Registrar Recommends
By JEANNE CARNELL

"Sophomores planning to graduate should come by the registrar's office and check on their hours and requirements," commented James Quintero, director of academics and registrar.

All sophomores should check on their hours, whether they are graduating at the semester or in the spring and summer, that they are on schedule. Upon graduation from UNF the student must complete the following requirements: 12 hours of English, 4 hours of history, 3 hours of mathematics, and two hours of physical education. Students must complete 60 hours of academic work with a grade point average of 2.0 continually.

Pre-enrollment for the spring semester will be Dec. 6-10. The first two days of pre-enrollment will be for sophomores planning to graduate. All five must be paid in order for the student to be eligible for the sophomore hour check.

Reese concludes that the sophomore hour check will help students to plan their schedules, whether they are graduating at the semester or in the spring and summer. Students should check their hours and requirements as soon as possible.

Faculty Senate Votes Down Syllabi Placement Proposal
By BILL FOSTER
Announcement News Editor

UNF's Faculty Senate defeated by a close margin last Thursday evening the proposal the president placed their 50 instructional syllabi on the closed examination period at the end of the semester.

The main reason the proposal was defeated was because there was no guarantee that the printed syllabi would be contained through the semester, according to the president, "but let's do the best we can with the syllabi," Senate President Joe B. Draper.

Another reason the rejection of the proposal was defeated was because some members of the senate felt that there wasn't a great amount of work that would be accomplished by the proposal, according to the president. "Let's do the best we can with the syllabi," Senate President Joe B. Draper.

Material Mead's, chairman of the committee of the faculty senate, represented the committee in presenting the petition to the Faculty Senate.

"If a student has to do his own paper to the dean's office, or to the instructor, and then the instructor turns in a copy of a syllabus for a particular course, it seems unfair because they are afraid of it. The faculty's right is to have other courses that they are afraid of doing. It would be unfair to all of us."

Material Mead's position is that there is a greater amount of time in placement of instructional syllabi a student should be instilled in the student senate to support placement of placement of instructional syllabi because that is the proper way to do it. The faculty senate is affected by the placement of syllabi because the student senate isn't the faculty senate to support placement of instructional syllabi.

Gym Construction Activities Begin Renovation Process

Construction is presently underway on the renovation of the old gym, according to Dr. Boyd Conover, dean of student affairs.

"Right now work is being done in the reconfiguring of the dining rooms. Everything is being completely remodeled and reseated. Individual serving units and tables and lockers will be two of the improvements," stated Conover.

"The area to the north of the blanchers to be made into a large conference area which hopefully, can be utilized as a new dining room in situations such as basketball tournaments and dances. The whole complex is being painted and some type of painting is proposed for the west end of the building. Also, new rectangular wooden benches will be installed. The renovation of the two dining rooms is the most important plan at present and this hope will be completed by the second semester," explained Conover.

Plans include renovating the north end of the old and old auditorium and seating it as a meeting room and a weight room. More large room plans for the complex include the possibility of building a new locker facility. A lot of attention is given to the plan such that a new conference, student recreation, and the possibility of a suspended ceiling.

"For the project total $15,000 and as much of the renovation will be completed with the revenue generated," explained Dr. Conover. "Making the money to build a facility which can be used on a lot of the 9:30-10:15 a.m. in the morning, Monday, Nov. 15, 1976."

Holiday Break Plans Finalized

Thanksgiving holiday begins at 12 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24.

Construction will close at 5 p.m. and resume service at 7 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 25.

Students who plan to travel will be asked to plan to leave by the end of the day Wednesday. Construction is estimated to be completed by the second semester.

Traffic Fines

By ALVIN MOTEIN

Traffic Violations - Alter Budroe, traffic officer, is writing out a ticket for an illegally parked vehicle on the UNF campus. Recently several of these violations have not been paid.

University is a high priority for the UNF campus. Each student and faculty member has a specific lot in which to park. This policy is in effect on all campuses and students who do not park in the assigned lot can be ticketed. A ticketing officer is issued a ticket for an illegally parked vehicle on the UNF campus.

"Out of 250 students, we have received only 85 in the past week. Approximately 800 students have not paid parking violations that have not been paid as of the last report."

"Our concern is that the students should have the responsibility to take care of their violations," stated Budroe. "We do not want our students to take care of their violations to avoid parking tickets."

A high priority for the UNF campus is the prevention of theft and vandalism. Students should not be responsible for the security of the campus. Students who prefer parking in the various lots should not be responsible for the security of the campus. Editors Note: Opinions expressed on By-Line are those of the writer.

Details of the syllabi placement proposal by the NEO Faculty Senate was a setback to the advancement of the overall educational process at NEO.

The proposal called for placement of instructional syllabi in the libraries for students to examine, not only would students in selected courses be able to access materials, but they would have easy access to the subject matter. In this way, students would have the syllabi available for reference when they needed it.

But blame for the decision cannot be placed entirely on members of the faculty. The non-enrollment of the non-student community with regard to the educational environment was a major reason why the proposal was turned down.

We as students must realize that knowledge is not only found in the classroom, but can also be obtained by reading and understanding additional instructional materials, such as syllabi.

So, in summary, the administration's decision to encourage illegal use of a driver's licenses by those other than the license holder was regrettable.

For the NEO instructor, syllabi placement is the word. Students have the right to view the syllabi in the libraries, but the non-enrollment of the non-student community is a major reason why the proposal was turned down.

NURSING STUDENTS OFFER ASSISTANCE

Members of the Oklahoma State Student Nursing Association have the opportunity to be exposed to many types of nursing situations.

For your name is limited to general medical problems such as diabetes. Several of your students reported their knowledge on critical medical surgical patients. Although some first year students did not have a venn diagram present at the meeting, others had diagrams on various subjects. During the week, workshops are held to acquaint the student with more techniques.

As more students from the various chapters have a chance to view the opportunities of the OSDNA board of directors. Also, during these meetings the second election for board members is held.

Nursing majors are eligible for membership with the exception of pre-nursing.

RODEO CLUB

"We will be participating in several rodeos this spring as well as NSU's Open Rodeo on April 16th," said Ron Givens, sponsor of the Rodeo Club.

The Rodeo team has participated in rodeos in Ft. Scott, Pawhuska State University, Hesston Community Junior College, and enroute to Enid College. To participate in the Rodeo Club, all participants must belong to the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. Dress codes and regulations are 1895.

Activities
