Judges Named For Annual Instrumental Music Festival

Judges have been named for the annual Instrumental Music Festival at Northeastern A&M slated Tuesday, Feb. 21, according to Dr. Robert Veasner, event director.

Approximately 4,000 students are expected from high schools in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas. Music Festivals at NEO have been drawing youngsters to Miami since 1973.

Judges will include: stage bands, Jim Paulson, University of Oklahoma; woodwinds and percussion, Harold Jackson, South- west Baptist College; concert bands, Eldon Janzen, University of Arkansas; and Roland Pugh, University of Missouri; brasses, Dr. Don Joseph, Drury College and Fred White, Tulsa; strings and woodwinds, Robert McHale, Tulsa Symphony Orches- tra; woodwinds, Dr. Roger Widen, University of Arkansas.

Because of increased entries over the past few years, Veasner has established another festival for grade school and junior high music students to be held March 25 in NEO’s campus.

Area Art Students Attend NEO Seminar

NEO’s Art Department is sponsor- ing a Visual Communications Seminar for high school junior and senior art students today on campus.

The program begins at 10 a.m. in the new gym where a watercraft painting session will be held. Students are invited to eat lunch in the NEO cafeteria at 11 a.m.

At 1:30 p.m. the students will assemble in the Fine Arts Auditorium for a critique of the painting sessions and presentation of awards.

Choral Music Festival Slated For Wed. Feb. 27

Singers from four states are expected for Northeastern A&M’s annual Choral Music Festival Wednesday, Feb. 22, according to Kenneth Richards, chairman of the college Fine Arts division.

Approximately 1,300 voice students are to participate from senior and junior high schools in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

Singers from these schools will be judged by Robert Avey and Francis Sparrow, both of Central State University in Ed- mond. Other judges will be Dr. Garnett Smith, MSC senior high mixed chorus; Dr. Ralph Whis- worth, Northeastern State Col- lege; Tishomingo, senior high small ensembles; girl’s glee club, and Gary Fazier, MSC, junior high small ensembles.

NEO Wins 92-84

Flying to a 84-lead over the Eagles of D.C. Southwestern, the Golden Norsemen protected their Bi-State Conference record in the battle at Oklahoma City, Feb. 12.

Burgers of gaining victory and moving into a second-place tie with NEO were shattered when the Eagles took hold of the last quarter.

Eagles held a 42-38 lead at half time. NEO forged in front early in the second half, but Southwesterners didn't wait long to move in front again, 54-50.

Except for a 54-50 tie, NEO managed to stay in front the rest of the way.

Bob Williams, NEO's 6'5" sophomore, scored 36 points by establishing 18 of 21 shots free. He, and 4 of 6 at the free-throw line.

Just as important as his scoring was his defensive work highlighted by his career-high with 17 rebounds.

Scuba Diving Begins

Scuba diving is now being held at the NEO pool, instructed by Jim Murphy. The course is coast-ed and is good for a change from regular swimming.

Running 12 weeks, it is held Tuesday nights at 7 p.m. No equipment is needed and the cost of the course is $6.00 plus .75 for enrollment fee.

Golden Norsemen Raid
Crowder Roughriders

With the traditional excitement of such a rivalry, NEO nudged the Crowder Roughriders of Neosho, Mo., 84-86 on Valentine's Day.

The game began rather slowly, with only 2 points scored in the first 2 1/2 minutes of the game. When it picked up, neither team could get an edge on the other. During the first half, the lead changed hands nine times.

The Norse basket was cold, as shots would not fall. Slowly, NEO ground out an 8 point lead, and despite many fouls, led 33-31 at half time.

Second half fireworks began with Crowder closing in. The line and goal's shooting was only good enough to keep them in a shaky contest. With 37 minutes left, Crowder took the lead, 46-45, only to lose it seconds later.

Picking up momentum, NEO surged ahead, and for the rest of the game held at least a 3 point lead. Crowder fought stubbornly, but the Norse players would not give up the lead.

Norse Force Pirates
To Walk The Plank

The Blue and Gold relied on a 15-2 victory over the Pirates of Carl Albert College, Pena, in a Bi-State Conference game Thursday, Feb. 7, at the NEO fieldhouse.

Norse 1st victory in 22 games boosted their conference mark to 5-2 — a game behind first-place Seminole (7-2).

Norse action was unimpressive. Myron Williams, built up a 34-lead with 12.06 left in the first half before reserves began coming into the lineup.

Having a 35-28 halftime score, the register remained for action in the last half of the game.

Late arrival led the way scoring 21 points, while Steve Washington scored 19 and Bob Williams for 12.
