Regents Grant NEO Eligibility For Funds

Northeastern Oklahoma A&M was recently given eligibility for federal vocational and technical educational funds by the State Regents for Higher Education.

In addition to Northeastern A&M, Comets State College at Warner, Eastern Oklahoma State College at Wewoka, Murray State College at Tushahoma, and Northern Oklahoma at Tonkawa, were declared area vocational-technical schools by the regents under terms of a bill approved in the last session of the legislature.

The law provides for land sharing by the schools designated as area vocational schools.

“I don’t know exactly what this move by the regents will include or the amount of funds we will receive, but I do know it is a step in the right direction toward establishing a v-tech center here,” said Dr. Bruce G. Carter, Northeastern A&M president.

“I feel that if we can establish a v-tech school here it will be beneficial to the college and provide a greater opportunity to care for the needs of the people in this area.”

This school is presently in the process of trying to acquire 16 acres east of the school for expansion purposes, which tentatively includes plans for a v-tech facility.

Student Senate Christmas Party Honors Children

Northeastern Oklahoma A&M’s annual Christmas party for underprivileged children is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 8, at 4 p.m. in the gym. Approximately 300 children have been adopted from the Miami area.

A bus is expected to leave from NEO and go to the Seneca Indian School at 4 p.m. Dec. 8. Each student who has a child at Seneca should plan to travel on the bus. The bus from the Indian school will transport the children back home after the party.

Those who have children other than Seneca should make sure they know where their child lives. If complications arise as the whereabouts of a child because of a wrong address, students should contact Dr. E.S. Charles Angle in the Library-Administration building.

Musical Postponed Until After Dec.

Performance dates for NEO’s musical "Oklahoma!" have been changed from Dec. 11-14 to Jan. 8-12, according to Short White, communication division chairman and musical director. The dates were changed because of the delay in the opening of the new Fine Arts Building.

The cast of the musical in their order of appearance are: Patricia Hejno, Bartlesville sophomore as Aunt Eller; Johnny Johnson, Miami freshman as Curly; Mary Grace Crusell, Tulsa freshman as Laurey; Kyle Clark, Tulsa freshman as Ike; Dan Morris, Bartlesville sophomore as Fred; Gene Vignesh, Tulsa freshman as Simon; Jim Lonay, Miami freshman as Will Parker; Ronnie White, Miami freshman as Jud Fry; Cheryl Washko, Tulsa sophomore as Annie Oakley; Skippie Nicholas, Tulsa freshman as Al Hakim; Carla Lonay, Tulsa sophomore as Gertie Cameron; Noel Weeds, Bartlesville sophomore as Andrew Carnes; and Mike Adams, Tulsa sophomore as Jud Allen.

Some of the songs in the musical are: "Oh What A Beautiful Morning," "People Will Say We’re In Love," "Harry With The Finge on Tops," and the title song, "Okahoma!"

A special invitation is offered to parents of NEO students to attend the Sunday matinee performance Jan. 12. Students who are seniors from Oklahoma have also been invited to attend the musical.

Tickets are already on sale in the Bruce G. Carter Student Union Bookstore. Reserve tickets are not available yet but those who have bought tickets can exchange them for the reserve tickets when available. Student ID’s will be honored but each student must obtain a ticket from the student union ticket window.
Today's youth are the creators of a new revolution of mind. It is perhaps the most violent revolution to be witnessed by any man. Although no young person is directly involved in the riots, defiance and disruptions around the world, they are torn by a revolution within themselves.

Pressure is the key, and perhaps most of the difficulties seen by the older generation as they look to their offspring. Pressure to make the grade, pressure to be accepted, pressure to do something with their lives, pressure to have what their parents never had and pressure to be something to someone.

Is it any wonder then that our generation is experiencing a new feeling, a new want and a new need to strive for bigger and better ideas? To some this may be good, however when one stops to think-is it all that good?

So many of the "bebuling" society are looking for an escape route. This is found in drugs, compulsive withdrawal and the formation of a new society. These are but a few of our generation, but the number is ever increasing.

No one can say that the world we, the new generation, will someday be in charge of is new in the best shape. Perhaps with the pressure put upon us and the new awareness we have gained we may be able to make this a better world. Who can say?

When a member of the older generation looks down on us and shakes his head, a second look might clear his mind. The older generation should think of the push, push-good-competitive world we have been brought up in and see if we aren't doing better than what should be expected. Take an old sitter and think on it.

Frankly Fabulous!

Sondra Long Signifies This Season’s Sparkle

By Barbara Hooper

The sparkle, glitter and beauty of the Christmas season is beginning to appear on the 1000 campus. In conjunction with the season for New Yearhas chosen a girl who reflects all the beauty that Christmas brings.

Sondra Long, a business major, has attended school in Kansas City since she was a child. She is a member of the Missouri for two years and a student council representative of her senior year.

Carrying a busy schedule hasn’t hampered Sondra’s school activities. While working part-time at T & M in Kansas City, she has participated in such things as sorority and has been a cheerleader and alternate for the past two years. During this time she has managed to maintain a strong B average.

This blond, green-eyed beauty was chosen to represent the business school as her cheerleader. A fine performer in her role as senior, she was chosen second runner-up for homecoming queen.

When there is time, Sondra enjoys watching football and basketball. Her favorites include Glen Campbell, Dusty Hoffman and the guitarist.

At home college in your own home town can cause some comfort, but not so in Sondra’s case. When asked how she liked attending NEO she replied, “I think it’s great. I just wish we had a home year school. There is a great feeling among the students. We don’t think there is any place where the president of the college gives as much time to making the students happy on campus.”

Sondra hopes to attend either Northwestern State College in Tallasquah or Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, to finish her education. Plans for the future include teaching business and education at the high school or college level and perhaps obtaining her master’s degree.

NEO Freshman Pursues Hobby

Almost everyone has some kind of hobby which enables them to get away from the cares of the world and just relax. But Jerry Cherry, Northeastern’s dabbles from Dixie, has a hobby that many of us would consider work. His hobby is writing letters to famous individuals.

The main question he asks his hobby lie in the question of what he would help her make in life? To the letter he was writing is “What piece of advice would you give me that you think would help me in life?”

Dr. Noreen Vaden, a professor of business and social work at the University of Cincinnati, gave the following advice:

1. It is important to have a clear vision of what you want to do and to work toward it consistently.
2. It is important to have a strong support system, whether in the form of friends or family.
3. It is important to remain flexible and open to new opportunities.

Jerry Cherry says that his hobby is helping others achieve their goals.

By the way, Jerry is a freshman at Northeastern Oklahoma A & M College and hails from the state of Oklahoma.

There will be the fragrance of cookies baking, spices and fruit cake... and the warmth of the house shall be melodic with the lingering scents of the lovely old Christmas cards.

And finally Christmas morning will come.

But worry—will you be ready for it — You’ll catch the spirit all right, or it will catch you, which is even better.

And then you will remember what Christmas means—the beginning of Christianity.

The Second Chances for the world... the hope for peace... and the only way...

The promise that the angels sang is the most wonderful music the world has ever heard.

On earth peace, good will toward men... unrecorded fully...

The way of His Son who was born a Babe in Bethlehem.

We long for the soothing love among sure of good will which the seasons brings—beloved in this ancient melody of Christmas with its soft, soothing, sweeter influence to tug at our heart strings once again.

We want to lead us to the old customs and traditions because they strengthen our family ties, bond us to our friends.

We make one with all mankind when the Child was born, and bring us back again to the God who gave His only begotten Son, “that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.”

To do so will we “thanksgiving” or “observe” Christmas.

We will "keep-- Christmas--keep--it--as--it--is."

In all the liveliness of its ancient traditions.

May we know in our hearts, that we may be kept in its hope.

Warmth and Concern Shown By Dean Roddy

By Carol Cillessen

Warmth, enthusiasm and an underlying concern for the welfare of the students describes Mary Roddy, Northeastern A&M's dean of women.

In her busy schedule of guidance and counseling Dean Roddy activity instructs courses in psychology, and takes each of her classes to visit the Veterans Rural Hospital in Wichita where they also held an annual Christmas party.

Dean Roddy received her bachelor's degree in education from the Oklahoma College for Women in Chickasha. A combination of events inspired her decision to earn her master's degree and go into teaching and counseling.

Her interest began when she enlisted in the Marine Corps and was placed in personnel and training. She served ten years active duty during World War II and is now a retired major.

Dean Roddy pursued her interest and received her masters in education from the University of Oklahoma, Norman.

When asked how she feels now about her decision to become a dean and instructor she enthusiastically replied, "It has been an interesting and rewarding experience, seeing different personality and watching them progress."

In her six years on the campus of Northeastern A&M, Dean Roddy has organized the Order of Parnell, which is a scholarship award for women living in college housing maintaining an average of 1.5 with 16 or more solid hours. "Each girl is presented with a sterling silver charm symbolizing the magic necklace of the Norse Goddess of love, beauty and "brides." Dean Roddy stated.

Along with her dual role of dean and instructor, Roddy is the historian for the Miami Little Theatre; and was the assistant director in their last year production of the DIARY OF ANNE FRANK. She has also been on the MLT's board of directors, which each year issues a scholarship for students interested in furthering their education in the field of drama. She has had experience working in the Chicago Little Theatre and the Indianapolis Civic Theatre.

Restless with her involvement with the Little Theatre, Roddy belongs to the League of Women's Voters, American Association of University Women, and the Faculty of Danvers.

In this last moving world of changing generations she stands. There doesn't seem to me to be very much difference in the generation now and years ago--only the surface appearance is different. The main difference I can see is that students are more aware and interested in the world around them."

Dr. Bruce G. Carter, college president, had overwhelming praise for MSU's dean of women when he said, "We are delighted to have Mary Roddy as our dean of women and as an instructor."

"She is a woman of good judgment, intelligence, and handles the job of dean with great consideration. She has fitted in very well, and we appreciate her excellent services."

"She is greatly interested in the welfare of the students and the college is very much indebted to her for her guidance and organization of the Order of Parnell."

Dean Roddy's office is located in room 211 on the second floor of the Library - Administration building and she welcomes all students for student counseling and information.
The Norseman Classic Ends Tonight In New Gym

Northeastern A&M's Golden Norsemen will play their second game of the Norseman Classic in the new gym as they meet Independence, Kansas, at 7 p.m. The Norsemen met St. Gregory's in the first round play last night.

Bacone Wins Close Battle Over NEO

Bacone's scrappy Warriors defeated a late Norsemen surge to split points by Ephraim McDaniel to pull out a 114-110, Tuesday night in Madison.

Capitalizing on five Norse turnovers in the first half, Bacone took a 40-point advantage into the dressing room. This marked the fifth time that Coach Celia Green's crew has been held below 100 all year.

The visiting Norse jumped out 23-20 with 10:00 left in the half, but in the next four minutes, the Warriors outscored Northeastern 150 in a 1-3 lead. The Norse never caught up after this.

Bacone, who finished the game with 32 points, kept the Norsemen at bay with his long-range shooting. The Norse had 23 free throws, compared to the hosts' five of 14, to keep their lead in the game in the first half.

Then in the second half, the Norse pulled to within two points, 64-66, at 3:30. At this point, guard Larry Brown was assessed with two technical fouls and was ejected from the game. Free throws by the Norsemen then put the score at 74-66.

With the score 74-68 with 9:30 remaining in the contest, McDaniel got hot. The F3 center scored 23 of his points, 17-34 with just under three minutes to go. Shepard added two points to the 30, making the Norse lose 33 points in the first half. Backing the 'Big E' for the Norsemen was their third leading scorer, Anthony Grundy and man defenders with 12 carousers.

The Norse line was only their second in eight outings this year. They played highly-expected St. Gregory's last night and met the tough Pirates of Independence, Kansas, tonight. Next week, they face freshmen and Hamline, Illinois.

Norse Defeat MSC, 87-66

Coach Celia Green's Norsemen opened their 1965-66 basketball season with a 52-74 victory over the Dutchmen of Belleveille, Illinois, on Nov. 22 in the first round of the Crusader Classic at Nebraska, Iowa.

Center Ephraim McDaniel and guard Larry Brown guided the Norsemen by scoring 32 and 26 points, respectively. McDaniel guided the Norsemen in scoring 38 and 26 points, respectively.

Brown led and continued to dominate the second half scoring 30 points. Leading scorers for the Dutchmen were John W. White and Mike Dean with 15 points each.

Larry Brown was credited with 13 field goals and five of six free throws for a total of 10 points to pace the Norsemen in their second straight victory as the Norsemen, led by Ephraim McDaniel, scored 38 points in the game. The Norsemen were down 7-6 in the game in the first half.

Then in the second half, the Norse pulled to within two points, 64-66, at 3:30. At this point, guard Larry Brown was assessed with two technical fouls and was ejected from the game. Free throws by the Norsemen then put the score at 74-66.

Norse Win With Victory Over Aggies

The Norsemen, led by center Ephriam McDaniels, defeated Missouri Southern Jr. Varsity 130-24 on Dec. 5. The Norsemen took an early lead and never let it. They compiled a 30-37 halftime lead and continued to dominate the half game the second half by scoring 51 points. Five Norsemen shot their way into double figures: Ephriam McDaniels 27, Larry Brown 12, Tom Wolf 12, Voris Williams 11, and Dennis Arland 11. Missouri Southern’s Jr. Varsity put up a good fight but the rebound strength of the Norsemen was completely dominating. Sclare led the Lions by tallying 16 points. Guarded by the sharp shooting of guard Larry Brown and center Ephriam McDaniels the Norsemen picked up their sixth victory on Dec. 6 against Murray State Aggies.

The game was nip and tuck until the final half when guard Larry Brown guided the Norsemen to a slim 33-36 halftime lead. McDaniels took over the second half and guided the Norsemen to a 66-58 victory. The Norsemen had three players in double figures: Ephriam McDaniels 37, Larry Brown 39, and Tom Wolf with 17 points.

Norsemen Snare Third Over Okla. State Tech

Northeastern A&M’s Golden Norsemen won two games and lost one to capture third place in the annual Oral Roberts University junior college basketball tournament over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Guard Larry Brown paced the Norse to an 84-74 opening round victory over Chanute, as he scored seven of the final nine NEO points to conquer the battling Chanutes.

NORSE LEAD 44-23

After Northeastern led 44-23 at intermission, the Panthers came back to make it nip-and-tuck until Brown’s flurry. The Brooklyn freshman led all scorers with 27 points, including 18 in the first half. Center Ephriam McDaniels and forward John Hoover, both controlling the backboards, added 12 and 13 respectively. Leading Chanute were Fred Ackerman with 15 and Julius Nolan and Pat Landruth with 13 each.

ORU WINS

Grbu’s junior varsity, host team for the tournament opened Tuesday Day for the Norse by caging in on 39 free throws to NEO’s 13 and upset coach Cetus Green’s high powered 82-76, in overtime. The Norsemen were in foul trouble most of the game and had three starters, Brown, McDaniels, and playmaker Tom Wolf, foul out.

Mandarin center Ephriam McDaniels contributed 19 points to the Golden Norsemen’s 104-68 victory over the Junior varsity of Missouri Southern, Joplin, on Dec. 5 in the first game of the NEO Festival.
