1962-63 School Year Passes in Review

BY JOHNSON and WOLF

As the school year draws to a close, we are often prone to reminisce. Many incidents pass in review as we remember the year.

The month of September was a time of organization. All the clubs on campus were setting up new officers and making plans for the coming year.

The Student Council had a head start on everyone else. Their officers were elected the second week of the previous semester. Darrell Wait served as president for the first time. Assisting him were Jim Elsbury, vice-president, secretary; and Doug Rhodes served as student council representative at large.

Jim Fisher was chosen to lead his squadron as president. Also elected were Robert Odem, vice-president.

The freshmen class elected Robin Sim as president; Howard Glass, vice-president. Another important event was the appointment of Charles Angell as new dean of instruction. He replaced Dean C. M. Lewis, who was on an extended leave of absence due to ill health.

Understandably, he was elected president of the International Club. Carolyn Hulme was chosen to lead the club in music and arts.

Cherpbs set for the first semester were also chosen in September. Carol Call was chosen to lead the group, Mary Winters, Rita Brown, Terry Baker, Donna White, Janet Ropp, Carolyn Hulme, and Miss Winters were elected to support Carol in the cheerleading.

October brings in mind many social occasions because it was the month of Mardi Gras, homecoming.

Editorial

Scientists tell us that what goes up must come down, that reaction follows action. Common sense tells us that each beginning must have an ending. And so it is with the Nurse Wind. No doubt, a few of our readers will be disappointed that the events of the previous issue are not repeated in this issue. However, we must point out that the issue was published in a hurry, and the events of the previous issue were not fully reported.

We have made every effort to keep our copy as varied as possible, so that there are fashion articles for the girls as well as sports coverage.

Our national and local advertising has doubled and re-doubled since September. This helps cut the cost of the Nurse Wind to the college. This is the second year that we have had to increase the size of our paper to provide adequate coverage.

And so, as journalists, we are proud of the growth in our department during the year. The class has increased yearly and we are proud to say that we have added to the schedule.

The department has also added new photography equipment to attract students interested in that field.

Yes, we have been a year to remember, but now it is drawing to a close and we must say, "Have a wonderful summer! See you in September!"

Rodeo Profitable Career for NEO A&M Student-Cowboy

BY CLIFF MITCHELL

A hands-on kind of career—one that requires a great deal of skill and dedication—is one that is often overlooked. However, the career of a rodeo cowboy is not only profitable, but it is also a great way to make a living.

The career of a rodeo cowboy requires a great deal of skill and dedication. It is a career that is not for the faint of heart. It is a career that requires a great deal of hard work and dedication.

CANDID CAMPUS
BY JUDY CAPSHAW

Summer is almost here, and with it comes daily change. The newness of school will soon be replaced by a long summer break. For others it will mean a completely new way of life-university. An increasing number of students are both living and working on the California State University at Los Angeles campus. The three story residence hall is the new home for those who choose to live on campus. The campus is a great place to be, and with the increasing number of students, it is becoming more vibrant and exciting. The summer months are a time of change and growth, and the students of California State University are ready for the challenges that lie ahead.

TOP NAD SAVIST ZEGDIXES— A group of students at California State University are exploring the world of art through their own unique perspective. They have been invited to attend the National Art Education Association conference in New York City, where they will have the opportunity to learn from other artists and educators. The students are excited about the opportunity to share their work and ideas with others who share a passion for art. They are grateful for the support of their friends and family, who have encouraged them to pursue their dreams. The students hope that their experiences at the conference will inspire others to explore the world of art as well.

GEOLOGY STUDENTS at last— the dangers that still lay ahead.

The scent, and this time success- ful. Try was exactly one week later. Again the students appeared...

of the kids thought the hard part was over as they reached the end. They were mistaken! The getting-out party was twice as bad. Several of the girls received quite a scare when it was discovered that even Mr. Lamb was not sure just exactly how to get out. After several false trails, the graduated path was found, and a muddy trail snaked up the bright, warm hillside. Things were more serious, down the hillside part—the changing of the guard garments. The girls were out, but no one knew where the boys disappeared to. We told off, we can hop over safely. Finally, the bus revved up its motor and the group sent up a hearty hallelujah for their safe delivery.

After all, only seven of the survivors were left behind...

There were twelve girls, representing the clubs competing for the title of homecoming queen.

Representing the Aggie Club was Doreen Bell. Shortly after the homecoming celebration, this category was merged with the AF ROTC Boys. The Business Club chose Robert C. Hamilton as their candidate for homecoming queen.

Selected by the Editors Club was Anna Jane Poole. Judy Babbitt and Sandra Showers represented the freshmen and sophomores categories, respectively.

The U.T. football team chose their queen with the usual ceremony. The winner was Susie Hodge of the Phi Theta Kappa. She was later crowned as Miss Homecoming.

To the most students, November is the first long holiday. Thanksgiving was the last important event of the month.

The coronation figures at November were announced and it was discovered that a new record had been set.

The Golden Moments was featured in the December issue of "Jorns," the magazine of the Institute of Complex Systems.

Gloria Crockett, sponsor editor of the New School, was selected Junior College Director of the National Press Association during a convention which included an intramural basketball game. Much of the money collected came from the activities of machers.

The most cherished of Phi Theta Kappa was crowned as an honor society by students of the four-state area.

The national officers of Phi Theta Kappa were featured as special guests at the first ROTC ball of the year.

The Homecoming celebration was held at the Miami Civic Center, November 28th. It began from Tavales provided music for the cocktails and their dances. The Northerners also featured a new march in the form of OQGN, though the Homecoming was not a success.

The final ROTC ball of the year was held on the campus of University of Miami and harkened the close of the football season. The Golden Moments proved to be a fine event, emerging with an 8-1-1 record.

The long awaited Christmas holidays finally arrived, and the greyness of the days was finally held away from the week.

As the culmination of several months of drill, the members of the AF ROTC Cadre Corps participated in a federal inspection, which was conducted by the AF ROTC training chief.

Two new queens were chosen, chosen as homecoming princesses from the Omicron Club, crowning the queen at the Omicron Gala.

April was a busy month at NOS. July appears in the records of high schools in surveying the campus, thanks the Press Day, Senior Day, Program Day. NOS's 148th annual Fall Festival was beautifully designed and presented.

The program was enjoyed by many students.

On April 2nd, the new year of every day and over 12000 high school seniors took advantage of the opportunity to wander about the campus, on which is a number of events.

There was a little unexpected excitement at 10:30 PM. The two new ones of the night were not as the students at the time the guests arrived on the field. The apartment was occupied by Ed Stagg, Mike, Pan, and others.

The Phi Theta Kappa elected Mrs. Margaret Developing, who became the third student to be elected president of the Phi Theta Kappa, and was the third student to be elected president of the Phi Theta Kappa.
Cadets Honor Layman & Boaz With Dress Parade

A formal military parade in honor of Major Arch Layman and Capt. Rodney Boaz was held May 7 at NID. Major Layman, who has been in charge of the NID cadet corps for the two years, has been reassigned to AFROTC duty at Kansas University in Lawrence and will leave at the end of the current school year.

House Reviews ROTC Program

The controversial Officers Education Program which is the USAF proposal to replace AFROTC is now being considered in House Committee. It will call for a two-year one-year program with a $220 scholarship and will be known as the Officer Education Program.

The Air Force has been serving as executive agent for the Defense Department in the development of the legislative proposal which will affect the AFROTC and all colleges and universities in the country. The program is to be voted on by the faculty at the thirty schools.

The ROTC program will be the largest single officer procurement program in the service of the Air Force at the present time.

In the past, it has been necessary to develop and maintain an inventory of 5,000 officers, made up of 3,000 active duty and 2,000 reserve officers of every rank.

Major features of the OEP call for:

1. Certification of the entire program to the production of professionally qualified regular and reserve officers for service careers.

2. Establishment of a two-year education program with instruction given during the junior and senior years.

3. Three hours of classroom instruction per week for each semester of the two-year program.

4. Two summer training periods during the summer prior to entry into the program and during the final semester.

5. Selection of approximately 125 by the Air Force for each program, candidates for commissions to be appointed directly to the cadre.

6. A requirement to serve at least four years of active duty.

We were very pleased with the military ball. We considered this the best one yet. The discoverers of beautiful ball was not out of this world, the music was great, and everyone seemed to have a good time. Some of you did not attend sure missed a wonderful evening. Boy! the dates of the Cadets were really dressed out. They were beautiful. Right out of pictures. If the armament had not had us to keep them company they would never come out of orbit. The Cadets looked good in their uniforms with the white shirt and black bow tie.

Say, the Major and Captains looked pretty spry in their service dress uniform. We give a big pat on the back to the special project officer and information office. Many thanks are given to Lt. Col. Watts, Maj. Hughes, Ensign and Stoedy, Capt. Thoede, and 1Lt. Spears, mainly a disciplinary board which issues to the cadets guarantees for violating offenses and issues disciplinary action as necessary.

Norsemen Remain Champs

By GENE CROCKETT

Northeastern Ohio A&M's track team, coached by Jack Roecter, ran away with its honors in both Regional and State track competition, May 2, here at the Robert Field.

The defending champions Northeastern scored 105 1/2 points over Barite University (31 1/2), St. John's College (24), Eastern Akron (19), and to take individual honors in regional competition, NEU placed up 13th, Barite 49th, and Eastern 24th. St. John is not a member of the regional conference.

Two records were broken by NEU athletes, Bob Smith, from Seneca, Mo., broke his own record in the mile run in the time of 4:38. His mark last year was 4:38.0.

Floyd McClung, from Fairview, won the pole vault with a vault of 11-8, (the old record was 11-2). Besides setting a new mile record, Smith, who was top individual of the meet, also won the 880-yard run, and was a member of the winning mile relay team along with Doug Rhodes.

FIELDFHOUSE FACTS

By PHIL GRAHAM

It has been a great season for both track and baseball at NEU this year, but like all good things, they must eventually come to an end.

Track is not quite over. Eight Norsemen trackmen are in Big Spring, Tex., this week competing for the junior college championship of America in the National Jucio Track meet.

Unfortunately, the Golden Norse baseball team were not as successful as they have been in the softball and baseball meets, as the Norsemen lost to Grand Junction, Colo., in the play in the National Jucio Base ball Tournament.

All is not in all, in all athletic events NEU has been a long the top in football, "Red" Robinson turned out an excellent gridiron team.

He and his Golden Norse had a good chance of going to the Junior Rose Bowl, but lost that chance when they lost their only game to Cincinnati 27-0, who were the favorites of everyone.

Basketball could have been the story of the year, as Max Roodard did an adequate job of coaching his boys to leading in their share of games. They sport several losses that could have turned them bad.

NEU had one in better track games. Coached by Jack Roecter, the boys won the State Championship in a gathering more than anyone has in 11 years. They will make a great showing in the nationals this year. You can be sure Buccher is doing a little longer this time.

For you freshmen I hope to see you again next year.

Norsemen Lose To Bacone In Tourney Finals

Late Inning Rally
Fatal To State Champions

Scoring seven runs in the seventh inning, the Warriors of Bacone, Oklahoma, dropped a 13-9 victory on the Norse baseball nine. Coach Homer Thomas used his entire pitching staff in a futile effort to stop the wild warriors. The Warriors collected three hits in the first six innings and 11 in the next two.

Northeasterns got to the finals by defeating St. Gregory in the first round, 5-2 and whipped Murray 11-1 in the second elimination.

The regional tournament was held in Claremore on the CSAA diamond. Norsemen will now go on to Colorado to compete in the National Jamboree.
