Organization provides cuts for donations

“We want to meet the needs of the college students with hidden and at-risk students,” said Danielle Lipps, coordinator of the Baptist Student Union.

Located across the from the university, the BSU will provide donations for students and faculty while Monday and Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Professional hair stylists from St. Robert's Salon will be providing services for students and faculty while Monday and Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Another incentive for getting a haircut is the special offer on the day.

The proceeds from donations will be used to send students on mission trips during the summer.

The BSU needs to raise approximately $3,500 more to send students on mission trips across the United States.

Students who volunteer for missions will spend one month of their summer improving the community they are assigned to.

 INITIATION PROCESS

Fraternity initiates members

Phi Theta Kappa, one of the largest national honors fraternities, held initiation ceremonies for new members last Monday in the Bruce G. Carter Student Union.

The Mu chapter of the fraternity inducted 40 new members for the spring semester.

The fraternity's featured speaker was Dr. Charles Angell, vice-president for academic affairs.

Dr. Angell's speech stressed the importance of leadership and how that leadership helps people grow as individuals.

Another high point of the meeting featured the installation of two new officers.

Susan Garber, a sophomore from Miami, was elected as president, and Darrell Rice, a sophomore from Welch, obtained the title of vice-president.

Many students who could not make the meeting still have a chance to become members of the fraternity, said John Lomax, the sponsor of PTK.

Students interested in joining the organization need to stop by the PTK office which is located in the student union lobby across from the bookstore.

Requirements for membership include filing out an application and paying a $35 fee to cover national, state, and local membership.

Initiated members include Tracy Hopper, Dunbar freshman; Jeffery Everett, Yukon freshman; Trace Smith, Hydro freshman, and Scott Anderson, Miami freshman.

Other members are Jill Poole, Miami freshman, Desiree Breland, Catoosa freshman, Lisa McCrossan, Langley freshman, and Darla Clinton, DeSoto freshman.

New initiates include Laura Cunningham, Miami freshman; Jamie Goser, Miami freshman; Elizabeth Baker, Catoosa freshman, and Cheryl Stephens, Fairland freshman.

Adding to the organization are members James Thomas, Miami freshman; April Collard, Miami freshman; Mykayla Song, Vinita freshman, and Lisa Cobb, Wyoman freshman.

Other members include Curtis Adams, Owasso sophomore, Shanna Conner, Perry freshman, and Lasta Conner, Perry freshman.

Some students are considering transferring to a senior level institution, said Dr. Angell.

Representatives, Jack Stout and Mary Esther Swain, from the main campus and the health sciences center at the University of Oklahoma will be available Thursdays from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Student Center.

Students who attend and decide to continue their education at OU can complete pre-entrance application steps online.

Proposal provides grade standards

By Dana Morrison

Governor Henry Bellmon recently proposed a plan to make Oklahoma a high-achieving state at least 2.0 grade point average to be admitted and participate in sports events.

Two-year institutions have already put into effect this rule by following the standards of the National Junior College Association.

The NJCA policy states that for athletes to participate in sports activities they must have earned 24 credit hours and have the GPA of 2.0.

If a student makes lower than the NJCA standard he or she will be suspended from participation. An example of the effects of this policy is the incident last year involving the student athlete.

"John Wayne Mose was dismissed from his duty as president because of problems with his GPA," said President Dr. Angell.

Activities are an important part of college life but they are not the only part, Dr. Angell said.

Looking to the future Dr. Angell feels that if the proposal were to be adopted it could help to improve the educational system.

"If these rules come into effect students will meet the requirements made of them. There will be higher quality of students as well as athletes will be rewarded in different areas of school," Dr. Angell said.

Another aspect of the new proposal that Oklahoma is considering is a program that some community colleges have already approved.

The naming process of the Rising Junior Exam is for college academic departments to develop for students for their minimum competence.

This test should arrive in a minimum of two years.

Bellmon proposes athletic program

Governor Henry Bellmon has recently proposed a plan concerning athletic programs that he hopes will be a very controversial subject.

The plan proposes that secondary schools in Oklahoma require athletes to maintain a grade point average of 2.0. Athletics would be expanded to include at least 13 classes and events as well as the same.

The controversy has become a matter of discussion in a recent legislative House Rules Committee meeting where a goal of 2.0 is being requested to be raised.

Bellmon's plan is a good one. The controversy is coming from schools and individuals who seem to be forgetting the reasons we are sending our kids to school.

It isn't the most important part, but it is an added bonus. Being involved in athletics is important to teach many things. But it is not, and should not be, the main course.

The "no pass-no play" plan in secondary schools would benefit us as a high education facility. If athletes are forced to work for grades while in high school, those who feel athletics are important enough to go the extra mile will be outraged out of the rest.

This will make the selection of players from the college recruiters a more qualified one.

In addition, the athletes will be more rounded in their academics, and more prepared for the challenges of college studies. Athletes cannot be expected to put the importance of academics into practice if their coaches and instructors don't stress it to them first hand.

The Excercise voting rights

Well, here we are again on the verge of another presidential Primary election.

If you have not registered yet, you have to get out of bed early and get registered.

The election for the President of the United States will be one of the most important elections that Americans have ever made.

The purpose of this upcoming election can not be overly stressed.

We, as Americans, are faced with many problems that will have to be resolved in the very near future.

Registered voters who do not exercise the right to vote will be giving up a privilege that people in some countries would give anything to have.

In this first Oklahoma State Primary, there are a great number of candidates to choose from. Many people haven't heard of all of them, and it is important to know all you can.

On the Republican ticket there are six candidates to choose from. They are: George Bush, Robert Dole, Pete DuPree, Alexander Haig, Jack Kemp and Pat Robertson.

On the Democratic side of the ticket there are seven candidates: They are: Bruce Babcock, John Bollas, Michael Dukakis, Richard Gephardt, Albert Gore Jr., Jesse Jackson and Paul Simon.

The election of the one who will be the next President of the United States lies in our hands. Our future and the future of our country is at stake.

It is important to be educated about the candidates, and to choose the one with which we most agree. Someone we would trust with our country.

Be a responsible American and vote for the candidate of your choice.

Dr. Morris directs technology

By Carolyn Abraham

The function of a technology division chairman is to budget, schedule, advise students, locate students for the coming year's scholarships and to recruit.

"The recruiting element is a very essential part of this job. When fresh students start here, the recruitment comes into play because they come here knowing someone," Dr. Morris said.

Before coming to NEO, Dr. Morris had 10 years in hospital experience because nursing had been a dream to her.

"As a nursing student my instructor said that I should pursue teaching and NOC is a great place to work. This college offers a student opportunity to be a part in the educational process with the faculty we have," said Dr. Morris.

Dr. Morris and her husband, Earnie, parking preceptor at the college, live in Miami and enjoy athletic events, reading and hand work.

"I like vacationing to the lake to get away from the pressures and coming back to face new challenges," Dr. Morris said.

There are departments within the technology division which connects individual problems within the departments with group problems. "My goal as division chairperson are increasing enrollment, having money in the budget and the rebuilding of departments in the division.

The students are the reason we are here and we must smooth the path for them so learning should be enjoyable," said Dr. Morris.

Being a nurse Dr. Morris has seen many patients but the ones who stick out in her mind the most are the cancer victims. "They are the bravest people in the world and I have learned from them to have patience with yourself," said Dr. Morris.

Rap performer enjoys profession

By Gregg Emerson

"Ladies and gentlemen, may I have your attention, here is Seymour A. with D.J. Ernie G. to rap a little piece," yells the announcer.

Seymour A. stands for Seymour Adams. He is a freshman from Fort Worth, Texas, and is majoring in education.

"I first started rapping in the seventh grade," said Adams. "It was fun to make things rhyme and people liked it a lot."

A rap contest was sponsored by the Afro-American club at the first of the year and Seymour A. finished second.

"The guy who beat me was named Jackie G., he was not a better rapper or anything, but he was just funnier," Adams said.

Adams has entertained crowds in the dorms, at the football banquet and at the welcome back dance. Adams' inspirations have been "Run D.M.C." and "Kool Moe Dee."

"I just like the style of Cool Moe Dee and I like Run D.M.C. because they were the first to hit it big," Adams said.

Adams first started doing parties and talent shows as a sophomore in high school. Now he has worked his way up to concerts.

"Me and my DJ opened a concert for "Whodini," "Kool Moe Dee," "Jazzy Jeff," and "The Fresh Prince," said Adams. "My DJ, Ernie G. is one of the best in Texas but he just has not gotten any recognition."

Adams and his brother along with their DJ Ernie G. and the "Zoots Twins" have started their own production company called "Money on Ice."

"Right now we need to get a copy right for our music so we can send it to a record company," Adams said.

"Rap music is going to be around for along time, and I hope to be a part of it," Adams said.

"I think I have a good chance to make it big," said Adams.

Museum built on dreams and reflects local history

By David Johnson

Here are many facets in the history of Miami which all started with a dream.

One of those dreams belonged to Sudan Bed ford Dobson who brought his wife and family to the town of Miami in 1892 from Kentucky.

Dobson and his sons later started a company which began with an ice plant and bottling works and grew to include mining, farming, and other investments. The Dobson founded this community and has left us with The Dobson Museum.

The museum was the original Mc Williams Opera House, one of the few permanent structures built in Miami.

The Dobson house is part of the complex of the museum, memorial center and garden club, and has been its current location since 1972. The last surviving member of the family, Nellie, saw to it that the dream was fulfilled in which the cost of the museum was approximately $18,000.

It is an idea for others, successful Dobson, volunteer workers and trustees make up the success of the museum.

"It is fascinating to hear tourists find their fathers and grandfathers in the old photographs that we have," said one volunteer.

There are many interesting facts in the museum such as "a" miniature, an area mining display, over 1000 historical items and the Sacha dolls.

The Sacha dolls are the spirits of birds, animals, insects, plants, places, objects or people. These dolls are one of the items that catch everyone's eye because they are so unique," another volunteer, Artie McGhee, said.

There are 36 or 38 volunteers that work at the museum.

"Working here gives me a chance to associate with people and maintain the museum," said McGhee.

The museum is operated by a group of volunteers and is open Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

A Rapid Upper Lipster Leader
People around the world have a fascination with acting. They want to be like some other character or person, whether it is on stage or just with friends. Finally, my senior year in high school, this fantasy came true for me, personally.

It said, “Gregg, you want to act on stage, you want to see your name in lights.”

This was true, but how did my feelings know? Oh well!

I pulled a few strings, and I was in the advanced drama class. It seemed to be a great class, and I was cast in the first play, “Cleawood Dick.”

The play was a mellow drama. I played the part of a villain named “Chet Punt.”

Rehearsals were funny, and always adventures.

The play had guns firing, people getting stabbed, and great one-liners.

Opening day of the play was a masterpiece in front of the whole school.

I woke up at 6 a.m. that morning. I wanted to get to school early so I could relax.

I got ready and jumped in my car. On the way to school I had to stop by one of my friend’s houses and pick him up.

The driveway to his house looks onto the moon. It has big deep craters, some deep enough that you can’t see people going fishing.

While driving down the road I had to go down a hole after you hit it. I ended up in the dreader ditch.

After jumping, pulling, and pushing the car, I couldn’t move, even with the help of another car.

Guard ‘points’ way for Norsemen

By Darrell Feguer

Mike Harris played like a champion with a certain phrase in mind: “the cream of the crop will rise to the top.” And the result of such remaining game heading major importance. Harris is looking to lead the Golden Norsemen to the top.

Five out of the eight remaining games are against conference teams. The defending Region II champion Lone Star Lions came to Dallas Thursday night while the Norse must travel to Fort Worth. Eastern in addition to Western and Connors at Werner. NEL will also host Oral Roberts in a conference game.

Pressure will be at its highest and Harris wouldn’t have it any other way.

“The Norsemen have been looking forward to this every since last year!”

As a freshman last year, Harris helped lead the Norse to the first state championship in 17 years.

“It really was unforgettable,” Harris said. “I’ve never been involved in a state championship game like that. I felt bad for the sophomores.”

In the last two years, coach Larry Gibson has witnessed the development of Harris’ athletic ability.

“Michael Harris has the potential to play college basketball at his highest level,” Gibson said. “He has the size and the ability to score at any time on the court.”

Harris’ freshman year was one that many sophomores would relish.

Converting 50 percent of his field goals, Harris developed the Norsemen’s second leading scorer with an average of 16.8 points per game. He was second on the team in assists and led the team in three-point goals with 53.

His basketball ability was recognized across the state when he was named to the All-Region seven.

Now, as a sophomore, Harris leads the Norse in average points a game, 83, assists, 27, three-point goals, 22, and free throw percentage, 84.

But with the leadership Harris has experienced alterations in his role for the Golden Norse basketball squad.

“Last year, I was just put on offense to go out and play. This year I feel like I have to be a leader for the freshmen. I don’t mind it, it’s just a little more demanding,” said Harris.

Success has not been a stranger to Harris. At Mansfield High School, Harris was named to the All-State team and was named player of the year in the Oklahoma Eight Conference.

Guard ‘points’ way for Norsemen

According to Harris, the potential of this year’s team has not been reached. But he finds that if the team pulls together and eliminates the minor mistakes, greater things will certainly happen.

“Right now, we’re not playing as well as we can. We’ve been down and up,” Harris said.

“With the talent we have, I really believe we will be in the nation. We just have to fix up some of the small things like turnovers and the lack of rebounding.”

Despite having the possibility of being an All-American, Harris feels his foremost priority is to the team.

“I’m not really thinking about personal awards,” said Harris. “If the team does well, the individual awards will come. Also, the farther the team goes, the more exposure we’ll receive.”

Several schools are drooling at the possibility of signing the top-quality guard but Harris is waiting until the season is over to make a decision.

“I still have 12 more games to play. Right now, I really don’t have any strong feelings towards any schools.

I want to know what I can do for the team and what I can do for me. I want to exhaust all of my options before I make a decision.”

Cagers enter crucial stretch by entertaining Moutaineers

Coffeyville has waited four years to meet the department’s 600 meter relay team record.

Freshman Larry Chatterton set a meet record for the 400-meter run during the annual Oklahoma University Invitational Track Meet last Saturday, at the Myriad in Oklahoma City.

A freshman from Owasso, Chatterton ran a 49.8 in the 400-meter to eclipse the old mark of 49.8 set last year.

Chatterton was also a member of the 400-meter relay team which finished second with a time of 3:26.20. Other members of the team were David Williams, a freshman from St. Louis, Mo., Reggie Jeffers, a freshman from Ada, and Scott Coleman, a freshman from Poteau.

Jeffers also placed fourth in the 400-meter run with a 52.8 time.

Freshman Vince Chamey placed fourth in the long jump with a leap of 23.1. Chamey, from Tulia, also finished in the high jump with a 6-2.75 leap.

Junior Wilson, a freshman from Fort Worth, Texas, placed third in the 55-meter dash with a 5.31 time.

Freshman Deco Thomas, from Fort Worth, Texas, finished second with a 22.14 in the long jump.

With a time of 4:52.30 in the mile run, freshman Oliver Delgada, from Coffeyville, Texas, finished fourth.

Freshman Kevin Greeto, of Oklahoma City, finished seventh in the 55-meter hurdles with an 8.14 time.

“Although we didn’t have any qualifiers for the national meet, our young men did very well,” said coach Red Price.

Unlike the women, the Lady Norse had several qualifiers for the National Junior Collegiate Athletic Association National Indoor Meet scheduled for March 11-12 in Warren, Mich.

Freshman Nicole Braecken qualified by finishing sixth in the 400-meter run with a 50.4 time.

Braecken was also a member of the Lady Norse 600-meter relay team that qualified by finishing fifth in the 4,004.0 time.

Joining Braecken on the relay team were Willie Wise, a freshman from Broken Arrow, Glenda Marshall, a freshman from Muskogee, and Ethel Edwards, a freshman from Midland, Texas.

Edwards qualified for the nationals with a 7.1 time in the preliminaries of the 55-meter dash.

Marshall qualified in the 400-meter run with a 50.4 time.

Johnson qualified in the 55-meter dash with a 7.4 time.

Zinnie Ray, a freshman from Tulsa, also qualified in the 55-meter with a 7.42 time.

Freshman LaDona Wilhoite of Kansas City, Mo., ran a 9.0 in the 55-meter hurdles to qualify for the nationals.

Antoinette Brooks, freshman from Fort Worth, Texas, placed third in the mile run with a time of 8:49.02.

Coffeyville’s 49 point in their 400-meter run and 70 percent from the charity stripe.

Bacon 89, Norsemen 57

Few would have thought that the 38-8 Bacon Warriors would give the defending Oklahoma state champions much trouble. But trouble was only the beginning as the Warriors dropped the Golden Norsemen for their first loss in conference play.

A lack of rebounding hurt the Norsemen. Bacon grabbed 11 offensive rebounds compared to four for the Norse. Anderson grabbed 11 caroms to lead the Warriors while Ed Atkinson added the Norse with seven rebounds.

Bacon’s Shadrick Anderson paced the Warriors with 17 points. Kevin Wood added 12 and Darryl Boddy contributed 10 points in the Warriors’ first conference victory.

Mike Harris led the Norse with 16 points while Ron Lacy added 14 and Darin Plante scored 12 points.
