Welcome Parents
Activities highlight special day
By Milly Barron

Students and faculty are putting the final touches on preparations in anticipation of the annual Parents Day celebration Saturday, Sept. 23, starting at 10 a.m. "We've expanded our offerings for visiting parents this year so they will receive a comprehensive look at our campus life and the activities we provide," said Adam Heling, coordinator of the event.
Registration for the day-long activities begins at 10 a.m. in the Bruce G. Carter Student Union. Refreshments will be served during registration.
"All of our campus occupants have been asked to set aside the early part of the day for Parents Day, and tour the campus while decorating our doors," Heling said.
Judging of the residence hall decorations begins at 10 a.m. and will continue through 11 a.m. The show, sponsored by Parents Day activities, will be an Auto Show at 11 a.m. at the parking lot of Copus Hall. Registration for the show begins at 8 a.m. and continues through 10 a.m. The show will run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Eleven trophies will be awarded in the following classes: parade, 10:00 a.m.; oldest cars, 10:15 a.m.; others, 10:30 a.m.; and open, 10:45 a.m.
At 11:15 a.m., visitors are invited to tour the new facilities. The tour will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the new gymnasium, Coach Ran- dy Gipson's squad finished 30-4 last season.
Throughout the day, various campus clubs will provide entertainment for the guests as a means of inviting more people to their organizations," Heling said.
Parents are invited to join students for a roast beef lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost of the meal is $5 per person.
Luncheon features twins
A record number of twins enrolled at NEOMA has prompted a luncheon to be held in the faculty lounge on Parents Day.
"We have 19 sets of twins enrolled this year which is the most we have ever had," said Larry Dunn, administrative assistant.
In one of the many activities taking place on Parents Day, all twins and their parents have been invited to participate in two twin activities.

Blood donations are a fact of life

The stillness of the night is one of the most peaceful things that a person may experience. It is one of those nights. The moon is slowly rising in the east as the whip-poor-will begins its nightly lullaby. The world is permeated by the roar of engines.

The engines belong to a Life Flight helicopter as it speeds through the night. On board is a tense crew of paramedics rushing through their preparations. They aren't completely sure what they are preparing for. The call doesn't always tell them.

This night, they are en route to the scene of an accident. The helicopter is on the telephone to the small car and a truck.

Arriving at the scene they find what they feared the most. The wreck has involved a loaded tractor trailer which has collided head on with what appears to have been a compact car.

Reaching the car they find two occupants inside. One is Rebecca, an eight year old girl who, amazingly, appears to be relatively unhurt. However, next to her, her mother is pinned in the twisted wreckage.

The rescue workers feverishly struggle with the jaws of Life to cut away enough of the car to remove Rebecca's mom. Finally they can remove her from the car and assess the extent of her injuries. The call goes back to the hospital to get the trauma unit ready.

With time clearly against them the Life Flight copter heads into the darkness. On board the Attendants do all they can to save Rebecca's mother. First they must determine her blood type and get blood ready at the hospital. She is going to need a lot of it tonight.

Upon arrival at the hospital the doctors take over. As the shock wanes off and she watches the doctors take her mom into the Emergency Room, Rebecca begins to cry.

This scenario takes place all too often. As a result of car wrecks and other accidents every day the demand for blood is never satisfied.

It is up to us to help keep people like Rebecca's mother alive. The Red Cross works continuously to keep the blood supply at a safe level. We must respond to the pleading of this fine group of dedicated people.

So when you see the signs about the Bloodmobile coming to your neighborhood, remember a little girl named Rebecca.

We can't let her down.

Drug war could cause problems

Although the President's "War on Drugs" is a great policy, it may have detrimental effects on students.

Bush stated that anyone convicted of a drug offense would lose their student aid.

But what about the naps, the paper towels, and the child molestors who are sentenced to ten years, serve two, then are paroled? They are eligible for federal aid.

Let's just suppose it's a first offense. A one time drug user will be denied the right to an education. What happens to their right to rehabilitation? Isn't education a major factor in rehabilitation itself?

The policy also states that one way to stop this plague, is through education. Irony isn't it?

Anyone can make a mistake once. But aren't the habitual drug users and habitual criminals the ones that need the Federal Student Aid taken away from them?

The majority of drug users today are dropouts. If the government takes away the funds they consider to be "casual users," we will have far less people going into society as productive career personnel, due to lack of education.

Let's get our priorities right. We want a drug free society, not an education free society.

Respect should be cultivated

Almost every college student faces problems with stress. Stress is caused by a number of different things in the students surroundings. Let's look at one over load of homework or a big test coming up.

Other things that can cause stress with students are family and personal relationships problems. When you have problems not consoling to school it is difficult to concentrate on your work.

College students are often faced with financial problems. It is difficult to be on your own for the first time and handle your own check books.

There are so many different things that cause stress so don't feel like you're only one in having a stressful day.

One method that works for me is to just take a day off and relax. Read a book because you want to not because it's an assignment. If you're not able to take a day off and are really under alot of pressure take a deep breath and tackle the problem like you have done it a hundred times before.

Be confident in your work. Remember the score you get on your homework done, the sooner you get to carry on with the more pleasant things in life.

Vice president receives plaudits

By Donald Eubanks

After 17 years of working with the student body, faculty and staff at the college, Dr. Boyd Converse was recognized for his contribution to the institution during a noon luncheon last Thursday in the Carter Student Union Ballroom.

Dr. Converse has assisted the president at Cullman Junior College in Pocatahontas, Arkansas. As the college continues its growth, so do the needs of its students.

Dr. Converse began his career in 1989 as a graduate assistant basketball coach at East Texas. In 1990, he moved to the Texas Junior College where he coached basketball and football for five years.

In 1995, he moved to DeKalb College in Atlanta, Georgia. In 1992, he began his service here.

Dr. Converse is credited with the continued growth of the college's athletic program.

The luncheon was co-sponsored by the Student Affairs and Athletic Coordinator. The event was attended by representatives from various departments within the college, including the Office of Student Affairs, Athletics, and Administration.

Following the luncheon, Dr. Converse and his wife, Nancy, were honored with a plaque recognizing their contributions to the college.

Mom joins kids in college

Diane Ferris is just one of the many non-traditional students at NEO. However, there is one small fact that may separate her from many of the other non-traditional students. That is the fact that two of her fellow students are also her children.

A daughter of hers is a member of the sophomore class and her son is a member of the freshman ranks.

She also has two more daughters, the older of the two is a graduate of NEO and Pittsburg State University. She is now a student teacher in the Riverton school system. The youngest is a junior at Miami High School.

Mrs. Ferris' return to college was not her idea alone. "My kids talked me into it. I wouldn't have done it if it hadn't of been for my kids," Ferris said. "But Glenn also helped talk me into it." Glenn is Ferris' cousin and works in the administration office here at the college.

"My schedule isn't really hectic at all," Ferris said. "I go from right to step on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. It's not bad."

Ferris, a child care major, is taking English, Reading Improvement classes along with an American History course. She also works at Tamar Frenze from eleven to five.

Being around younger students all day has definitely been a different experience for her. "The way they talk and dress is really different. They have all been real nice, so have the teachers. I don't think I could have found nicer teachers," Ferris said.

Adjusting to this new lifestyle hasn't been too difficult for her however. "The hardest things about it were learning to use the library and getting here every morning. But other than that it wasn't too tough," Ferris said.

CPR TRAINING

Trey Askary, a sophomore from Miami, introduces CPR to his training "Russiananse" matron as an instructor Nancy Bishop offers support.

New program stresses CPR

The physical education department will offer a course in first aid starting in the spring semester that includes cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

Two certificates will be awarded upon successful completion of the class.

Students will receive an Adult CPR certificate valid for one year. A three-year standard first aid card will also be awarded.

Taught by Nancy Bishop and Bob Maxwell, the course is about 8 to 12 hours in duration.

Breast breathing, adult CPR, and assisting choking victims will be the main focus of the class, as well as a variety of other injuries.

"We want to prepare participants to respond correctly in emergencies, to not to worry the victim's injuries," said Bishop.

"They should be able to remain calm and to take the appropriate measures to keep the victim alive and medical personnel informed," said Maxwell.

Several videos will be shown. The enrollees will have their own workbooks entitled American Red Cross Standard First Aid.

Apaches plan raid at Robertson

By Ernie Morgan

Billed as the "Game of the Century," the seventh-ranked Golden Noreens return home to host the Apaches of Tyler in the traditional Parents' Day game scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday at Robertson Field.

Coach Glenn Welts Golden Noreens enter the contest with a 2-1 season record following a 20-14 upset at the hands of Navarro Junior College last weekend in Corsicana, Texas.

"We've got basically the same scenario we had last week against Navarro except for the fact that we'll be playing before our hometown crowd," said Welts.

Under the guidance of first-year head coach Charles McGinty, the Apaches have posted a 2-1 mark following a 20-14 victory over Kilgore, Texas last weekend in Tyler.

Last season the Apaches posted a 6-4 season record while finishing third in the Texas Junior College Football Conference with a 4-2 record. During McGinty's tenure the Apaches have posted a 68-42-4 overall record. Tyler is a prototype of the typical Texas team," said Welts.

"They are big, strong and play very physical on defense." "While on offense they like to line up and come at you with a variety of looks. They have a very talented, experienced quarterback that throws the ball well."

"Both teams the quarterback spot will be pivotal in terms of the success of the offense. If Jackie Hood is able to start the responsibility will fall on the shoulders of freshman Joe Porter (6-1, 190, Groves)." Porter has played in all three games while completing 6 of 10 passes for 106 yards, one TD and no interceptions. Porter has also gained 34 yards on eight carries. Sophomore Mark Ellis (6-1, 175) is the hub of the Apache offense. Ellis has completed 26 of 56 passes for 281 yards with two touchdowns and three interceptions.

"If backfield White (5-7, 180) leads the ground game with 83 yards on 4 carries and one TD and Wide receiver Fred Montgometry (6-0, 150) has made nine catches for 116 yards while tight end Casey Neal (6-5, 230) has made eight catches for 96 yards. "All season I’ve been saying that we’ve got to get cut down on mistakes we make on offense to be successful. Things haven’t changed," said Welts. "We feel like we can score against Tyler if we take advantage of what they give us. But we’ve got to execute."

All three linebackers, Devon Simmons (6-2, 200), Mike Mur-ray (6-4, 202) and Kevin Keith (6-0, 220) hold the key to the Norse defense. Through three games NES’ defensive unit has recorded 19 quarterback sacks. "Our defense really didn’t play that bad as a unit against Navarro. We held them to under 300 yards in total offense, but we didn’t keep them out of the end zone," said Welts.

"Our kids have got to rise to the occasion and really be aggressive on the defensive side of the ball. We can’t let Ellis have the time to set up because he has a good arm and can pick a defense to pieces," Welts said.

Bulldogs maul top-ranked Norse

By Krista Morgan

It is one thing to lose a football game when you are overmatched, it is something very different when you are in your own stadium.

Such was the scenario Saturday night when Northeastern A&M 's number one ranked Golden Norsemen were upset 31-6 at the hands of Navarro Junior College in Corsicana, Texas.

"We kept their offense going with all the turnovers we made," said Norse head coach Glen Wells. "This was not a bad football game, we beat ourselves."

Although the Golden Norsemen gained 230 yards in total offense compared to 250 total yards by the Bulldogs, Norse fell prey to two crucial interceptions and three lost fumbles.

"We knew they were big and physical on defense and that they had a lot of talented and skilled people. But our offense was somewhat of a surprise because of the fact that they took advantage of every situation to score," Wells said.

Neither team could mount much of an offensive threat early in the first quarter. However, Navarro moved to the Norse 12-yard line before two consecutive quarterback sacks forced the Bulldogs to attempt a 44-yard field goal with 6:53 left in the first quarter.

Freshman placekicker Roger Miller missed the first kick wide to the right.

Miller received another chance with just 18 seconds in the first quarter. Miller hit the 26-yard field goal to give Navarro a 3-0 lead.

Midway through the second quarter the Norsemen moved the Navarro 12-yard line only to lose control of the ball on a fumble. Bulldog defensive end Mark Wacholc fell on the ball to kill the Norse drive.

"We were able to make some yardage up grade, but everytime we had a sustained drive going we made a mistake to stop the drive," said Wells.

Forbidding the Norsemen from gaining any more yardage, the Bulldogs' defense successfully intercepted three Norse passes and recovered two fumbles.

Navarro quarterback Jackie Hoog pitched the ball in for two scores by Todd Reddick and Steve White in the second and third quarters.

"We just couldn't get the job done offensively. We only needed a couple of yards, but we just didn't execute," Wells said.

Sophomore defensive tackle Jeff Frazell forced a fumble on a muffed handoff to give the Norse the ball at Navarro's 20-yard line.

After four incomplete passes the Norsemen turned the ball over on downs.

Following the first punt on the night the Norsemen could not make another final mistake. At the end of an 8-yard run fullback Elendoa Coles got the ball at the Norse 49-yard line.

Navarro received a 30-yard pass from reserve quarterback Gary Clayton to wide receiver Pat Williams. Thompson's 2-yard run and Miller's point after gave Navarro a 24-0 lead with 14:36 left in the game.

"We decided to bring in Joe (Potter) to try and bring a spark to our offense. Joe is a very talented quarterback and he responded well," said Wood.

A fumble recovery by Maurice Davenport gave the Norsemen another scoring chance when Navarro 17-yard line.

On the third play Lewis Carter scored from five yards out. Potter hit Derrick Owens for the two-point conversion to tie the game at 24-26 with 3:16 left in the game.

Taking advantage of an off-side kick the Bulldogs moved 47 yards in six plays for their final TD. Thompson scored an 8-yard run and Matt Glover kicked the extra point.

Potter wanted little time guiding the Golden Norse 85 yards in five plays for the final score. Potter hit wide receiver Tim Lewis for a 36-yard touchdown pass with 1:28 remaining. The two-point conversion run failed.

Thompson led the Navarro ground game with 90 yards on 16 carries. Norse rushed for 202 yards on 34 carries.

"Our offense didn't play as well as we thought they would. But at the same time, we didn't keep them pinned down in their own territory either," Carter led Norse's rushing attack with 41 yards on 14 carries. The Norsemen managed only 64 yards on 15 carries.

"I'm going to find some backs that will do the job. The guys weren't aggressive at all on offense and that's what they need to do," Wells said.

Adding to the sluggish ground game was the fact that quarterback Jackie Boyd was sacked eight times for a minus 35 yards.

Hood completed 10 of 22 passes for 151 yards with two interceptions. Potter hit 4 of 4 passes for 48 yards and one TD.

Owens paced the Norse offense with 7 catches for 96 yards. Scott Hackett made 3 receptions for 43 yards and Tim Lewis had 2 catches for 50 yards.

If we don't eliminate these mistakes we could very easily lose the next four weeks," said Wolfe.

TOUGH CATCH

Wide receiver Scott Hackett (88) hauls in a pass from freshman quarterback Joe Potter as Navarro linebacker Ken Coleman closes in for the tackle. The Norsemen dropped a 31-6 verdict in Corsicana, Texas last weekend.

By Blake Barlowhooes

Navarro earned its first victory of the season by defeating the University of Oklahoma's National Junior College Athletics Association Division I national champions, coach Larry Gibson can only wonder what will happen this year.

But with six sophomores returning from last year's squad, Gibson has a solid nucleus to build upon.

"We have a good nucleus to build around, but the sophomores need to become leaders," said Gibson.

Returning to the backcourt for the Norsemen are guards Tony Speical, Jack Fischer, and Phil Lockwood with Bob Jones, and Dean Blackard at forward.

Jones and Blackard are candidates for All-American honors. Both scored in the 20 to 25 point range, with Jones averaging 20.3 points and 2 rebounds.

Blackard scored 20 points, and 9 rebounds, with 4 assists and 2 blocks.

Printing from Ponce, Puerto Rico; average 3 points per game and 3 rebounds.

The Norsemen return 6-1 from President; averaged 2 points with 2 assists and 16 steals.

Lockwood, 6-3, from South Little Rock, Ark. averaged 3 points and 2 rebounds per contest.

Bob Jones, 6-3, from San Juna, averaged 2 points and 2 rebounds last year.

Johnson, 6-6 from Gary, Ind. averaged 3 points and 2 rebounds as a freshman.

"We have good athletes, question the perimeter shooting, and youth in key positions," Gibson said.
