pen.

The Lindy

A good practical pen for everyone.

Everybody likes the LINDY.

It’s water proof.

Lots of students buy two or three at a time.

Maybe because it’s only 60 cents.

It’s made from clear plastic and brilliant black ink.

Or maybe they just like to have two or three or even twelve around.

Aha nice to have around.

The leading roles will be played by Talmage, Owen, Taylor, Bob Belkett, and Joanne Burger. Owen plays the part of Sahara, a pretty girl. Belkett and Miss Burger portray Mr. and Mrs. An- tony, white citizens of the town.

The part of a dinosaur is played by Kay Snyder, Miami. The part of the fortune teller is portrayed by Paul McAnally, also of Miami. Sarah Tatum, Tulsa, plays the part of a cowman.

Other characters in the play are Richard Killam, Miami; Bill Latch, Bartlesville; Dennis Wilson, Miami; Joe Geronde, Tula; George Cooke, Tulsa; Sandy Wingo, Fort Smith; Karen En- low, Nowata; Charles Sales and Bob Fann, Miami.

- Linda Thompson, Judy Russell, Jerry Tanner, David Underwood, Phil Graham, Paul Holmes, Ben Peterson, and Pat Smith are all in the cast.

Classes To Be Dismissed Fri.

School will be dismissed Fri., Oct. 26, as all teachers may attend the annual class-meeting of the Oklahoma Education Association.

Van Harlingen is a fellow of the Royal British Society of Arts, president of the Northern California Art Association, and was the Director of the Crocker Art Gallery in his home state of Sacramento, Calif.

The lecture which included slides of contemporary artists at work was interspersed with commentary by Van Harringen.

Mrs. Kathryn Page, head of the Art Department, said there would not permit the students to get full benefit of the lecture with a question and answer period.

Home Ec. Has Fashion Show

Approximately eighty people at-ended the simplicity show, presented by the Home Economics Department, Oct. 2.

Drapes and accessories furnished the garments which the home ec-nomic students modeled. The garments were all on form ideas for fall and winter which can be easily made by following the pattern instructions.

Neutral colors were dominant.

Ripe and all shades of gray, worn together made a most attractive pieced coat, which was modeled by Jo Wallace of Mc-

ar. She also wore a double-knit sheer dress of leather gray to match the full-length coat, with leather accessories. This was just one of the many costumes which was displayed.

Medals were: Commem Smith and Gala Ede, of Tulsa. Linda Wallace, Louisana; Gilda Quintero, Locust Grove; Sandra Woffolk, Fayetteville; Cheryl Martin, Vincent; Margaret Harrington, Duncan: Mrs. Bill Miller, Blue Springs; from Miami, Mrs. Everett Gates, Mrs. Charles Hester, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Earl Burnam, and Donna Patterson.

Council Honors Int. Students With Banquet

The Student Council members acted as hosts for the international students banquet Tuesday, October 11 at 7:00 in the cafeteria. Dr. Bruce G. Carter served as master of ceremonies. N.E.C. students from all over the world were present at the dinner which was held to acquaint the students with one another.

NORSE MEET TYLER IN HOMECOMING GAME

Apaches Rated As Tough Rival For Norsemen

The Golden Norsemen of North Texans A & M will have double work cut out for them tomorrow night when they go against the tough Tyler Apaches in their annual homecoming classic at Redmond Field.

This will be without a doubt the toughest game to date for the undefeated Norsemen. Tyler, although they have had three 20-12 in date will be all fired up to try and hand the Golden Norseman their first defeat. The final battle of the two teams, when they clash, is always a fight down to the final gun.

Coming into the seventh game, between the two rivals, the Tuscan have a slight margin over NEO, winning three while being one and losing two.

The Norsemen will be defending a nearly perfect record of 5-1, and will be very difficult to stop.

At the first of the season Tyler was ranked number one in the nation, but have dropped considerably since then. Coffeyville has taken over that rank at the present time.

According to coach "Red" Robertson the Norse will be in good condition and in good shape for this tough contest. All-American Eugene Buxton and the great passing offense will be expected to be driving as always, to say the least about the defensive "beak" and their perfect scoreless record.

Let's all go and see the best. Running Golden Norsemen ruck up another big "V" in this seasonal classic, homecoming. Game is at 7:30, so we'll see you there.

GO, GO, NEO

SCALP APACHES

Norse Defense Baffles Wichita

One of the best defensive North-eastern A&M has ever had hand-ed the Wichita Freshmen their first defeat of the season. Friday night, 20-0. The Fan "beak" have yet to have an offensive team to cross their guideline.

The great Norse team has had 22 points scored against them and all were scored against the punting team or defensive squad. Taking nothing away from the offense who have average 18 points a game including the 7½ deadlocks Tian taking.

In Friday night action, scoring first for NEO was fullback Jim Little who plunged 2 yards in the 1st quarter. Kicking expert Roy McClung converted for the one-point.

Scoring in the second stanza, injured Q.B Eugene Buxton passed to end Jim Derwin on a playing covering 28 yards. McClung's kick failed.

Halfback George Merritt climaxed a 53-yard drive, with a 7-yard and away, McClung converted making the final score 20 to 7.

Two TD's were called back against the Norsemen. A 40-yard scamper by halfback Barry Peck and a 50-yard pass from McClung to end John Watkins. Both of these multitudes came in the fourth quarter.

SUPPORT THE GOLDEN NORSEMEN!

Former NEO Student Leads Yanks To Pennant

Ralph Terry, former North-eastern A&M student, pitched a four hitter Tuesday against the San Francisco Giants to lead the New York Yankees to their 30th pennant. Pitching a brilliant game, Terry retired the first 17 batters, and later gave up four hits.

This season was the first series that Terry had won. In 1960, he pitched the first game between the Yanks and the Pittsburgh Pirates and threw the home run to Bob Maraniss that cost them the game.

Definitely, the young rear man from Chelsea, missed one of the greatest out world series in history. Terry, who attended NEO as the first semester of 1964-65, was an above average student and majoring in Arts and Sciences. Besides being a star right hander for Northeastern, he also was a crack shot on the baseball squad.

One of the more popular students on campus, Ralph hitchhiked to the Junior Home of the California to watch the Golden Norsemen in action.

Born and raised at Chelsea, Ralph was coached by Rupert Crean, and pitched the Chelsea team to the state finals.
