New Members Join Faculty To Aid Expansion

NEO has added five newcomers to its staff. There are three women, a new man and a new bookstores manager.

Bob L. Fonta is a newcomer to the mathematics department. Born near Springfield, he received a B.S. degree in mathematics from St. Lawrence University. Mr. Fonta teaches Modern Math, a new course at NEO.

Charles E. Grimesley joined the speech and drama department at NEO this fall. He received his B.A. from Georgetown College in Georgetown, Ky., and his Master's degree from Northwestern University. Mr. Grimesley holds a graduate assistantship in the theater department there.

Dorothy Conine, Jr., is a new instructor in data processing with the management program now in progress at NEO. Mr. Conine received his degree in mathematics from Bethany Nazarene College.

Miss Mary Reddy comes from Southeastern State College at Weatherford where she was acting dean. Dean Reddy received her B.A. degree from Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, and her Master's of Education degree from the University of Oklahoma.

Mr. A. L. Taylor is the new manager of the NEO bookstore. He is the husband of A. L. Taylor, head of the I.B.M. department at NEO, where Mrs. Taylor has worked in the publishing and printing department of Oklahoma State University and as curator of the Atomic Museum in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

FREE MOVIES SCHEDULED

The Wednesday night movies, which have proved so popular in the past, are again being scheduled this year. Ten movies will be shown this semester.

Dean Cecil Ferree Returns To College

Dean Cecil Ferree has returned to serve another prosperous year at NEO. After returning from a year of post-Doctoral study at Wayne University in Detroit, Michigan, under a Kellogg Grant, Ferree studied junior college movements in organizational administration, and curriculum planning. Ferree also studied at the University of Michigan junior colleges for three months to obtain new ideas in curricular, curricular and general education. The Dean also studied in his major field, which is Political Science. He summed up his adventure as being "very profitable."

Upon his return to NEO, Dean Ferree stated that NEO had a more even faculty and wider curriculum than other schools of the same type which he had visited. He was pleased with some of the new I.B.M. facilities, which were introduced last year.

Classes Elect First Semester Officers

One of the main events of the beginning of any new college year is the organization of classes and the election of class officers. The officers and sponsors are the heart of class activities and planning. The elections can be one of the most important phases of beginning a successful year on any college campus.

The Class of 1958 held its first semester elections Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Charles Campbell, music major from Miami, was elected class president. Bob McCullough, English major from Mt. Dora, Fla., will serve as class vice-president; secretary will be Sandy Goff, a speech major from Blytheville, Ark.; treasurer is Judy Crafton, elementary education major from Miami; representatives are Larry Howard, English major from Miami, and Donna Turner, business major from Sand Springs.

The class is represented by Jeanette Vertell, a business major from Collierville, Linda Madden, a business major from Pryor, and Janice Harper, a business major from North Chicago, Ill., who completed the résumé of class cheerleaders.

The Sophomore Class has also selected their class officers for the 1958-59 year. Class president Campbell has announced that the theme for the sophomore homecoming will be "Jazz" and that a committee will be selected soon for work on the event. Another project currently under way is the printing of class membership cards which will be available to all sophomores for a fee of 50 cents. These cards will entitle class members to entrance in all sophomore class events.

The freshman class, meeting in the gymnasium, elected officers and sponsors.

John Carver, political science major from Miami was elected as president of the class. Darrell Wilson, engineering major from Miami is the vice-president; secretary is Randall Hassell, music major from Chandler; treasurer is Richard Bell, business major from Miami; and the student council representatives are Danielle Maltich, education major from Okemah and Richard Foster of Wyandotte.

Horn Thomas and Jack Purber were elected by the freshmen as their class sponsors.

Freshman activities planned for the first semester include a dance to be held in the Civic Center on Thursday, Oct. 17, featuring Connie and the Bells. The dance will be free to all students having freshmen or sophomore class membership cards.

The change for off-campus dance will be one dollar and the dance will be held under campus rules.
Editorial

It is customary for any person who claims the title of "Editor," whether of a college paper or a metropolitan daily, to make regular statements of his own particular views on any subject. In short, an editorial.

It has also become almost a custom that the first such editorial of the year on a college publication should present a few words to students, as a sort of guide to college life.

For this issue however, we would prefer to present the views of someone who should be an authority on beginning college life: a freshman. The following thoughts recently crop from beneath the beak of a freshman journalism student, and would seem to sum up the subject pretty well ... (Editorial)

REFLECTIONS OF A FRESHMAN

Now that the school year has begun and the confusion of enrolment and moving into dormitories is over the new freshman begins to see college life for the first time. At Northeastern Okla. A&M college the freshman is a special person, treated with care by all.

The instructors and administrators help all freshman to find the way through the great maze of enrollment procedures and student activities, while the sophomores help remind them to wear their bearies. The freshman soon discovers that college life is not all work, neither is it all play. Many events throughout the year help keep the average student busy; building floats, attending school sponsored club meetings, senior day, football games, dances and many other events last, but not least, are the studies. Cramming for tests, writing themes, and sitting in hot classrooms.

The freshman discovers that all education takes place in the classrooms. The making of new friends and the mixing of varied backgrounds make for a broadening of the mind that cannot be achieved within the classrooms.

The freshman finds that all students are working for a goal and are making a record that will remain with them for the rest of their lives. He soon discovers that the satisfaction which is connected with being a college student far outweighs his problems. College students are a very select group in this world and one of the most important:
So freshmen, make the most of your college life and feel secure that you are going to one of the finest jr. colleges in the world.

As this new voyage down the paths of knowledge begins we welcome you to take this opportunity to bid welcome to all. We hope that this year will be one that is full of knowledge gained and friendships formed.

We would also like to welcome you and your families to the AFROTC department at N.E.O. Lt. Col. Harley L. Holt and Capt. Patricia Keeler are the new heads of the AFROTC department at N.E.O. The Air Force ROTC at N.E.O. is located at the Mather Air Force Base in January, 1941.

The program includes classes in navigation, meteorology, and the science of the atmosphere. The program is designed to provide a comprehensive course in the field of military aviation.

Throughout America, on every college campus, the right clothes, whether they be sporty or dressy, are important to many students. In this column, which will be featured during the year, we will try to present some of the most popular styles that college students are wearing to school as well as extra-curricular functions.

At this time of year, football is often about the most important thing on college students' minds. Meredith Smith, freshman from Miami, and Bob Spencer, sophomore from Miami, are all set for the football season. They are looking forward to the football season with enthusiasm and excitement.

Big Horn Gives Big Pain to NEO Band Depart.

"Yes, we have nosysophamie is the theme of the new song by the NEO Band Department.

The NEO chorus, continuing its tradition of excellence, will present a new song "The Man in the Moon," written by Capt. Keith, a member of the AFROTC program. The song is scheduled for performance at the October 6th, 1964, performance. The chorus is composed of 50 voices, and the arrangement is under the direction of Mr. Keith.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Keith, will present a program of music that includes a variety of styles and genres. The program will feature arrangements of popular songs, as well as original compositions written by the members of the band.

Construction Of Parking Lot Underway At NEO

According to Dean Dyer, Housing Director at N.E.O., the construction of a new parking lot is nearly completed. It is considered that it will handle all of the parking problems on the campus.

The new parking area is located on the east and south part of Dyer Hall. Another parking lot is also planned for the east side of the Student Union.

Dyer also stated that the campus police have been instructed to issue parking tickets to cars parked between the buildings or in the entrance of the school, and to report any car not having a permit. This rule is in effect to provide the teachers and employees of NEO with ample parking space.
The Wesley Foundation is the Methodist church at work on the campus. During the year the group, made up of students of various denominations, study the role of the church in relation to various social issues and the responsibilities of Christian stewardship as a vocation. They seek to discover and develop the role of the Christian student on campus. All students are welcome regardless of church affiliation.

The center is open every day until 10:30 P.M. There is special lighting to study by, table games, and lounging. A Vesper service is held every Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 P.M. On Sunday, a snack supper is served at 5:30 P.M. for the price of 3¢. Following this is the Forum hour. The program last week was a film and discussion on moral problems which arise in campus life.

The topic of the next two weeks will be "Vocation-Christian Understanding" and "A Profile of College Drinking," with the discussion led by Dr. Ross McClellan, Oklahoma City.

There is a party planned for Friday, Oct. 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dool Wh, 1405 Bay Street. The theme of the party is a Hawaiian luau.

THE CLUB CORNER

(Co-written by: Mrs. Dall Burnett, sponsor of both groups and associate of the Spanish Club, in conjunction with the French Club, inviting to take a Hawaiian luau to Mexico sometime this spring.

BSU Officers Are Chosen For Term

The Baptist Student Union began its new school year with newly elected officers which were chosen in the spring of last year. The Officers are: Charles Campbell, president; Nancy Crouse, secretary; Bob McCullough, enrolment of new members; Carol Barron, social chairman; Pam Knockles, publicity chairman; George Grigas, committee services; Nancy Watkins, meeting with security; Earl Dunkleberger, treasurer.

One of the activities planned for the B.S.U. members is a special Friday night with refreshments and games. It will be held in the B.S.U. building.

The remaining terms will also be active again this year. These terms are made up of members who go to neighboring churches to conduct the morning or evening services. They present special music, and the service is given by one of the members.

Charles Campbell, president, when asked if there were any other activities planned, replied, "To witness for Christ on campus."

New Look For NEO Cheerleaders

The mood of innovation occurs once again from NEO’s cheerleading squad. For the first time in several years, the Golden Norseman are being cheered in victory by male and female yell leaders.

The cheering squad led by Sherman Nossan, a sophomore from Collinsville, consists of eight girls and six boys.

What is the student body reaction to this innovation? Sherman says, "At first kids were not so enthused about the idea, but I think now everyone is behind us fully."

The cheerleaders have been practicing faithfully on many new cheers. Several have been made with the boys especially in mind.

Boy’s Dormitory Elects Officers for Coming Year

Bob Combs, sophomore from Collinsville, was elected to serve in the boy’s dorm, Dyer Hall, as president for the coming year. Others elected were: vice president, David Shaw, Collinsville; secretary-treasurer, Earl Dunkleberger, Wichita; student council representative, Don Woodworth, Stark, Kansas; and song leader, Bob McCullough, Mt. Deor, Fla.

In addition to the dorm officers each of the three floors elected a president. They are: first floor, Marion Mitchell, Anderson, Mo.; second floor, Jerry Sutherland, Olathe, third floor, Lonnie Shanks, Tuba.

Prayer for the respective floors are: Jim Rieder, Prayer, first floor; Ken Milkowski, Tuba, second floor; John Bradburdy, Romance, third floor.

At the dorm meeting the boys decided to use "Benedict" as the theme of their homecoming dance.

Norsemen Down Texarkana; Tyler For Opening Victories

BY GENE CROCKETT
Northwestern AAFA's Golden Norsemen opened their 1968 football season in perfect football weather, with a 32-0 victory over the Bulldogs of Texarkana, Texas at Robert Field, Sept. 14. An estimated crowd of 2,000 filled the bleachers in Texarkana's Memorial Stadium.
The Norsemen are ranked No. 15 in the pre-season polls.

The field was covered with water, and the Norsemen had to practice in the rain for most of the week. The players were in good shape, and the Norsemen were ready to play.

Norsemen coach Bill Hargis said, "The players are ready to go, and I'm glad to see them back on the field."
