Nurses follow nationwide day

National Nurses Day will be observed nationwide on May 6.

The Oklahoma State Nurses Association is joining the American Nursing Association (ANA) in celebrating this year’s theme of “Proud to Care.”

Nurses in all types of settings, including those teaching others at the college, are taking the opportunity to reflect on the many reasons that they are proud to be part of a rewarding and challenging profession.

In mid-1987 an American Hospital survey found that 43.1 percent of hospitals were experiencing a nursing shortage and 51 percent of nursing homes showed shortages.

Vacant budgeted nursing positions in hospitals more than doubled, from 6.3 percent to 13.6 percent, from December 1985 to December 1986.

The ANA launched a recruitment and retention campaign in January with Miss America 1988, a Registered Nurse, as a spokesperson for the profession.

The organization is recommending increased salaries and a greater role for nurses in decision-making as ways of solving the shortage of health care workers.

Vandalic actions surface as semester concludes

At the end of the school year, one thing comes to mind is the condition in which the campus will, or will not, be in next year.

People leaving this campus seem to be lacking in their responsibilities as a student and as a human being.

According to Bob Rives, Campus Housing Director, this has been the worst year for thefts in the ten years that he has been on this campus.

Parking lots are a primary target for robbery. There also been a large amount of cars taken from dorm rooms.

Respect for an individual, and/or any person’s property, should have been learned early on in life.

But, according to statistics, this is not the case.

Students need to know that damages done to the campus grounds and buildings must somehow be paid for.

If the responsible party is not caught, the cost is passed on to all students, in one way or another.

In the case of damage done to dorm rooms, the cost of the damage is assessed to the tenant.

Whereas, in the case of dorm damage done in public areas, the cost of repairs is billed to all residents of that dorm, in equal amounts.

That is why it is so important that you take pride in your school and try to prevent any vandalism that might be going on.

The maximum fine that the school can impose on a student is $50.

This may be a small amount to some people, but not to everyone.

Respect for people, and for property, both private and public, should be the norm. It should come as second nature.

Dorm residents should be on the lookout for people that do not have respect for others, or their surroundings.

Students that will return this summer, fall, or new students just starting out, should be able to enjoy the comforts of this campus, not the ruined remains. The condition our campus is important; it reflects on us as a student body.

Everyone has the responsibility to see to it that things are not destroyed.

Newcomers need pals

Freshman can remember the first day we ever came to NEO as being a little on the scary side.

Especially those who came here not knowing a single person might have been intimidated by all the people and finding classes.

Our campus is not the biggest, but to students right out of high school and also from small towns, a campus such as ours could seem monstrous.

Yes, eventually, all became very familiar with the grounds that soon became our second home, but it sure would have been nice to have a friend at the beginning.

Not just a friend from home, but a friend who knew all about us, everyone.

Think back on how comforting it would have been to have a friendly face come to greet you in your room the first day.

Maybe help you unpack or tell you where you would get the best reception on the television or what radio stations are good to listen to.

Then this friend could take you to some of the buildings, showing you where your classes are and giving you pointers on how to get on a certain teacher’s good side.

This friend could go with you to the cafeteria and introduce you to people you might not otherwise have met.

Even freshman who come up here with a friend could use a helping hand, someone who knows the ropes.

Well those who are returning next semester as sophomores fit the description of this particular friend.

Offer your knowledge and wisdom to a newcomer you just might make a new friend out of too.

Experience causes change in values among students

Now comes a time in our lives when we are faced with saying our goodbyes to the friends we have made throughout our year at NEO.

Graduating from high school gave most of us our first real ex-erience with seeing friends that we love go their separate ways.

We learned from that, but it never seems to get any easier.

Graduating sophomores normally have to part from their fellow classmates, but also any freshman that they might have taken under their wings over the past year.

It has been said that friends made in college are different than those of high school.

The ideas and emotions that we are showered with upon entering college are precious and important, and the people we share these permanent feelings with are a vital part of our experiences.

We meet people in college, not only from our town and state, but also from different states and even different countries.

The possibilities of never seeing those people again are high, but just because they are not in our sights does not mean they are gone from our lives or our hearts.

Many of the people who have come into our lives at NEO have made impacts on our college careers, although we may not fully understand just exactly how

Take the time out to say a few words to an advisor, a special instructor, a dorm parent, or even that sweet lady in the cafeteria that has taken the extra time to make Letting them know how much you appreciate them may also bring about the reality of the impac

For those who are being left

For those who are leaving this

For those who are leaving this campus is not to return, take one last look around you, embrace those

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a

You are being faced with a challenge, the challenge of the future.

Rodeo team wins honors in Kansas

Three members of the cottage rodeo team placed last weekend at the Garden City, Kan., National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association's Rodeo.

Joe Garrison, a freshman from Breckinridge, qualified for the finals in calf roping by finishing sixth in the first go-round of competition with a time of 12.3 seconds.

With the fastest run of the rodeo, Garrison had a 10.7 second in the short-go to win the second and final go-round of competition.

Garrison's total rank on two calves, 22.8 seconds, was good enough to split 7th in the event average with Ian Doherty, a senior from Panhandle State University in Garden City.

A Salpoppa freshman, Justin Whitehouse also took a large portion of the short-go and average payoff in the calf roping.

Whitehouse placed third in the initial go-round with an 11.6 to 1.3 second run. In the short-go, Whitehouse went 11.6 seconds to win the second and final round.

His combined total, 22.9 seconds, was also his event average.

There are a total of 49 calf ropers entered in the contest representing 20 rodeo associations within the Central Plains Region to Oklahoma and Kansas.

Tina Braden, a Petaca City sophomore, ranked seventh after the first go-round of the breakaway roping with a 4.8 second run.

Bradon's 4.8 second in the first round placed third, and her combined total on two calves of 9.5 seconds was also third in the event average.

There were a total of 37 seconds entered in the event. Braden is currently ranked eighth in the regional standings.

The television season is over, but the pilot series is just beginning. At the end of the television season new series are launched as pilot series in the hope of making it to the fall season.

Many of the series that are being released this time are spin-offs of established hit television series. Shows such as CBS's "Lou Grant" spin-off of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," ABC's "Law & Order" spin-off of "Happy Days," and NBC's "A Different World" spin-off of "The Cosby Show" all have become hit series in past years.

The Ten of Us" stars Bill Condon, who played Coach Luick in "Growing Pains." The series about young people starting a new job at a boys' prep school. The show is about his family.

"Friend of the Family" spin-off of "My Two Dads." The show is about a divorced woman, Claire B. Bannister, who discovers a button in the neighborhood of dad's. "Empty Nest" the spin-off of the "Golden Girls" will air on NBC, no air date set. The show is about an elderly woman who lives alone near the "golden girls." And a "Law & Order" spin-off, "Nick Derringer," will be aired on NBC, no air date set. The show is about a single mother, John Ester, helping out a diminutive English private eye.

Athletics enjoys successful seasons

Success in the intercollegiate athletic program at Northwestern A&M College is not always measured in the number of national titles that were won, but in the prestige each program has cultivated over the years. The following is a year-end overview of the intercollegiate athletic program.

Football

Making their third straight trip to the post-season Mid-America Bowl in Tulsa, the Golden Norse football team continued a perfect defense to stop Hinds, Miss., 26-24. With the victory coach Glen Weeks’ Norsemen finished 9-2 on the season and ranked fourth by the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Roger Gibb, Craig Anderson and Richard Wals received All-American honors as the Golden Norse defense allowed an average of 152 yards per game in its defense.

Losers to Navarro, Texas, and Trinity Valley, Texas, were the only skirmishes on the Golden Norse schedule.

Following the season, 31 members of the football squad signed letters of intent to continue their education at four-year institutions.

Women’s Basketball

Despite injuries that sidelined two starters and three reserves, the Lady Norse basketball team finished third in the national tournament at Madison, Miss.

Playing with only seven members in uniform at any one time, the Lady Norse defeated Central State, 59-50, to win their first Oklahoma state championship.

With a 65-53 victory over Seward Baptist, the Lady Norse captured the Region II title and advanced to the national tournament.

Defeating a 74-66 loss to eventual national champion Elgin, Texas, the Lady Norse defeated Central Arizona, 53-51, to finish third nationally.

Sophomores Yolanda Gerald and Donna Hartkos along with freshmen Charisse Akins and Benicia Desery were recipients of All-Conferece honors.

After guiding the Lady Norse to a 25-15 overall record, head coach Brian Agler resigned to accept the head coaching position at the University of Minnesota in Kansas City. Agler was replaced by assistant coach Randy Gipson.

Men’s Basketball

Sophomores Michael Harris and Jon Larry earned All-Conference accolades as coach Larry Gipson’s Golden Norse were eliminated in the second round of the Oklahoma state tournament.

The Golden Norseman finished with a 20-12 overall record after dropping a 79-66 decision to Eastern State College in the semifinals of the state tournament.

Wrestling

Sophomores Tony and Tim McColl became only the second and third wrestlers in NCC’s history to earn All-American honors both years.

Coach Alan Lashbro’s Golden Norseman finished fifth in the nation as five members of the team earned All-American honors.

Tim McColl defeated defending champion Gene McKinley of Nassa U., N.Y., to win the 180-pound class. Tim McColl was also selected “Most Outstanding Wrestler” of the national tournament.

Tim McColl finished fourth in the 185-pound class.

Sophomore Brett Gray earned All-American honors by finishing sixth at 154.

Seniors Ray Lorin finished fifth in the 185-pound division to earn All-State recognition.

Freshman Todd Ebel was named All-American after finishing seventh at 190.

Cheerleading

Glenesa Marshall and Ethel Edwards established national records in the 300-meter dash as the Lady Norse finished third in the NCAA national indoor meet at Warren, Mich.

Marshall won the 300 with a record time of 35.48 to earn All-American honors.

Edwards finished second in the 300 with a 35.77 for All-American accolades.

Baseball

Although the Golden Norsemen did not repeat as champions of the BI-State Conference Eastern Division, coach Bill Mayberry’s squad was making their ninth straight appearance in the Region II tournament at Tulsa County Stadium.

Inconsistent pitching along with sporadic hitting caused the Norsemen to post a 31-23 overall record to press time.

One bright spot for the Norsemen was the play of veteran David King. The Hubbard product set school records with 17 home runs and 62 runs batted in.

Cheerleading

Both of coach Fred Pianta’s teams had record qualifiers for the national meet scheduled for the middle of May in Oklahoma, Texas.

Both the 400-meter and 4x60-meter relay teams for the Lady Norse qualified for the national meet.

Vondra Casey qualified for the Golden Norse along with Rick Chandler.

Soccer

Entering today’s Region II tournament at campus, the Lady Norse compiled a 16-18 overall record.

Freshman Dana Ham provided coach Bob Maxwell with strong pitching and solid defense in the outfield.

Freshman Kristi Smith connected for three home runs to pace the Lady Norse while collecting 23 runs batted in.

HEATED ACTION

One of the more interesting situations that came up during basketball season was a fight towards the end of the NCC-Connors State men’s game. No one was seriously hurt and both schools took steps to avoid a recurrence.

TOUGH INSIDE

Freshman forward Georgia Brooks put up a shot in the Region II championship game with Southern Baptist.

Freshman righthander Jamie Williams tossed a one-hitter as the Norse swept a double-header over Weather, last Tuesday, at Pt. Douglas.

Williamson allowed a single to Tommy Barlow with one out in the fourth inning as the Norse rallied for 4-0 to claim a game that was stopped after five innings because of the eight-run rule in the second game.

Williamson walked two and struck out six while issuing 20 walks. The victory improved Williamson's record to 6-1 on the season.

Neither team scored in the first game until the Norse took the first 1-0 in the fourth inning. First baseman Dwayne Best recorded a leadoff single. After Dolvey walked, Best was sent to second on an error by the shortstop. After Dolvey stole second, Bill King was intentionally walked to fill the bases.

Glebevics doubled to right-center scoring Best and Dolvey. The Lions fell behind with six runs in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Four errors by the Lions led to a five-run sixth inning for the Norse.

A two-run home run by Dolvey in the sixth inning copped the scoring. Dolvey and Highwater scored two of the Norse runs.

Glebevics doubled to center field to lead off the second game. The Norse scored. Highwater led off the Norse with a perfect 3-3-3 performance with three RBIs.

Norsemen 14, Comman Kid 5-9

Entering the divisional-leading Comman Kid Cowboys last Saturday, the Golden Norse dropped two league games.

The Norse scored their only run of the first game against Comman Kid in the bottom of the second inning. Sending 11 batters to the plate in the fourth inning, the Cowboys built 4-1 advantage. Three walks by Harrington and King by Danny Reed preceded a bases-loaded triple by Danny Duncan.

Brad Dolvey replaced Reed on the mound and was greeted by Duncan's triple. After Dolvey recorded the third out, the Cowboys came right back in the fifth inning for a 3-1 lead.

Rickus also has qualified for the national meet.

Track team members qualify for national meet

Dollagasse won the 10,000 in 37-34.96 while Newman unloaded a throw of 108-34 to take the discus. Smith qualified with a first place finish in the 400 hurdles, clocking in at 55.3 seconds.

Cusse also was a second place finisher that met the qualifying height. He cleared 6-02-2, the exact same as that of an Eastern jumper, but Cusse had fewer misses.

After Marcy Rice reached an error scoring Ham, Henderson singled scoring Edgar with the fourth run. Bacon rallied with an unearned run in the fourth inning. Blake Belcher singled. Errors by Edgar at first base and Slay at shortstop on ground balls hit by Hernandez and Bates allowed Belcher to score.
