Area Students Invited To NEO Craftsman Fair

Woodworking students from area schools will feature work in Northwestern's annual Student Craftsman's Fair Friday, May 1. Eligible are those studying the craft in junior and senior high schools and vo-tech schools.

Judging of entries will be done by a group of leading industrial arts and college woodworking instructors. The senior with the best project will win a $1,000 scholarship to woodworking at NEO next year.

Exhibits will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the new gym on May 1. Awards will be presented 7:30 p.m. Richard Test, NEO woodworking instructor, is coordinator for the event.

Bloodmobile Visits NEO Campus Today

An opportunity to prove one's bravery and also a concern for mankind comes to NEO today as the Red Cross Bloodmobile makes its spring visit to the campus.

Set up in Harrell-DelSingh lounge, the bloodmobile will handle donors from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. As long as volunteers keep showing up to give a pint of blood, there will be a lifetime supply of blood.

The procedure is to provide information on a form - name, address, etc. The second step is to fill out a health history form. Then a nurse takes a blood sample to make sure the donor is healthy and able to donate.

The blood sample is taken from the ear lobe because it requires more normal reading can be taken and also it isn't an painful test when blood was taken from the finger.

While the blood sample is being taken, the nurse also obtains a person's medical history. The questions mainly concern previous illnesses and whether any of a number of diseases are in the family.

Norse Art Exhibit Slated

Displaying their work for the school year, art students will be invited to the public to the Ninth Annual Student Art Exhibit April 21-May 3 in the Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Kathryn Payne, art department chairman, said an attempt will be made to include work from all classes taught this year. A composite of students and faculty will select work to be included in the show.

Some art will be for sale, although students are not encouraged to sell their paintings. Art work may be needed to show when students transfer to a four year college or university.
Graduation
This is the end of a dream begun
At the very moment a child is born
The hope comes true that it could be done:
A triumph held for a face-off morn.
A sense of pride that is years away
For daughter or son-graduation day.

Tis a happy day or the graduate.
But one for fathers and mothers too.
A joy which they have had to wait,
The exhilarating thrill of a dream come true.
The tender blend of a smile and sigh
And often a tear as the class goes by.

This is the well-earned hard-won goal
Achieved at last by the young and old;
A wonderful reunion of heart and soul
In a simple printed diploma told.
The graduate fitted life’s work to do.
For mother and father, a dream come true.

New Rates For Resident Students

New rates for resident students at Northeastern A&M have been announced by the administration. Again the college will offer Plan A for 20 meals per week and Plan B for 26 meals per week, inclusive in fees for the students. In air conditioned dormitories the Plan A cost will be $65 per semester and Plan B will be $85 per semester. For the senior conditioned housing the basic price will be $65 for Plan A and $85 for Plan B.

Married students’ apartments will be available for $85 per month for single bedroom units and $90 per month for double bedroom apartments with meals paid.

Work Study Summer Jobs For Students

Students seeking jobs through the summer may find employment on the NOD campus or in their home districts through the work study program, according to E.S. (Bob) Robertson, Financial Aids director. Available job openings include secretarial work, cafeteria staff, and jobs in maintenance such as moving lawn and painting college buildings. To be eligible for the job the student must first qualify for the work study program and must be either an incontinent freshman, sophomore or enrolled in summer school at the time.

Students may work 20 hrs. a week for 12 weeks earning $2 per hour or an overall $240 a summer. Applications may be made in the Financial Aids office in Spayle Hall. Forms are available now.

Meistersingers To Perform At The Governor’s Mansion

Highlighting their performing year, NEO’s Meistersingers will appear at the Governor’s mansion Monday, April 14, according to Clark Dugger, director.

The students will be guests of Governor David Hall at a dinner and then sing several church compositions and a number of popular hits for the list of distinguished guests in the mansion.

After spending the night in Oklahoma City, the Meistersingers will represent the college in New York on Monday. They will perform on campus April 19 and at Fine Arts Center in a Pop Concert.

Talent in the select group are Cyril Renee, Becky Walker, Jo Jo Bowley, Kathy LaRue, Tommy Craft, James Sims, Steven White, Dean Carr, James Reynolds, Tommy Warren, Jody Burton, Debbe Waldron, Jan Hilt, John Doering, Pam Duncan, Tracy Bamm, Randy White, John Webb, Tim King.

Accompanying the Meistersingers are Steve Thornburg, guitar; Larry Sweem, guitar; Son Combs, baritone and Archie Onemen, drums.

Expanded Courses Offered On Summer School Schedule

On the pre-enrollment schedule, NEO will offer no course required by at least 15 students.

“Identity” On Sale

“Identity” will go on sale tomorrow. NEO bookstore and “Identity” staff will be selling them for $1.35 each.

NEO’s literary publication contains students’ creative literary and artistic works, prepared by Raymond Boyd, faculty advisor.

CLEP Exams Give Students Advance Credit

Many students on the NEO campus are not aware of the College Level Examination Program, or CLEP tests, which allow students to "quit out" of up to thirty hours of class, or half of their education here. These tests cost $5 for each subject exam and, if passed, the student is given credit on his transcript. These tests are accepted by any state college and university in Oklahoma and are generally accepted by any school in the United States, according to Dr. Lehman.

Purpose of these tests is to allow students who are proficient in any particular area to receive credits for prior knowledge gained. "They are not easy tests. Many times people get misleading facts from advertisements. If you have a good, solid background in a particular field, you should try to take the test," Lehman said. Tests are given for every subject at NEO.

CLEP tests are given during every pre-enrollment, during the summer, and every first Monday and Tuesday of each month by appointment, which can be set up by speaking to Lehman.

Donors medical background.

The actual process goes like this: The RN puts an arm band around the donor's arm and says, "Make a fist." Then the needle is inserted -- it stings for a second but doesn't hurt. About 10 minutes later the needle is removed. The donor usually remains on the table resting for five to ten minutes then is led to the cafeteria where members of the Miami Pilot Club serve sandwiches, cookies and a drink.

After a pedestrian rent the donor makes a final check on his proud new badge "Be Nice To Me. I Give Blood Today!" and goes bravely back to class.

NEO Ambassador Program Has Aided College Growth

After one year as Administrator Assistant to the President, Bernard Luster feels that the Student Ambassador Program has been one of the most beneficial programs established through his office.

In an interview Luster stated that "We gathered a great deal of information about our prospective students for the Fall '74 semester as well as insights into their problems. Consequently, we will be able to work with them more efficiently."

As to the success of the program, Luster explained that it is difficult to forecast results yet because not all of the reports are in. The School has now obtained Student Lists from five high schools that previously had not considered NEO.

According to Luster enrollment has increased slightly this year because NEO is more student oriented. His staff in trying to help students in any way possible, to achieve their goals.

They provide all the information and services that a student needs to make a choice of college. Most importantly, Luster claims, "We have had total cooperation from within our institution. Staff, faculty, and students have given their time and effort to improve the communications between our school and schools in our area. Lastly, NEO has an audio-visual presentation, "The NEO Story", that provides maximum information about the school in a minimum of time."

Luster said that many students have indicated they would be glad to help continue the program through the summer. Anyone interested in participating should contact Larry Dunn in the Library-Administration building for an Ambassador Kit.

Veterans Should Apply Now For Advanced Payments

Veterans attending Northeastern A&M during the summer semester and who wish to apply for an advance payment of GI Bill benefits should notify their Dean of Students Services Office immediately.

VA advance payment checks will be mailed to the Business Office and delivered to the veteran when he enrolls. If advance GI Bill checks are mailed directly to the veteran, he must return the card (VA Form 2218-A) to the Business Office for reimbursement to the VA.

Certification for the spring semester must be made before advance payment. No re-certification can be accepted. A certification card (VA Form 22-18-A) will be used to certificate the veteran. The veteran must fill out and return to the VA, a recertification card (VA Form 22-18-A) with the VA.

Further information about VA benefits which veterans may need may be obtained by calling toll-free 1-888-444-4352, according to W. Troy Baker, Director of Makeup's VA Regional Office.

Judkins Feels "Teaching Objective Is To Prepare Student For Life"

Judkins, a forty-year-old instructor, feels that his main objective is to prepare students for life. He believes that teaching should be a way of life and that it should be enjoyable. He feels that teaching should be a way of making a positive impact on the lives of the students.

More Fall Scholarships Available To Sophomores

More scholarships for sophomores will be available at Northeastern A&M next fall than ever before, according to Dr. D. D. Crews, president. Performance in class work, regardless of the program of study, will be the first priority for determining recipients of the tuition grants. Second priority will be leadership and participation in campus organizations and activities during this school year. In the event of equal merit, the second factor applied, the third aspect of consideration will be used-financial need. Application blanks are available in the office of the President from Mrs. Elizabeth Hamford, secretary.

Music Recital Slated April 25

Clark Dugger, vocal music instructor, will present a recital at Northeastern A&M Thursday, April 25 in the Fine Arts Theatre. Admission is free for the evening of music which will also include four of Dugger's students.

The first half of the program will consist of Dugger's presentation of some German lieder and English songs. The second part will be the third act of "Madama Butterfly" by Puccini. Dugger will sing in English from the opera with full sets and costumes. Dru Nicholls has served as dramatic consultant with Mario Nichols in charge of costume and Jerold Graham is set designer.

The part of B. F. Pickernell will be sung by Dugger. In the role of Butterfly will be Jane Holguin, Sharleen Lenny Williams, Susan Burt Walker and Kate, Cyndi Hughes.
