The Air Force doesn't want to waste your Bachelor of Science Degree any more than you do.

The Air Force is like that. They hand you a list of responsibilities first. Through Officer Training School you get a chance to specialize where you want... in the forefront of modern science and technology. Suppose, for example, you wanted to become a pilot and serve as aircraft commander on a carriers. You'll plan missions and ensure that the aircraft is perfectly equipped, loaded and equipped for the assigned mission. You'll be trained for the exciting aircraft. Just examples. There are so many more.

Wouldn't it be pretty nice to enjoy officers' pay and privileges? And save your country, as well? Also, you get your retirement benefits, 30 days paid vacation, medical, and dental care.

B. So, those letters have an impressive sound. But they won't be as impressive if you get shot down into some obscure corner of industry after you leave college. A forgotten man. You want activity. You want to get in there and show your stuff. All right. How do you propose to do it?

If you join the United States Air Force you'll become an expert fast.

President of The Freedman Class Bill Tyler, Miami, saw a fine example for his classmates as he donated blood to the Ottawa County Bloodmobile. Despite Tyler's anemia he made the breakaway trip to the enginemans as NRO students contributed 10 pints.

NEO's First Students From Haiti and Tunisia

"Easy, money, nasty—now here we are at NEO." In this low income student decides to come to northeastern A&M. No, it is not according to Pierre Adrion, Sadik Driss, and Mohamed Belkhira.

Adrion, who is NEO's first student from Haiti, learned about the college from his country's ambassador to Washington, D.C. The second generation of his family to attend college in the United States, Adrion was attempting to find a good agricultural school to attend for a year before entering his father's alma mater, Cornell University in Ithaca, New York.

An outspoken young man, Adrion speaks five languages—French, English, Latin, Spanish, and Greek—and freely expresses his opinion that the average American isn't concerned about learning foreign languages. "The American student isn't interested in learning foreign languages because when you belong to a big country like the United States, you can't understand the necessity. Even if you put yourself in my shoes, you are obligated to learn foreign languages, for you know you can't stay in my country to get a college education." After four years of soil chemistry study at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Adrion will return to his native country where his father is the head of the chemistry department of the University of Haiti.

Northeastern A&M's first student from Tunisia, Driss and Belkhira, come to Miami through the efforts of their government. Driss, an agriculture major, and Belkhira, a chemistry major, are staying at NEO.

Stickmen Begin Early Workout

Coach Bob Maxwell's baseball team are not waiting any time preparing for next season and Barons. In an exhibition game on Sept. 23, the Norse stepped on Oklahoma, 32, with a run to the back of the 85, as a southpaw Dick Brown of Tulsa went the distance.
