Golly Gee, Fellas, It's "Dolly"

Becky Wilson Gets Lead; Musical Starts Wednesday

By Larry Gear

"Hello, Dolly!" the stage adaptation of Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker," is the next production for the NEO drama department. NEO is the first college in the Midwest to attempt production of "Hello, Dolly!"

"Hello, Dolly!" has just been released for college and amateur theatres after a record-breaking run on Broadway, receiving both "My Fair Lady" and "Oklahoma."

Performances are scheduled for Feb. 10, 12, 13, 14, 16, and 27, at 8 p.m., and Feb. 28, 2 p.m. Ticket prices are $3.50 for Octagon members, $4.00 for others.

It's a kind of magic strongly that appeals to the entire family, says White. "One which people can take their friends to without worrying whether they will like it."

The demanding role of Dolly is played by Becky Wilson surrounding her is a selection cast of musical talents. The entire cast is composed of over 40 students.

"Hello, Dolly!" is in the top ten of American's most beloved musicals. Director Dolly Gallagheer Lowly not only succeeds in matching casting couples but also successfully lands. Because of this, the audience will be delighted with the well-known repertoire.

Dolly's character is portrayed by the talented cast which includes Sally Field, Barbra Streisand, and Zero Mostel. The production is directed by Betty White, with musical direction by Howard Ashman.

The variety of music presents gives the audience the enjoyable taste of Broadway center with human warmth which makes Dolly a rare gem, a joy to produce, and a smash hit everywhere.

25th Annual NEO Music Festival
Scheduled For March 2, 3

Judges have been selected for the 25th annual Music Festival of NEO AME, scheduled March 2 and March 3.

Approximately 1,000 young musicians are expected to participate in the various contests according to Dr. Robert Swanson, NEO Band director and chairman of the instrumental section of the festival.

Vocal competitions will complete March 2 with schools from Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas already indicating they will have representatives. Instrumental music activities for Junior and Senior high school students will be the following day and elementary schools will be holding elections April 1.

Sivadon Speaks

The largest turnout in several years was tallied Feb. 9 in the runoff election for Student Senate President. I wish to express my thanks to each who voted and to announce the final tallies for their firm spirit and determination.

The remainder of the election for Student Senate will be held March 3. Students are urged to participate in this final election.

Dr. Coryn has asked the Senate to study student costs, to work with faculty on policy-making committees, and to improve the Senate's ability to express their views on school policies.

Death Claims Ronald D. Hunt

NEO student, Ronald D. Hunt of Miami, was Feb. 3 in an apparent suicide. He was 19.

Hunt had apparently lived a quiet life in the campus residence hall, but recently became involved in the student government. He was an assistant in the college's campus government department.

He is survived by his wife, Ted, and two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt, of Miami, and numerous half-brothers and half-sisters.
Phi Theta Kappa Eligibles Listed

Listed below are SOPC students eligible to join Phi Theta Kappa, national scholastic organization, according to Mrs. Doris Burtis, vice president and faculty advisor for the PTK chapter. Students wishing to become members must meet the requirements of the organization, such as maintaining a minimum 3.0 GPA and adhering to the society's educational standards.

Don Hughes is currently working toward his M.S. degree at K-State and will be spending Sundays and Fridays here this semester to complete a research project for K-State course "Advanced Topics in Chemistry."

The equipment for the microscope is being provided by the National Science Foundation under an arrangement made by Dr. Stanley Benedek with J. Hoffmann and Associates. The equipment is housed in the chemistry building.

The editors are pleased to welcome the addition of new members to the organization. Congratulations to the following new members:

Krumrey's Korner

By ALVIN KRUNREY

I am glad to hear of the arrival of the K-State Assembly. We had a very active program of speakers last term, but this year's program is going to be even more exciting.

The first meeting of the semester will be held on February 21st. The topic for this meeting will be "The Importance of Chemistry in Our Daily Lives."

NEO Musicians Preparing For "Hello, Dolly"

NEO's orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Robert Swanson, is at work preparing the musical score for "Hello, Dolly." These talented musicians are preparing for the upcoming production of the classic musical, which opened on Broadway in 1964.

Tarver Leads Norse Band

Charles Tarver, Tulsa, is the newly-elected president of the Norse Band for the spring semester. Tarver was elected by his fellow students to lead the band during the upcoming spring season.

Tarver is a senior at K-State and has been active in the Norse Band since his freshman year. He is looking forward to leading the band in its upcoming performances.

Original Poetry

Life is worth living, if we make the most of every moment. There are many things to do and places to go. We have developed our own special way of doing things. We think that we have the best of everything. We live in a world of beauty, where everything is perfect. We do not need to worry about anything, because we have everything we need. We have the best of everything, and we are the happiest people in the world.

But there are some who do not agree. They say that life is full of problems and difficulties. They say that we should not be so happy, because we do not have everything. They say that we should not be so naive, because we do not know what is really going on in the world. They say that we should not be so self-centered, because we are not thinking about others.

I think that we should not be worried about anything. We have everything we need, and we are the happiest people in the world. We do not need to worry about anything, because we have everything we need. We have the best of everything, and we are the happiest people in the world.

But there are some who do not agree. They say that life is full of problems and difficulties. They say that we should not be so happy, because we do not have everything. They say that we should not be so naive, because we do not know what is really going on in the world. They say that we should not be so self-centered, because we are not thinking about others.

Hello, Dolly"

MAN HOTEL

A fantastic array of costumes and scenic decor make up part of NED's greatest challenge on stage, "Hello, Dolly." This season's included in the cast are Debbie Hedlund, Mano, and John Hardy, Larry Griffin, and Don Call, all of Toluca.

One of the most exciting features will be a train which will have the giant wheel turning. It will speak, strike, and whistle.

The show is unique in that the audience will see every change. Houses and scenic units will fly in and out. The feed store, largest seen in any play, made of three large moving platforms, will literally move together in full view of the audience.

Lighting for this production has been designed by Virgil Holden.

CONCERTING

Don Nichols, working concertedly in the costume department, states: "This show has so many women in the cast that there are six members in the cast and they all have at least three changes. "Don and Maria Nichols plan to make costumes colorful and bright, try to make them so that the play is saying. They are trying to define character with costume. Not saying it for the actor, but with the actor."

"In the surrealistic part, the whole concept is futuristic and combining the two."

"A great deal of organization goes into creating costumes. Designers do not just sit at a desk and create."

CAST MEMBERS

Members of the cast include: Kent Berger, Wilson, Marti Martner, David Payne, Bill Voir, Karen Pogue, Dan Call, John Hardy, Kathy Griffin, Debbie Hedlund, Viki Hedlund, Alice Kromery, David Brown, Kerrie Markle, Jana Sanders, Barrie Southard, Ruth Grover, Debbie Ginn, Kathy Piller, Don Keith, Connie Scovil, Stoney Halls, Judy Beeman, Carole Allen, Charla Davis, Donna Oliver, Laura Groover, Linda Levan, Kathy White, Joan Davis, Connie Satter, Pete De Jesus, David Elderfield, John Hubert, Aneta Shumate, David Green, Gordon Bowers, Jerry Rayback, Barry Bright, Ron Robberson, and Earl Clark.

Director Bob White urges patrons to make reservations early to assure their seats. A lot of people have to be turned away at the door for the last performance. Peter Poll, Roosevelt can be made by calling the Fine Arts Center at 14-6044.
Mrs. Burns Combines Personality, Instruction

by Colleen Vanderpool

Most parents have an assurance form from which to name their offspring, but Mrs. Doris Burns, Northmen's AMT French and Spanish instructor, used a novel approach in naming her third. One son was named Rich and Nixon, a relative, who had lived in the same village President Nixon once lived. For the first daughter Mrs. Burns picked the names of two relatives, giving it a Spanish tradition. Jovita-Hilda. For another daughter a triple "v" was used. "Luisa," pronounced "luh-seh." A third daughter was named O-Rita, a Norwegian variation of Ruth for a favorite opera soprano, Rika Stevens.

When the thirteenth child was born on Friday, the thirteenth, Mr. Burns suggested they call her "Lucy." "They," said Mrs. Burns, "but I'm calling it..."

Although problems were numerous, Mrs. Burns says she had no special formula for raising her large family. She says her personal needs are taken into account. She finds that playing in various campus activities such as Spanish club and debate helps her students grow as they study the language.

Her fight with arthritis has left her somewhat debilitated, but she still has her keen sense of humor, and her life is invigorated by her love for young people.

Once a distinguished student, Mrs. Burns is now a teacher, and she expresses this love in her instruction. She has taught French and Spanish for many years, and her students enjoy her teaching methods.

As co-coordinator of the Spanish club, Mrs. Burns works tirelessly to ensure that her students have a positive experience with the language. She encourages them to participate in various activities and to use Spanish in their daily lives. Her dedication to her students is evident in her work.

From her classroom in the Fine Arts Center, she reflects upon her philosophy of life and how it applies to the study of Spanish. She believes that learning another language can broaden one's perspective and enhance one's understanding of the world. Her students benefit from her passion for the language and her dedication to teaching.

From her classroom to the world beyond, Mrs. Burns continues to inspire and educate her students. Her enthusiasm for Spanish and her commitment to her students make her an invaluable asset to the Northmen community.

Tough Norse Defense Derails Roughrider Express, 65-49

Crowder Stall
Backfires...

Phenomenal defense made for the lack of shooting prowess as the Golden Norsemen chalked up a 65-49 over 17th ranked Crowder in a low-scoring game in the fieldhouse, Feb. 4.

The Roughriders figured the easy way to stop the Golden gnomes was to keep the ball away from them. They stalled the first three and one-half minutes and the first Golden shot was blocked by Bill Williams.

Williams scored NEO's first three points and Eddy Waterfield earned a 3-pointer for a 5-4 lead with 13:48 showing.

After James Michael hit a rebound shot to tie the score at seven, NEO exploded for ten straight points and were never challenged the rest of the way. After Matt Blair scored the first basket of the second half with a free throw, hitting a 15-foot jumper with 17:17 left in the half to make the score 51-36.

Waterfield and Williams hit consecutive baskets at the close of the half to increase the margin to 35-12 at intermission.

Crowder came out shooting the second half and both teams suffered from the field. But the Roughriders succumbed to NEO's defense and rebounding.

Larry Harris' long jumper at the 11:34 mark gave the Norse a 2 point lead. (21:31) Williams came in at 10:34.

Waterfield scored at the seven minute mark increased the margin to 14 and Waterfield achieved the game's largest lead at 27 with 4:49 remaining.

At 2:31, substitute David Alphonse, jumper made the score 35-12. Despite the poor shooting, 33 percent from the field, the Norsemen hit 11 of 15 from the charity stripe. Williams led the scoring with 14, Harris contributed 12 and Blair put in 11.

NEO blasted down 48 rebounds with Waterfield snagging 17 of them. Blair snagged 14 and Williams 13. Crowder had one of their worst shooting nights in a long while, hitting only 17 of 46 from the floor. They managed 13 of 24 from the line.

Michael led Crowder scoring.

Aggies Elect Stamper To Presidency

Aggie Society officers for the current semester are headed by President Larry Stamper, Locust Grove sophomore, who succeeds Tommy Smith.

Other organizational officers include Vice President Kent Boswell, Secretary Mary Grissom, Treasurer Dan Miller, Reporter Lawson Ewen, Student Senate Representative Herschel Brezner, Alternate Gabriel Fisk and Parliamentarian Mike Price.

Chief responsibilities of the organization during the spring will be to assist with the annual Agriculture Achievement Day on campus April 3, as the college honors some 300 area 4-H and FFA contributors.
St. Gregory's Stall Deflates Norseman Balloon, 87 - 79

Seven Game Win Streak Broken

By Jack Demes

A St. Gregory's playercommented after his team's 87-79 victory over NEO, "This is the first time we've really played together this season." The Cavaliers put it together here last Thurs.

Paced by Fred Matthews' 30 points, the Cavs pulled second and swept over the Norse this season with four starters playing the final five minutes with four more agin.

After Matthews hit a beautiful off-balance jumper with 8:25 remaining, St. Greg went into a delay phase. Trail 78-71, Norsemen could not score again and the Cavs had everyone baffled with the stall. They outscored the ball with sharpness and curve layups resulted.

One of the key factors was St. Greg's ability to stay with NEO on the bench, a fact many teams have failed to do. St. Greg is the only conference team that NEO has failed to beat.

The Cavs led 21-31 midway through the first half and a backcourt play by Marvin Rich pushed the margin to 43-31 with 8:58 showing.

NEO caught fire and went ahead, 41-40, only playing as Edwyn Wakefield hit a jumper.

Judging Team Takes Second

NEO's Livestock Judging Team took second place at the Southwestern Exposition Fair show in Ft. Worth, Tex. Feb. 4. Lower Edwards led the way, taking high individual honors with a point total of 768 of the 800 possible. He was high man in the cattle and sheep divisions.

Doug Cooper placed third high individual with 721 points, finishing fourth in both cattle and sheep judging.

Douglas Stamper was third member of the team coached by Jary Douglass.
