Stolen Uniforms Constitute Deficit

Problems have arisen for the baseball team since the recent robbery of athletic equipment.

Over Christmas vacation the athletic storage room was broken into, leaving the team with 19 baseball caps and 15 uniforms. The team was out of pocket.

"We are not sure how access was gained," commented Mike Clark, baseball coach. "This causes a big problem for us because we are unable to get new uniforms until after the season." The team's players will have to wear reserved uniforms

Resignation Results In Faculty Changeover

Michael Oyedokun, 35 year old Nigerian arts American Government instructor, resigned Monday Jan. 5 from the teaching job he has held since 1975.

Division Leader Resumes Duties After Absence

Recovering from an operation, Barbara Walker returned Monday to resume her classes by the beginning of winter term.

Dr. Charles Angle, dean of instruction commented, "Walker has been out since January due to a bad knee." Walker was a previous student at St. Francis hospital in Tulsa.

"I am taking over his funds and classes," stated Bob White, instructor and brother of the recently deceased Chuck. Dick Nichols is taking over his other classes.

Wage Raise Cuts Hours On Program

Students on institutional work study will have a raise in wages to $3.35 from the rate of $3.10 an hour.

"This means the students will work less hours for the same amount of money allotted to them," stated Ardis G. Snow, financial aid director. The total amount of what they are allowed to get will not increase.

Students looking for financial aid should check with the financial aid department. Most of the federal programs are need based, and application must be made.

Some of the programs are National Direct Student Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, College Work Study and Tuition Aid Grant.

Also there is the Guaranteed Loan Plan that must be obtained through the college.

Spring Excursion Highlights South

Visiting several southern states, a trip is planned for the spring break trip March 4 through 14, 1981.

First stop will be New Orleans where a city tour, horse races, French Quarter, Superdome, and many other sites will take up the three days and nights. Panama City, Florida will be the next stop with swimming and sunbathing highlighted.

These days and nights will be spent at Lake Buena Vista, Florida and such attractions as Disney World, The Magic Kingdom, golfing, hiking, swimming, and a possible side trip to Sea World will be taken.

Boarding the bus again, students will also go to Atlanta, Georgia and Nashville to attend the Grand Ole Opry.

Dr. Boyd Converse, dean of student activities commented, "Reservations will be on the front desk first serve basis and a deposit of $20 will secure a spot on the tour. For further information a meeting will be held for interested students in the faculty lounge of the Career Student Union on Feb. 16, at 5 p.m."

Culture Interest Group Presents Music Concert

"The Community Concert, "Live Entertainment," performing on Jan. 19, at the Fine Arts center is a professional music organization," states Harr Hall, director for the Community Concert of New York.

The Community Concert of New York is a group of mostly Afro-Americans who perform in music and theater.

Afro-Americans Sponsor Dance

"In order to raise funds for Black Heritage Week, the Afro-American club is sponsoring a dance after the basketball games with St. Gregory's, on Thurs. Jan. 28," explained Trevon Gurus, Tulsa sophomore.

Admission will be $1 at the door. There will be a dance contest for someone to win. A first place prize of $25 will be awarded.

Senate Resolves Semester Business

Staring off the semester positively, the student senate made decisions on some unresolved business.

First on the list was obtaining suggestion boxes that will be placed at various points around campus. New president Debbie Anderson, Deerly sophomore, explained that the word shop lab will make the boxes for the cost of the wood.

Each box will cost $3 and the senate了几 to have three made. They will be placed in the student union, the Library Administration building and in the Study Center.

The senate also debated on which legislature lobbying group to join. The choices were LAUCO (League of Oklahoma College and University Students) and OIL (Oklahoma Intercollegiate Legislative Network). After much discussion about the two, the senate decided to join OIL. Voting was done by secret ballot.

Guest speaker, Jeff Landrich, gave a presentation on muscular dystrophy. The senate plans on raising funds for this organization.

The new slate of officers include: Anderson, vice president; Dan Hays, Tulsa sophomore; secretary; Todd Smith, Tulsa sophomore; treasurer Leta Van Zandt, Tulsa sophomore; Pei Ridge, Tulsa sophomore; president Debbie Anderson, Deerly sophomore; back row, senator at large, Randy Lunsford, Tulsa sophomore, vice president, Dan Hays, Tulsa sophomore; and senator at large, Roger Moore, Bragg sophomore.

Presiding Officers

Hewing the student body for this semester will be officers: (front row) Robert Ginn, Randal Parker, Sortiell sophomore; treasurer Leta Van Zandt, Tulsa sophomore; secretary Todd Smith, Tulsa sophomore; (back row) president Debbie Anderson, Deerly sophomore; back row, senator at large, Randy Lunsford, Tulsa sophomore; vice president, Dan Hays, Tulsa sophomore; and senator at large, Roger Moore, Bragg sophomore.

"Reservations have been made." Gurus for the trip depend on students preferences of host accommodations. Two to a room $418, three to a room $538, and four to a room $299.

Included in this is transportation, food, and a good tour of the NBO cafeterias, and a box lunch, city tour of New Orleans on Grey Lines, trip insurance, a 2 day unlimited book of tickets to Disney World rides and attractions, and a ticket to the Grand Ole Opry.

Reservations will be on the front desk first serve basis and a deposit of $20 will secure a spot on the tour. For further information a meeting will be held for interested students in the faculty lounge of the Career Student Union on Feb. 16, at 5 p.m.

This bit of New York culture brought to the campus may sound dull and uninteresting to many students but it is a chance from learning from everyday we do. The events could also be very beneficial to drama and music majors as those who may be planning to take part in future college plays.

Steve Kirby
Campus Minister Changes Position

By Pam Basile
Managing Editor

It has been education and Rev. Keith Spaulding about his job as Campus Minister.

Rev. Spaulding will be leaving this position and taking on an overlapping Ministry with the Christian Church in Oklahoma City.

"It is a better job. The NCM has had some financial trouble due to the economy. The NCM, in fact, does not have any new funds coming in, so it has been difficult for us to support each other," explained Rev. Spaulding.

He graduated from North Texas State University in 1960 with a degree in business. He then received his B.S. degree in 1974, and his Master of Divinity degree from Phillips University in 1978. He is an ordained minister with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

Rev. Spaulding has held several different jobs during his time at the University. He worked as a "Christmas Eve" for a man who made presentations to students and staff members. He has also been an officer of the Miami Area, and a member of the Miami Area Regional Association.

"I am working with kids, which is what I really always wanted to do," Spaulding jokingly added.

"I really care about young people. They are a tough road to travel with, but I am sure that we can hep them get to that church, it is seriously needed.

"MOTHER SAYS THAT I decided to be a minister when I was 14 years old. I just sort of naturally grew into it during my college years. I became a part of the church when I was a part of that, and they just couldn't let me go through the door that was open until the last thing I saw." - Spaulding

Packing Belongings

Keith Spaulding, NCC student minister director, prepares to leave for his new job in Oklahoma City.

Top Scholars Receive Honors

Forty-five students have been named to the president's honor roll for the 1981 fall semester.

Awards were presented to the students selected from the top 10% of the national point average at least 14 hours of study in any semester.

Five students had a perfect 4.0 GPA, and 17 students were named to the President's Honor Roll.

Campus Hit By Country Dance Rage

By Joy Abernathy
Fortier Reporter

For students of 1978, the dance was food, but thanks to John Tro- vano and Billie Nettles, who have been doing it for years, the students of 1981 are living their lives in the world of rock and roll.

Recently, a group of Miami residents approached Bob and Huey, who have been doing it in this style for years and asked for lessons in the "new" type of dancing. Director of Student Services and Extended Day College Larry Dunn approved the idea and plans were set into action to start the course.

BEGINNING WITH 30 couples, enrollment has now reached over 300 over the past two months.

Dunn stated, "The Urban Cowboy" might have had an impact on the Eastern areas, but this is just popular with students. We've been doing it all along.

Asked of the future, Dunn replied, "March 16-19 will start a new full of interest and classes. We'll probably be offering another full of interest and western dancing.

"IN ADDITION, WE'LL be offering lessons on campus on Feb. 10, in the Alumni high school gym," Dunn further added.

Courses for students are presently being offered in the student union ballrooms at a cost of $50 dollars per student. Beginning at 4:00 p.m. and running till 7:30 p.m., the class is being offered by NCC Student. More details can be found, and college credit will be given.

Dances taught will include the Kikker Waltz, the Kikker Polka, and three variations of the Texas Two-Step, the Country Waltz, and, of course, Western Swing.

THERE IS NO need to have a partner to enroll for these classes, nor do you need necessarily have an enjoyment of country and western music.

Those wishing to participate should sign up on Jan. 2, 1981, where enrollment will take place in the dorms. Because of the class's popularity, those wishing to enroll themselves a place should contact Mr. Dunn in the Library-Academic Building, Office of the Registrar.
List Reflects Hard Work

One hundred and fifty-one students have been named to the dean’s honor roll for the 1980 fall semester, according to Dr. Charles Angle, dean of instruction. Miami led the list, which included students maintaining a 3.5 grade point average or higher in at least 14 hours of study, with 55 students named. Tulsa was next with 10.

Students listed by hometown are given below:

---

Proctor Responsibilities Include

By Claire Sappington

If you are a resident on campus in one of the dorms, you are familiar with the proctors. You probably have been rescued at least one time or another by a proctor if you are one of those forgetful people who keep their key sitting on the desk when you enter the room and lock the door behind you. After discovering that you are locked out of your room, you run to your friendly proctor and he comes to your rescue by unlocking your door.

THE PROCTOR ARE also the people who get elected to sit by the door all night if their dorm mates have been a raving hoot earlier that night. They also spend an hour sitting behind the desk in the lobby, signing visitors in and out.

When you can no longer rear- range the true color of your carpet due to the dust and popcorn kernel that has been nicely grounded into your carpet who do you turn to? You can check out the cleaning materials, but that is no way to get things done.

What does it require to be a proctor? It is nice to have a proctor who has been a dorm mate for at least six years, the length of time a proctor wants to be on campus. A proctor must be a friendly citizen and be ready to do anything at all times to the residents of the dorm. I want the proctors to get along with everyone. The proctors must maintain a 2.0 grade point be- fore even considering as a proctor.

THE DORM MOWs rec- ommend the proctors to Bob Hayes and then he interviews and hires them. Each dorm usually has eight proctors with some of the proctors on state payroll and others on financial aid. If they are on state payroll they get half of their room and board paid for and they are allowed to work more than their scheduled hours, but if they receive financial aid they can only work their scheduled hours and not any more than those, according to Mr. Chamberlain.

Jena May, Tatala sophomore, is a proctor for Oxford hall and explains, “Sometimes it gets bor- ing being behind the desk in the lobby when no one comes in. But, like being a proctor, I would do it every other week and we do get a little bit of money for our schedule. I also work every other weekend.”

Jena May, Tatala sophomore, is a proctor for Oxford hall and explains, “Sometimes it gets bor- ing being behind the desk in the lobby when no one comes in. But, like being a proctor, I would do it every other week and we do get a little bit of money for our schedule. I also work every other weekend.”

---

Cold Weather Attacks Campus Crowd

Old Mr. Winter seems to be rounding the corner faster and faster these days and many students are still unprepared.

Well, you may say, “Winter is just beginning, it is too early for the snow to come.” But, it is time to drag out the stockings and gloves, sit up on the heater, and stock up on V.L.A. and chicken soup and have plenty of hot chocolate on hand.

SOME DAY we’ll be thinking how we forgot to bring our snow shoes and felt for our mittens and scarves on a cold day. The rush for boots and gloves and scarves are not as heavy as they were last year. This year we are not as prepared as last year.

---

Proctor Responsibilities

Checking Visitors

Proctor Responsibilities

Menial Errands

And in another section of the article:

ANDYER HALL: Joe Alternately

Crisman freshman, Don Baker, Marietta, Georgia

Huanghouse, Harvey Highhouse, Wewoka sophomore; Gayle Ed-

mondon, Grov sophomore; Benji Osbome, Carthage, Missouri

students. Micky Mont-

grow, Cleburne freshman, and Bruce Beinnett, Waukomis sophomores.

Gayle Edmondon, Grov

Grove

sophomore, is a proctor for Dyer Hall and expresses his view on being a proctor. “I work three to four nights a month, most of my work as a proctor is letting per-

people in their rooms and checking out equipment.”

---

Proctor Responsibilities

Menial Errands

ANDYER HALL: Joe

Alternately

Crisman freshman, Don Baker, Marietta, Georgia

Huanghouse, Harvey Highhouse, Wewoka sophomore; Gayle Ed-

mondon, Grov sophomore; Benji Osbome, Carthage, Missouri

students. Micky Mont-

grow, Cleburne freshman, and Bruce Beinnett, Waukomis sophomores.

Gayle Edmondon, Grov

Grove

sophomore, is a proctor for Dyer Hall and expresses his view on being a proctor. “I work three to four nights a month, most of my work as a proctor is letting per-

people in their rooms and checking out equipment.”

---

Proctor Responsibilities

Checking Visitors

Proctor Responsibilities

Menial Errands

ANDYER HALL: Joe

Alternately

Crisman freshman, Don Baker, Marietta, Georgia

Huanghouse, Harvey Highhouse, Wewoka sophomore; Gayle Ed-

mondon, Grov sophomore; Benji Osbome, Carthage, Missouri

students. Micky Mont-

grow, Cleburne freshman, and Bruce Beinnett, Waukomis sophomores.

Gayle Edmondon, Grov

Grove

sophomore, is a proctor for Dyer Hall and expresses his view on being a proctor. “I work three to four nights a month, most of my work as a proctor is letting per-

people in their rooms and checking out equipment.”

---

Proctor Responsibilities

Checking Visitors

Proctor Responsibilities

Menial Errands
Grapplers Host Inaugural Meet

By Steve Hill

Percy turned four recently and found out he was the top seed in the National Junior College Athletic Association wrestling rankings. Competition begins this Saturday at Nino, a venue renowned for hosting the annual Nino Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

The four nationally ranked teams in the country are the University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, West Virginia, and Oklahoma City Community College. The event will feature a range of weights and styles, offering an exciting spectacle for wrestling fans.

Record Number Entered for Till

By Kevin Lomax

Storyline: A significant increase in entries for the Ninth Annual NIO Invitational High School Basketball Tournament is expected. The event starts on January 22nd, with hundreds of teams registered across various weight classes. The tournament will feature 114 teams, showcasing the best high school wrestlers in the state.

Teams making their first appearance include the University of Oklahoma, Kansas State, and Oklahoma City Community College. The event will take place in the Till Center, offering a comprehensive viewing experience.

Norse Tracksters Prep For Indoor Term Slate

The Golden Norse track team opens the season Saturday at the Myriad with a meet competing against a field of in-state junior and four-year colleges.

Ten men and women will be representing the college including returning seniors Mike Miller and Melissa Mize. Miller, a native of Wheat, has been a key contributor to the team's success, while Mize, an incoming freshman, has already shown promise as a sprinter and long jumper.

Norse Tracksters Prep For Indoor Term Slate

The Golden Norse track team opens the season Saturday at the Myriad with a meet competing against a field of in-state junior and four-year colleges.

Ten men and women will be representing the college including returning seniors Mike Miller and Melissa Mize. Miller, a native of Wheat, has been a key contributor to the team's success, while Mize, an incoming freshman, has already shown promise as a sprinter and long jumper.
Cagers’ Offensive Play Coasts Over Titan JV

By Rick Lomax

Pittsford

Utilizing a balanced offensive attack from the entire 11-man starting squad, the Golden Eagle cagers coasted to an 88-71 win over the junior varsity, the Oral Roberts University Titans in the ORU Mayflower Center Monday night.

With the win, the Norse even up at 7-7 for the season and took the two-game series between the two teams as NNO won 70-64 earlier in the season in the NNO Fieldhouse. Head coach Mark Sauer’s cagers began Stagg Conference play last night by beating the Superior Junior College Warriors.

SOPHOMORE FORWARD BOBBY Howard got the Norse on the board first with a field goal, but Travis John Snowman tied the score for the only time in the contest at 2-2 with 17:28 left in the first half. Freshman center Kevin Prasher put NNO back on top with a slam dunk, but Ed Blackmon added a field goal to make the score 6-2 in the 13:50 mark. A bucket from ORU’s Clark Mead, the Norse answered with eight straight points from Blackmon and Howard to build a 14-4 lead with 13:21 remaining in the half. After four points from the Titans, NNO narrowed the gap again for seven points from Tony Brown, Vince Singleton, and Howard to balloon it to 21-8 spread.

Following two buckets from Norse newcomer Angelo Davis, ORU realized for six points from Mead, Snowman, and Ron McCaughan to cut the deficit to 25-16 with 8:37 remaining in the half.

ORU CLOSED IN on the NNO lead at 29-22 following a bucket from Dwight Greaves at the 6:03 point but Blackmon and Brown combined for six points to bring the point-spread back up to 35-22. Both teams traded baskets before the remainder of the half with the Norse holding on to a 50-34 advantage.

NNO maintained a 10-point lead throughout the entire second half until the Titans shot for six straight points to narrow the score to 56-44 with 14:02 remaining in the contest. Singleton and Brown hit one bucket apiece to bring the Norse lead back to the 16-point deficit.

NNO closed out the win with a 10-0 run to end the game.

NNO 88, ORU JV 71

ORU JV 71

NNO JV 64

NNO JV 43-48

ORU JV 34-48

Bonnie Park

SOPHOMORE FORWARD BOBBY Howard got the Norse on the board first with a field goal, but Travis John Snowman tied the score for the only time in the contest at 2-2 with 17:28 left in the first half. Freshman center Kevin Prasher put NNO back on top with a slam dunk, but Ed Blackmon added a field goal to make the score 6-2 in the 13:50 mark. A bucket from ORU’s Clark Mead, the Norse answered with eight straight points from Blackmon and Howard to build a 14-4 lead with 13:21 remaining in the half. After four points from the Titans, NNO narrowed the gap again for seven points from Tony Brown, Vince Singleton, and Howard to balloon it to 21-8 spread.

Following two buckets from Norse newcomer Angelo Davis, ORU realized for six points from Mead, Snowman, and Ron McCaughan to cut the deficit to 25-16 with 8:37 remaining in the half.

ORU CLOSED IN on the NNO lead at 29-22 following a bucket from Dwight Greaves at the 6:03 point but Blackmon and Brown combined for six points to bring the point-spread back up to 35-22. Both teams traded baskets before the remainder of the half with the Norse holding on to a 50-34 advantage.

NNO maintained a 10-point lead throughout the entire second half until the Titans shot for six straight points to narrow the score to 56-44 with 14:02 remaining in the contest. Singleton and Brown hit one bucket apiece to bring the Norse lead back to the 16-point deficit.

NNO closed out the win with a 10-0 run to end the game.
Letters
Co-Ed Dorms

Dear Editor,

As we all know, the NRO administration issues fines or expulsion from school for those who break rules. Fines must be paid or face serious consequences. The purpose of this letter is to bring attention to the incidence of tardiness and the negative impact it has on the campus community.

There are several incidents that have occurred recently that illustrate the problem. A few weeks ago, a student was caught in the dormitory for being tardy to curfew. The consequences of this action were serious, and it set a precedent for future violations.

I believe that this issue needs to be addressed. As members of the campus community, it is our responsibility to uphold the rules and regulations that govern our behavior. By being on time and respecting the curfew, we can continue to maintain a safe and welcoming environment for all.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Rae Lynn Taylor
Member of the Class of 2023

College Enrollment Discourages Students

Some students have so much trouble when enrolling that they get discouraged. Getting to know what you are going to study is important, but it also takes quite a bit of time. Too many students are overwhelmed by the amount of work they have to do.

Next year, I plan to enroll in a new major. I am nervous about it, but I think it is a good idea. I have heard that it is better to have a good plan than to just wing it. I am hoping that things will work out for me.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Co-Ed Dorms

But, young men and women who are bright enough and mature enough to be accepted by a highly selective college admissions committee should also be bright enough and mature enough to make their own moral decisions and manage their lives wisely.

Society must have rules for survival, but as society changes, the rules must also change. At NRO, we must be willing to change our restrictions over the years. The administration needs to realize that we are a new generation with new ideas and the old rules are doing nothing but stifling our creativity.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Rae Lynn Taylor
Member of the Class of 2023

Ellen Shepard

Ellen Shepard, B.A. English, "More activities for every-where where everyone can get together and socialize with each other."

Richard Knop, Physics major, "I would like to see more planned student activities that take in the student body as a whole not just particular groups."

Norse Wind
Pam Budyke
Managing editor

Renee Roach
Assistant editor

Gloria C. Pate
News reporter

Sandra Fagen
News reporter

Janie Basy
Features writer

Clayton Sapp
Features writer

Sarah Walk
Features writer

Rick Lunsford
Features writer

Judy English
Editorial page editor

Steve Hall
Sports editor

Steve Kirby
Photographer

Laura Milam
Photographer

Gary Torello
Photographer

Jeanne Aimey
Advertising manager

Opinions expressed in the Norse Wind are not necessarily those of the NRO student body, faculty, or administration. All letters to the editor are approved by the Editorial Board. Letters must be typed. Staff reserves the right to edit all copy to conform with standards of writing, production, and content. Published every week throughout the school year except on holidays, at Rochester A&M College, Rochester, N.Y. 14623. Third-class postage paid at Rochester, N.Y., and at the Oklahoma College Post office.

Norse Wind, January 16, 1981, Page 6

College Enrollment Discourages Students

Some students have so much trouble when enrolling that they get discouraged and give up on school altogether.

Most students come to school worried that the classes are going to be hard. Only to find that the classes are nothing compared to what they go through during enrollment. It sounds simple enough, pick the classes and get a schedule. Enrollment is anything but simple. What students go through just to enroll is enough to drive anyone crazy.

It seems like anywhere a student goes he's supposed to be somewhere else. He is more often than not, with such comments as, "I'm sorry, you're supposed to be in the Business office." When he gets to the Business office he may hear, "You need to take this back to the Registrar's office." It can get confusing, and that's not the end of it.

Students usually discover that if they're upstairs they're supposed to be downstairs, or if they're in one room they're supposed to be in another. When the student is finally in the right place there's a good chance that everyone will be out to lunch! Between lost scholarships and lost files everyone is made to feel more like a number than a person.

The men and women who work in the offices have a difficult job. They see so many different faces a day it becomes hard for them to recognize each student as an individual. New students are often put off by this attitude. Along with the frustrations of enrollment, this attitude can make a new student feel lost. They need to realize, however, that the people who work in the offices have a lot to handle and are doing their best.

Enrollment doesn't present a problem for everyone, but for some it's an experience that's enough to make them want to pack up and go home. More frustrating than anything is a student finding out that all the classes he wanted are closed. When the student has finally gotten through the mess and hypocrisy of enrollment he must then get his books. Risking that some of his books may be the wrong one for the chosen class he goes ahead and buys it anyway.

Enrollment is an experience, one most students would rather do without. There are ways, however, for students to avoid the hassles of enrollment. Pre-enrollment, if it is possible for the particular student, can help solve some of these problems.

If the student enrolls early enough he will probably get the classes of his choice and avoid the rush of other students enrolling. If pre-enrollment is not possible the student should see to it that he or she enroll as soon as possible. Most of all students need to try to be patient and realize that everyone else is in the same boat as they are.
The Norsewind – the NEO A&M College Newspaper

Digital copies of The Norsewind, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College's student newspaper, are available in .pdf format on the NEO website for non-commercial purposes only. Scans were created using the best available editions through the assistance of the Oklahoma Higher Education Historical Society from microfilmed images. Where stains, color-fading, contributed marks or ripped pages were visible on the original, they also appear in the digital copy. NEO newspaper editions that do not appear on the website are not part of the collection at present. If you would like to donate a missing, damaged or incomplete copy of The Norsewind, please contact the NEO Library.

© NEO A&M College

www.neo.edu