Alumni Joins NEO Staff

Mrs. Carol Calzaghi recently joined the Northeastern's AAM faculty as a half-time physical education instructor. Her name was announced.

An alumna of NEO, she is teaching girls swimming classes and women's physical fitness classes.

Mrs. Calzaghi holds a Bachelor of Science degree in physical science and physical education from Northeastern State College, Tulsa, and a Master of Science in physical education from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

She also has done additional graduate work at California State College, Los Angeles and Kansas State College, (Pittsburg. She is presently working on her Doctor's degree at the University of Illinois.

A native of Welch, she has held teaching positions at Clinton Junior High and Nettie junior high school in Tulsa, four years in the public schools in California and a graduate assistant at the University of Illinois.

Her husband, Nichols, is presently serving his first year as an English instructor at the local college.

Financial Debts Must Be Paid Before Finals

Any student who owes money to Northeastern AAM will not be able to receive their final grades or transcripts for transfer, etc. to the college, according to Mrs. Hildred Carter, financial debt officer.

This includes any library fines, parking ticket, graduation fees, lost transcripts, or money borrowed from the Bill Gooch Loan Fund. Those who carry student loans are encouraged to pay the balance due before completing the regular semester.

Financial aid students may be interested in the following:

- Financial services clerk to assist students with the process.
- sweater and parking passes available for purchase.
- Information on loan forgiveness programs.

Lois Christenson Is Nominated

Lois Christenson is a AAUW sophomore from Patners, S. D., who has been nominated for national secretary of the college section of the American Home Economics Association.

Lois Christenson, who is presently serving as secretary of the college section of the Oklahoma Home Economics Association, is a home economics major at NEO.

An Editorial Comment
Praises NEO A&M

NEO is a small college, but it is a number one college. NEO has appeared in National Joes magazine as a number one junior college in the nation. Just recently two graduate students, making tours of junior colleges, from the University of Southern Missouri, visited NEO. They made the remark that out of all the junior colleges they had visited, NEO best met the description of an all-around number one junior college.

NEO's outward appearance, or physical structure, is great. The campus is laid out beautifully and the avenues of the majority of the buildings even emulate some major universities in proportion. But, this outward appearance is not what makes NEO number one. NEO is number one because of the hard work and sincere way it is presented to the public, by the administration, faculty, and the student body. NEO's character is expressed in depth by what her students think and say about her, and do to her. This is what has made our number one.

NEO is number one and she will stay that way.

Miss January Reflects
Beauty of New Year

by Carol Collins

Beauty and charm set the pace for a new year of happiness, prosperity, and peace. This is all reflected in the warm glow of Miss January, Kathy Isham.

Kathy attended high school at Weather Page High School in Weather Page. As a senior, she was an active student both in and out of class. Kathy was cheerleader for three years. She first joined the school's basketball team, vice president of her senior class, football team sophomore homecoming queen, and a member of the National Honor Society.

A freshman from Tulsa, Kathy Isham majors in Arts and Sciences, and has maintained a 3.1 average throughout her busy schedule of first year academic work, and various extracurricular activities.

When asked why she chose to attend Northeastern A&M, Kathy replied, "I came to NEO because it was a small college and would be easier to get to know people." Kathy's sincere attitude and friendly ways were shown through this Sidet 3 beauty, who is a fine representative of the freshman class.

Having completed a semester at NEO Kathy stated, "Every one here is so friendly and the faculty too. You're not just another number—another face here. They know who you are.

In her leisure time Kathy enjoys sports, Wheeling Wire, Elizabeth Barrere Browning, and Sister Joan Bore.

After graduating from Northeastern A&M, Kathy intends to either become a airline stewardess or go into the Peace Corps.

Make a new year's resolution to say hello to Miss January, Kathy Isham, and start your new year off right!

Dedication of Buildings
Slated For January 24

Governor Dewey Bartlett will dedicate eight buildings on the Northeastern Arkansas campus on January 24, the 10th anniversary of the university's founding. The dedication ceremonies will be held at 10 a.m. in the new Fine Arts Center.

The other buildings, which were completed in the spring and summer of 2006, include Aches Hall, vocational-technical building; Har- ri-Debrah Hall; the women's dormitory; Library-Academic Building; and the new Fine Arts Center and fieldhouse which were completed this fall.

Editor Leaves At Semester

Nursewood editor Gary Walker will be among those graduating from Northeastern Arkansas at the semester's end. Upon graduation Walker intends to enlist in the United States Navy and complete his education in Journalism while in the service.

Walker has attended NES for the past three semesters and has served as reporter, assistant editor, and editor for the Nursewood.

Instructor Shirly White Doubles As Showman

Shirly White

This is the reward of many weeks of grueling rehearsal, hard work and long hours," said production director Shirly White, setting in her director's chair reflecting over "Okie Song" as the show opened this week on the new theater stage. "I am proud to have had a part in the first production to be presented in the new theater," she said.

White is one of the many recent additions to the NCC drama department. NCC president, Robert Parish, says Shirly White brings a fresh perspective to the theater program.

White earned her Bachelor of Science Degree in speech at Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, and Masters of Arts Degree at the University of Tulsa. She has done further graduate work at the University of Oklahoma and Northeastern State University.

"We were so happy to have her on board," Parish said. "Shirly White has brought a new excitement to our theater program. She is a dynamic person who is dedicated to the arts."

White took an active part in her high school and college theater productions in preparation for her teaching career. She furthered her acting experience in Tulsa Little Theatre and productions of Tulsa Opera.

He was assistant director of the Tulsa Opera and worked with the Tulsa Opera children's chorus in those productions as well as with the University of Tulsa Opera and the Tulsa Opera Chorus.

"The opening night of the show was a result of trying to outpace the construction work on the new center. Even moving in on time meant rebuilding on a bare stage, a task which was completed right on time," he said.

"But our tech crew, headed by Carl St. Clair, set designer, Jerry Graham and lighting director, David Freeman, have worked night and day over the holidays preparing for the opening this week," he said.

"We called the cast back from vacation two days early for final rehearsal, but the two-week vacation preceding opening week was a well-deserved break for the cast and crew."

"The cast and crew, along with the tech crew, have been a great inspiration to me and to the entire NCC student body."

Football and basketball are two sports on the Neuro campus that really draw the crowds, but did you ever stop and think that these aren't the only sports on this campus? With winter break right along and the Golden Norsemen basketball team enjoying a winning season, I think we ought to think about boosting the morale of the people who participate in extracurricular sports such as baseball and track. These athletes practice long and hard so that they can represent this student body and Neuro as a college with rich traditions in their respective sports.

Last season, the track team failed to organize completely because of the lack of interest displayed by the student body and the faculty. Baseball on the other hand, compiled a winning season and even advanced in the regionals but they also failed to attract the type of attention given to the two major sports.

Granted that when it is springtime and the weather is better you can get out and enjoy life, but you're still a student and a member of this school. The intramural activities are for the benefit of this school as a whole. The performances presented by these athletes are for you and for a chance that you don't take an opportunity to watch and appreciate the effort put forth by these athletes.

So when track and baseball seasons start, I hope you will go down to these activities that their student body is behind them 100 per cent.

Intramural Highlights
by Robert Campbell

The girls' throw team recently ended another season with Ward winning the college championship. The throw, in which 16 girls participated, consisted of three rounds of competition. The girls had 48 shots space. The top 32 of the second round and played down to the four finalists who then played off the third and final round for the championship.

The four finalists were: Linda Duffell, Mary Freeman, with 20 points in the round; Betty Walker, Garayda, with 18 total points; Helen Gribble, Watch Freeman, 17 points; and Darlene West, Big Cabin sophomore, who took a total of 18 points in order to win the championship.

Tennis Champions
Carolyn Gladish, Miami sophomore, won her way to the college tennis championship. Carolyn competed against some 30 in the tournament.

Archery
The archery tournament has been delayed because of the cold weather but should be finished before the end of the semester. The top two archers have already competed are: Joyce Deufland, Miami freshman, and Donna Hawkins, Tulsa freshman. Jacqueline Brown and Tulsa freshman.

Second Semester: Basketball will be the only new activity in the second semester. These interested should organize a team and submit the same to one of the managers. Activities that will be offered for the second semester will include tennis, archery, tennis, bowling and horseshoes.

Mrs. Wilkins, the physical education instructor, stated, "the intramurals have gone along smoothly and those should be given to intramural managers for their hard work."

Three Norse Receives Top Grid Honors
Terry Ash, Alton sophomore; Terry Chappell, Alton sophomore; and Joe Hardesty, sophomore from East Galilea, Fla., members of the 1958 Golden Norsemen football team each received honorable mention on the All-American football team for 1958. Ash, who was the leading scorer for the Norsemen this season at tight end, and Chappell, who led the defensive unit with 42 individual tackles as a linebacker, were named to the team by the 1958 Junior College Gridiron All-American officials in Paducah, Ky.

Also a pass return and kick off return specialist, Ash led the Norsemen in returning 35 punts for 70 yards, and a 1.8 yard average for one touchdown. On kick off returns, he carried the ball 12 times for 187 yards for a 15.6 average and one TD. From his kickoff position, he rushed 88 times for 358 yards and a 3.9 average. He pulled 42 times this season for 1,266 yards and a 3.7 average.

Chappell was the key to the Norsemen's defense with 42 tackles, broke up eight passes, intercepted one pass for a touchdown and recovered two fumbles. Hardesty, who did not miss a game his freshman year for the national champion Norsemen, missed only one game this season due to a knee injury suffered in non-contact practice. He was named to the All-American selection given by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Norsemen Meet Ravens
Tomorrow, In New Gym
Coach Charles Green's Golden Norsemen returned to basketball action this week after a long holiday break with two games in the new Student Gym.

Last night, the Norsemen met the Warriors of Bacon in a Bi-State Conference clash. The War- dinals were the previous meeting between these two teams at Marchague. Tomorrow night, the Norsemen will battle with the Red Ravens of Coffeyville with the tipoff time being at 7:30 p.m.

With nearly one-third of the season gone, the Norsemen have claimed more victories through December than any other team in the history of this school. The freshman-dominated squad compiled a 4-0 record during the 1957 phase of the campaign. The record-setting Norsemen of a year ago gained eight wins for the same time and finished with a season mark of 346.

Win over Cowan at Neosho, Parkland junior colleges of Chicago, Ill., and a victory on their home court over the Argos of Murray have highlighted their winning ways. The Norsemen are averaging 30 points, considerably below last year's mark of 36 points a game. At press time freshmen Elphrim McDonald and Larry Brown led the team in total points with 278 and 230 re-
