Hunt Expresses Note Of Thanks

Fellow Students, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support in the past. Student Senate elections. But the work has just begun for there is much to do and some of the greatest importance. Students have indicated that their main problems are the condition of the parking lot, the availability of a radio station at NEO, more entertainment, and less traffic in the library hours on Sunday.

Student Senate meets every Tuesday evening in the Student Union lounge at 6:30 p.m., and everyone is invited to come and see how your student government is working and take this opportunity to express your opinions.

Your Student Senate can only be strong with your support.

Thanks again, Bonnie Hunt

Linda Brazeal Combines Talent, Charm And Wit

By Barbara Hooper

Valentines, new love and the promise of winter are almost gone but the mood for February. With this fresh new feeling that fills the air in mind, the Nurse Wind has chosen as girl of the month, Miss Linda Brazeal.

Anyone that knows Linda, knows that she never meets a stranger. With an outgoing personality and a smile for everyone she meets, it is easy to see why so many people find a friend in her. "I feel like I know just about everyone on campus, I try to anyway," Linda said.

Linda, a Collinwood sophomore, moved to student senate last year. This year she is a member of French Club, is director of the annual talent show and is on the student entertainers committee which schedules bands for school dances. Linda has also been captain of the intramural basketball and volleyball teams.

As an English major, this 18-year-old, blue eyed blonde plans to continue her education at Northeastern State College, TA, after graduating from NEO she hopes to become an English instructor.

Linda seems to have more than her share of interests and talents. Besides singing, playing the piano and dancing, Linda plays basketball. All these things she does well.

Music plays a very important role in Linda's life. She enjoys almost all types of music but pop, and folk music are her favorites. As for recording artists Linda names Brenda Prin-Cilia and Wilson Pickett at the top of her long list.

Linda has played the piano since she was five years old. "I can read music, play the piano," Linda said, "so we'll never run out of music to play." Linda and her twin sister are both excellent pianists. "It's very difficult to think of a song you don't know," Linda said.

Miss February, Linda Brazeal, has all the qualities to be everybody's girl. "I feel like I know just about everyone," Linda said. "It's very difficult to think of a song you don't know." Linda and her twin sister are both excellent pianists. "It's very difficult to think of a song you don't know," Linda said.
The Student Senate during its recent meeting approved plans to sponsor an informal Valentine's Dance to be held on Friday, February 14th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. The dance is open to all Northeastern students and guests. Admission will be $1.50 per person.

Jazz Concert Recently Held For Students

A group of six musicians held an informal concert for Northeastern Arts students in the Fine Arts Theater. The group, consisting of four male and two female performers, played a variety of jazz standards and contemporary pieces.

Voting Age Issue Shown Support

The efforts of those who support lowering the voting age to 18 or 16 have been gaining momentum. Congress has introduced legislation to lower the voting age to 18, and the issue has been debated in the courts.

The in-depth coverage of these issues is available in the new issue of The Horse Wind.
Voting Age —

The 18-year-old has emerged in the last few years as a growing youth and information-gathering force. More and more of the nation's political leaders are thinking in terms of young people as a vital force in the country's future. This is particularly true in the South and West, where young people are becoming increasingly aware of political issues and are becoming more active in political life.

The demand for youth power is gaining momentum, and young people are beginning to demand a voice in the political process. The 18-year-old vote is growing in importance, and young people are demanding a say in the decisions that affect their lives.

The 18-year-old vote will be a major factor in the presidential election of 1960, and young people will be a significant force in the election. The youth vote will play a vital role in determining the outcome of the election, and young people will be a major factor in shaping the future of the country.

The 18-year-old vote is a force to be reckoned with, and young people will continue to demand a voice in the political process. The future of the country depends on the young people, and they will continue to demand a say in the decisions that affect their lives.
