NEO Saboteurs Defy Beautification Engineers

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder—or so one has been taught throughout the course of one’s life. It proves difficult for some to understand that one person’s vision may differ from another’s, leading to conflicts between those who wish to beautify their environment and those who oppose such changes.

Among the latest clash of this type is the ongoing battle between the student body and the university administration over beautification projects. The student government has proposed installing statues and sculptures around campus to enhance its aesthetic appeal, while the administration argues that the funds could be better spent on other needs.

Dr. Bruce G. Carter, college president, recently met with the student council to discuss the matter. "We believe in beautification, but we also need to consider the financial implications," he said. "We will continue to work with the student body to find a solution that satisfies both parties."

Senate Plans Activities For Second Semester

Spring term at Northeastern A&M finds the Student Senate busier at work to meet the pleasures of the majority of students. In planning the activities of the second semester Paul Campbell, president of the Senate for the second consecutive term, emphasized that the main objective of the Senate is to obtain full participation from every student in social and academic activities.

In keeping with the Loop Year, Senate plans will commence with Topsy Week, Feb. 5. During this period the cords are to become prototypes of Sadie Honors.

Throughout the month of March the Senate will be busily preparing for the election of CHIEF, a collegiate presidential primary. The climax of the program will occur April 24, as students vote for the presidential nominees of their preference. In connection with the political program, Campbell stated that the Senate hopes to induce various political speakers to come to the campus to address the student body.

Highlighting April will be the National Student week. On April 28 visitors from the surrounding area will descend upon the campus to investigate and observe college life.

Another visitor to the campus in April will be the Oklahoma county bloodmobile. This semester, as is customary each term, a contraband will be held between the freshmen and sophomore classes, with a traveling trophy being awarded to the class which donates (on percentage basis) the most blood.

Dean Improves At Residence

Dr. Cecil Ferrell, dean of instruction at Northeastern A&M, is reported newcomers to his home in Skiatook. In order to bring high school students and organizations. Interested students and organizations should contact Campbell or the Senate president.

For the film-a-thon, a feature-length motion picture will continue to be shown on alternate Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. Admission for each of the scheduled films will be the presentation of the student's ID card. Motion picture plans for the second semester include:

Carter Leaves For Boston

Dr. Bruce G. Carter, Northeastern A&M president, left this week to attend the American Association of Junior Colleges in Boston, Mass., which will be held Feb. 26-28.

Senate Heads CHOICE 68

Under the guidance of the Student Senate, CHOICE 68, a collegiate presidential primary, is commencing its functions on campus with the formation of student planning committees. Designing to give students the opportunity to voice their opinions in a constructive way on the important issues of the day and to present posibilities, the national program is being headed at NED by Jerry Noel, CHOICE 68 coordinator. Noel has appointed five committees to increase the efficiency of the overall program. Heading the campaign committee is Cynthia Bellows assisted by David Cooksey and Schuyler Fain. Lois Christensen is chairman of the committee in charge of public relations with the aid of Becky Moore, Sandy Bailey, and Paul Campbell. Kenneth Collins, college public relations director, will advise the CHOICE 68 committee. Student Senate President Paul Campbell heads the speakers bureau group with Linda Boston, Mary Bryan, Lois Christensen, and Becky Moore assisting. The publicity committee includes Sue Ann Dees, chairman, Sandy Bailey, Larry Williams, and Jerome Frederick. Noel is in charge of the polling committee working with Suzanne Dyer, Cynthia Bellows, and Paul Campbell. All students on the various committees will meet with the Election Review Board.

Faculty advisor for the campus program is Charles Angle, dean of student affairs. Robert Kost will perform the sequential duties for the CHOICE 68 committee.

Aggies Compete In Texas Exhibit

Northeastern A&M's livestock judging team will be seeking their third championship title for this year as they compete at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo at Houston, Tex., on March 1. Earlier this year they won the sweepstakes trophy at the National Western Stock Show in Denver, Colo., and the Southwestern Livestock Exposition at Fort Worth, Tex.

Neil Burnham, coach of the team and instructor of agricultural science stated that the judging team members, who will be competing in the Texas contest will be announced later this month.
Young Hurlers Hold Norsemen Baseball Hopes

Catch up Markwell, with the returning internationals and a host of fine young pitchers, is optimistic about the coming season of his 1898 Golden Norsemen baseball team.

Heading the list of returning internationals are team captains Dan Hooner, pitcher, Yale sophomore and Warner Whitaker, outfielder, Yale junior.

Brown, who was a key hurler in last year's 11-3 club, is a strong arm in the club's line-up.

The fast Whitaker possesses a striking physique and a host of other letters are Gary Marcy (Brook. of Tulane), Mark Brown (Sp. C. Dei City), Rent Ongso (Sp. H. Tulane), and Ken Grayson (Sp. P. Miami). Joining D. Brown and Grayson are possibly one of the finest pitching staffs ever assembled at NEH, are five freshman All-State hurlers.

Steve Crumm, Coach (Sp. C. City), Bill Gruen, (Sp. C. City), and Bobby Brand (Dei City) were selected to the All-Wildcat squad last season. Coach and Brand are slateheads white Golden in all that they do.

Rounding out the staff are infielders Scott Dorn (Sp. Topfield, Mass.), Robert Finn (Sp. End Springs) and right-handers John Pickens (Sp. C. City) and Herb McElroy (Sp. C. City).

NEO Thindled Again

Coach Bowerson, who guided the Golden Norsemen to a northern championship, has assumed another coaching responsibility by becoming the coach of the regional jr. college baseball team.

Coach Bowerson came to NEO after leaving the head manager position at Central High School in Tulsa. Bowerson was an assistant track coach under Bill Lassar for Central for two years before he was calling head track coach this year.

TURNOVER Play Starts In Gym

The competition for Northeastern's intramural basketball tournament began on Feb 19 with the gymnasium games. The teams competing are a separate eastern division, each with a 10-point high in the first game.

Coach John Turner, coach of the boys intramural basketball team, announced that "this week the gym will play every other team in its conference since every team has three each on the schedule-

Towns have been divided into two and the games are split into two with the first games being played in double figures.
