Classes Elect New Officers

Members of the Sophomore class met Thursday, Sept. 26, and elected their class officers for the fall semester. Elected president was Jim Fisher, Tulsa; Robert Olson, vice-president, Tulsa; and Sarah Jones, secretary from Commerce City, Colo. Student council members are Billy Walter, Wichita; and Eugene Harman, Jacksonville, Fla.

A Sophomore class meeting has been set for Wednesday to appoint committees. Two consultants will be selected: one for the homecoming, and one for enforcement.

The enforcement committee will see that the freshmen wear their green beanies.

Dates for Hall-Week and other events will be determined Wednesday. Cards will be sold for one dollar for membership to the sophomore class. This will entitle the sophomore to attend all sophomore events.

Elections were held Sept. 20, and candidates for freshman class officers were:

The elected officers of the freshman class were: Elizabeth Boren, Bartlesville, as president; Howard Gries, Tulsa, as vice-president.

Other officers filled were: Carol Armstrong, Tulsa; treasurer, Donna Turner, Sand Springs; and secretary, Carol Armstrong, Tulsa.

Two Student Council representatives and one faculty sponsor were chosen. The student council representatives are Jim Davis, Miami, and Cheryl Edelstein, both from Florida.

Faculty sponsors are Dr. James Hammond, and Captain Rodney Sears.

"Skin of our Teeth" First Production

Thomas Wilder's "Skin of our Teeth" has been chosen as the first production of Speech and Drama Club.

Tryouts will be held this week. The cast of the 24th of September. The director will be Dr. Bruce Owens and John Hamilton, members of the cast.

Other officers elected were: secretary — treasurer, Sandra Boudreaux from Okla., secretary — treasurer, Charles Seal, sophomore from Miami, and secretary — treasurer, Mary High and Barbara Brown from Pryor, Okla.

Mr. Owens and Mr. Hamilton have decided they will have four productions this year. Tentative dates for the first one are November 16th-17th.

Student Council Planning Activities

"I expect the Student Council to be one of the most active around here," said Dr. Bruce G. Carter, president.

Dr. Carter and Dean Angio were elected sponsors of the council at the first meeting of the school year.

Activities for the fall semester were the main items of discussion at this meeting.

These include: formal Thanksgiving Day dance, Christmas dance, Pre-Easter dance, and Dr. Walker's B.O.C. Military Ball. Plans were also discussed for a Christmas Party by Miami High School children. Last year students sponsored a "Children's Christmas" and boys and girls gave them a present and a gift Christmas Party.

A committee was also chosen to select films to be shown this semester. Dr. Carter said movies will be shown in the little theatre just as soon as they are selected.

Blood Bank On Campus Today

Northeastern students challenged Owasso counties to a blood donor contest in connection with the quarterly appearance of the Red Cross Bloodmobile here Thursday and Friday.

The Red Cross Blood center is set up in the band room of the Arts Building. It will be open until 12:00 noon today.

Freshmen and sophomores are competing in a contest between the two classes. Students giving blood are eligible to enter a drawing in which a boy's and a girl's sweater will be the prize.

Donations were donated by Ramer's and Hunt stores in Miami.

The blood quota for this quarter calls for 200 pints.

Urban Renewal Plan Explained

Northeastern A&M will begin three and a half million dollar construction project this year on urban renewal.

The urban renewal plan, which was started a year ago, is a plan to purchase the land adjacent and south of the college. This land includes 186 acres and amounts to one million dollars. In the next year the clearing of land and building will begin.

The plan calls for a new administrative building, dorms, and dining hall for normal students, and another girls' dorm for boys. The cost will be twice one-half million dollars.

On Sept. 11th, Dr. Carter visited Des Moines, Iowa. There he arranged to obtain ideas in construction and design for our future housing.

New Dean of Instruction, Charles Angio, gets a briefing on current school activities from President Bruce Carter. Angle replaced Cecil Ferrier, who is on an extended leave of absence.

Angle Appointed as New Acting Dean of Instruction

Charles Angle, former graduate of Northeastern A&M, is replacing Cecil Ferrier as acting Dean of Instruction.

At the present time Ferrier is on a substantial leave from Post Doctorate work at Wayne State University.

Angle, a graduate of Miami High School has an Associate Arts degree at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M. He has also received a Bachelor of Science and Masters degree at Kansas State College of Pittsburg and has done graduate work at the University of Arkansas. He is a member of the Phi Alpha Theta National Honorary History Fraternity, and at the present time working on his Ph.D. in Political Science at Kansas University.

Angle said that the Dean's office would depart little from present policies. He said he would work very well and says: "It is hard work, but very enjoyable. I believe we have the finest faculty and student body in the middle section of United States."

When the year is completed, he plans to return to the Political Science department.

Richard Davis, a Miami sophomore, is the new Business Manager of The Norse Wind.

Don Dyer, a sophomore from Miami, was elected Vice-President of the Norse Wind.

Elected to serve under the President and Vice-President are Marla Nonn, a sophomore; and Phillip Mather, a sophomore from Pittsburg, Kansas.

Other officers elected were: Secretary, Sandra Stockton; and Treasurer, Susan Linneman.
Editorial

To be a college freshman is not a crime punishable by death. Nor is it an socially antisocial or abstruse plague. What is a college freshman?

He has had the courage to leave his family and home. Those who know and love him have deemed him mature and wise enough to make his own life from this point forward. Alas, everything, his new status proclaims to all that he is no longer average.

Certainly a world in which millions hunger for the knowledge to write their name, higher learning is a luxury and a preserve reserved for a select few. No, the college freshman is not average, but only different.

Why, then, is he so universally eager to discard the combat of his own choices. Is he banal? Could it be that he, like many mortals, is submerged and afraid of the admission that there are still things beyond his knowledge or understanding? What idiocy?

Yes, idiocy, because in a world as vast, dynamic, and complex as ours only an idiot would believe that he could learn everything in a lifetime, or ten lifetimes. Let alone eighteen years.

I have heard men and women in their seventy's proudly declare that they are still learning. It has been said that Einstein could not figure his income tax.

Wast these geniuses with pride, freshmen. You have earned the privilege.

Dorm Mother’s Wish Fulfilled

“Both sexes have the same problems about the opposite sex and money,” said Mrs. Beatrice Elrod, housemother of Dyer Hall and mother of five married daughters.

Mrs. Elrod, who came to Dyer Hall in 1940 shortly after its construc- tion, considers her wish fulfilled for her son, a student of 20. Her “son” returns this warmest and affectionate in full measure. She states that they have never once disagreed.

In reality, one of her “sons” has become a son-in-law. Here youngest daughter Kathy, who lived in the dorm with her mother, married Dyer Hall resident, Jerry Young.

Perhaps this is part of the story she considers the Red has a home, in the eyes of the student. It is as she says, “We are growing old together.” The boys credit her vivacious spirit with many of Dyer Hall’s most enduring customs. Most notable of these is the monthly birthday party given in honor of all those who have had birthdays in that month.

Actually her job keeps her so busy that she has had to cancel half of her social life, but she is not complaining. She only regrets she cannot see old friends as often as she would like.

P. T. K. Hosts District Meeting

Colleen Moore, national president of Phi Theta Kappa, will give the keynote address for the district meeting to be held November 10th.

The event will be held jointly at Miami and Joplin whose chapters are coeds.

Mrs. Margaret Metz, national secretary of Phi Theta Kappa, will also speak at some of the various group meetings.

Guests for the meeting will stay at the Bob Cummings Motor Hotel in Joplin, which will also bear a luncheon for the members. All the guests will come to Miami that night for a barbecue at the Bruce Carter Student Union.

Cadet Officers Named Two New Units Formed

Organization of the AFROTC cadet corps and of two special cadet units, has been completed for the coming term. The corps will consist of 40 officers.

Cadet officers for the full term are as follows: Cadet Group Commander, Cadet Maj. Douglas C. Rhodes, Miami; Deputy Group Commander, Cadet Maj. Jerry D. Erwin, Miami; Group Inspector, Cadet Maj. James T. Bausch, Miami; Group Operations Officer, Cadet Capt. James D. Warga, Youngstedt; Group Admin- istrator Officer, Cadet Maj. James T. Bausch, Miami; Group Personnel Officer, Cadet Maj. Jerry D. Erwin, Miami; Information Officer, First Lt. Alfred H. Fournier, Fairfield, Conn.; Band Commander, Cadet H. A. Ulmer, Miami; Drill Team Commander, Cadet Capt. Louis E. Benson, Claremore; and Honor Guard Commander, Cadet Capt. Carl R. Brooker, Bartlesville.

Two special units which have been organized within the cadet corps are the Honor Guard and the drill team. These groups will participate in various activities throughout the year.

The Honor Guard is a 10-man unit under the command of cadet Sgt. Carl R. Brooker. It will participate in pre-game activities and carry the flag in football games. It will also serve as band flag squad in pre-game activities.

The Drill Team is a 28-man unit commanded by Capt. Louis E. Bacon. This is a precision drill and ceremonial unit which will take part in pre-game and half-time ceremonies as well as perform at intercollegiate football games.

These three troops have been planned to assist the cadet corps units in their varied activities.

International Club Selects Officers

The 1962-1963 International Stu- dent Club met Sept. 31 and re- leased officers. These are Nabil Abo-Nuwar of Jordan, president; Soor Navaz, Iran, vice- president; Jim Noorani, Iran, treasurer; Zviad Kamroze, Iran, secretary.

The club has a membership of forty three students representing nineteen different countries in Asia and South America. They are Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Thailand, Malaya, India, Nationalist China, India, Bolivia, Peru and Venezuela.

Plans are being made to sponsor horseback riding and other campus activities.

Chemistry Dept.

To Expand Soon

The northeastern A&M chemistry department will soon expand into the field of technology.

"To the present time, the chemistry department has served engineers, agriculture majors, business economics and liberal arts students," said Frank Cunningham, its head.

Under Cunningham, who teaches two sections of general chemistry and a class in organic chemistry are two other instructors, John McFadden and Jerry Kinsey. Both have classes in general chemistry and kinetics in an additional part-time chemistry class for engineering students.

The large room which serves as an art gallery is being converted to a science laboratory. The room will use chemicals and materials which will be used as an instrument room. The art department has moved to the second floor of the Fine Arts Building.

Pre-Med Club Elects Officers

The Pre-Med club held its organizational meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 P.M. in the Life Science Building.

George Lytle will serve as president for the coming year. Jerry Kinsey will assist him as vice president. Karlis Wells was elected secretary-treasurer by acclamation. Robert Arko will represent the club in the Student Council, and his alternate is Carolyn Munson, Joe Lewis will keep order at all meetings as sergeant at arms.

Mr. Warren Gibson of the Biological Science Division will act as sponsor of the club.

The club will have a meeting the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 P.M. in the Life-Science Building. There will be guest speakers and films throughout the year of interest to the Pre-Med members.
