NEWS BRIEFS

CAMPUS

Deziree Ray and the members of the Golden Norse Marching Band will hold an action starting at 10 a.m. Saturday in the intramural gym.

"We have received many donations from students, faculty, and other people in the community," said band director Rhonda Beasley.

The band will auction off art and used furniture, jewelry, certificates for diners, and shoes, said Ray.

Proceeds of the auction will help defray costs of sending the band to bowl the football team.

CAMPUS

Phi Theta Kappa has designated Nov. 1 through 19 as a called food drive to benefit the Osage County Nutrition Coalition.

This emergency food bank helps people of Osage County meet their needs.

During the past year the coalition gave away over 150,000 pounds of food to needy families.

PTK's goal is to restock their supplies and is asking for students' and faculty's help.

"We would like for your class or organization to ask each member for a donation of canned goods or cash," said Tony Miller, project coordinator.

Artwork is needed for display. A call will be made at 9:30 a.m., anything except Tuesday.

Bevelle Beatty at Ext. 334, or Carol Smith at Ext. 285 and will arrange to pick it up.

CAMPUS

A new course now being offered on campus will provide law enforcement officers in the area with increased Hispanic population in the state.

Conservational Spanish for law enforcement officers is a class being offered to help officers deal with the rising number of Spanish speaking residents in the area.

Several law enforcement agencies are attending the course.

"Attorney an officer can not communicate with a suspect it creates an awkward and possibly dangerous situation for that law office," said Leon Manning.

Probation can be avoided

Today is "D" Drop Day

By Marli Jones
Managing Editor

Academic probation and failure can be very frightening words to a student, but there are ways to get help before the situation gets that bad," said Keith Sutton, assessment coordinator.

When mid-term grades were handed out, some students were not pleased especially if they had a "D" or "F." There are options for the students who receive low grades if they take action quickly.

Some students who receive low grades early and rationalize their way around the reason their grades are so low. "Some students are ashamed, embarrassed, and humiliated when faced with academic probation," said Sutton.

Students do not consider what will happen when they cut classes to watch a soap opera on television, or to sleep in from a night on the town.

"Some students tend to see college as a socializing and fun. These students most likely will end up on probation because college is work," Sutton said.

A student will be placed on academic probation if one of the following occurs: the grade point average of the last semester attempted is less than 1.5; the cumulative grade point average is below 17 with six through eight hours attempted or below 2.0 with greater than 30 hours attempted.

Students who fall in this situation will be placed on probation. The idea of becoming a garbage man or going to beaux school may look appealing.

These thoughts are only a cover up of escape from failure.

An "F" is not pleasant, but it can serve as a great motivation. It can serve to show a student that if not rectified they could possibly be serving up ice cream at Bram's for the next 20 years.

For most students this is the first time away from home and supervision. When they are placed on probation they tend to blame their failure on everything and everyone besides themselves.

It is possible that an "F" at midterms will be more of a valuable learning experience than any "A."

There is hope for this predicament. It can cause a student to think about the value of an education.

In the U.S. Department of Census reported the mean annual income of persons having completed four years of college was $36,677.

In contrast, a college dropout had a mean annual income of $14,377.

Then compare that with the pre-tax weekly pay of minimum wage workers, 40 hours at $4.50 per hour gets you $850 a week.

"Salvaging your semester may not be as impossible as it seems," Sutton said.

To salvage your semester, first go to the instructors that gave you "F" and "D" and ask what you can do to salvage your grade.

If your instructor gives you a "D" then you must assume you don't care.

After contacting the instructor find out if there is any extra credit work or work that you can make up.

If there is a class you absolutely cannot make it, consider dropping the class by Friday Nov. 12.

"This is the last day that you can drop without evaluation," said Sutton.

"If you drop the class that you are having trouble in before this date, it will not hurt your GPA.

When doing this, a student should be aware that a minimum of 22 credit hours are usually required by housing, financial aid, veterans' benefits and others. Failing below these hours could adversely affect the financial aid you receive throughout your education.

"If a student lacks essential study skills, he may be better off doing his degree at a community college and it does not want to lose your money (taller all the one reason why we are here). It is never late to seek help this semester but in future semesters you can pick up one of the mid-term classes that are offered. This could help you pull your required credit hours up to 12 when you need to bail out of a class where you can't make the grade.

Many departments have tutors and if that is not an option you can receive tutoring at TLC. The Learning Center, located in the Dugan Library Administration building. In room 201.

The Learning Center is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

They are also open on Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

TLC will remain open during the lunch hour, but will not longer be open during the week-end.

"The semester is only half over, you have the opportunity to correct some mistakes."

Responses

Editor’s Note: The response section on this page is not to be mistaken as an opinion poll or any other instrument used to reflect a general consensus of the student body or faculty at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College. Students were asked the following question:

How do you feel about the dorms being closed over the Thanksgiving holiday?

David Dale
Freshman, Tulsa

“lt isn’t too great for people who live far away.”

Yvette Menifee
Soph., Oklahoma City

“It doesn’t effect me because I live close. But what about people who don’t?”

Brian Richards
Freshman, Mannford

“It doesn’t bother me one way or another.”

Michelle Chrismon
Fr., Oklahoma City

“Since I’m not going to be here, it doesn’t matter.”

Kelley Deignan
Freshman, Fishers, Ind.

“I’m going home, but I don’t think it’s fair for those who can’t.”

Long standing Japanese sport makes changes to stay modern

Japanese sumo wrestlers are not as prestigious as they once were. More and more youth would-be sumo wrestlers are staying away from the respected and time-honored sport.

In the Japanese culture sumo wrestlers are held with high regard. Now, however, the young men of Japan are playing soccer, football, and baseball instead of wrestling.

This is because the Japanese girls do not like wrestlers. They are not attractive to the girls, so the guys choose not to become wrestlers.

The guys are also to blamed for many reasons. They are not as skilled and are not as honest as they once were.

They are also to blamed for wearing the little diapers looking things that they wear to.

The highly honed Japanese tradition is losing ground.

The youth of Japan are struggling and exploring new things, instead of sticking to the highly honed traditions.

It is good to see the youth of today branching out and doing their own way.

If we don’t change the traditions, we will not be able to compete.

Making choices about abortion very difficult

In this era abortion is supposed to be able to make their own choices and decisions concerning their life.

No matter what decision a woman makes it is always under the watchful eye of politicians and the public eye.

For example, abortion is dealing with the woman’s body so it should be her choice as to whether or not to have one.

The government is out of it. They are trying to decide if it is moral or not.

Immortality should not be a decision made by the government. It should be left up to the individual.

This is the one thing that abortion is not whether or not it should be legal, but whether or not the government should have a say.

If a child is put up for adoption, then the mother and or father of the child are ridiculed.

They are thought of as immature and destitute.

More often than not it is the hardest decision for them to make, and it is usually done in the best interest of the child, not because they did not want the child.

When a woman keeps the child and lives on welfare they are looked down upon in society.

They are labeled as just having kids and using the welfare system so they don’t have to work.

This may be true, but in a lot of cases it is not.

No matter what decision a woman makes concerning her unborn child everyone jumps down her throat and criticizes her.

This decision should be kept personal. She should be encouraged, helped and supported instead.

A few rowdies disrupt dorm life

Satisfaction seems to be taking a backseat in the dorms, especially Russell and Vance. In some of the dorms there have been faces, paper, and any other bodily fluids you can think of found on the doors, walls, and bathrooms.

Trash has littered the halls and bathrooms. Toilets left unflushed, and bathroom sinks left a mess.

It is inconceivable as to why this is going on. No one can explain why these people are doing this.

Editorial

The worst part of this is that everyone takes responsibility for what a small handful does. The end result is that everyone pays for the vandalism created by a very select group of people.

The consequences could be removal of privileges, fines, or a variety of other disciplines that the administration can think of.

The people who are doing the vandalism and other acts of defacing should realize that what they are doing is harming their peers, and should not be done.

Every year the college spends over $20,000 to repair minds and vandalism. Eventually, we all have to pass some additional housing costs and tuition increases.

It is unfair for a few people to have to suffer for the acts of few. So, if you see these things being done, report it.

Fans display true Norseman spirit

Members of our student body deserve a big “pat on the back” for the tremendous show of support and school spirit they displayed at last week’s season opener for both the Lady Norse and Golden Norse basketball teams and the Golden Norse wrestling exhibition.

“lt really looked great and felt good inside to look across the gym floor and see such a big crowd of students,” said Lady Norse head coach Randy Gibson. “It’s kind of unusual to have that many people at our game because we play so early. But I know our team really appreciated having them there.”

“Our guys really got an emotional high from having such a large turnover,” said Golden Norse coach Lonnie Spencer. “In a close game like we had, the support response can make a difference. We need that kind of support every time we take the floor at home.”

“Even though we were just wrestling exhibitions, we had a great turnout,” said wrestling coach Alan Lauther. “I want to thank everyone for coming out and showing their support.”

“This is just the kind of response from the student body, faculty, staff and administration that we were hoping for.”

These kinds of crowds can keep the Norseman tradition going strong,” said Bob Maxwell, athletic director.

Students are reminded that both basketball teams will be at home Friday and Saturday to host an eight-team NEO Wendy’s Classic. Admission is free with a valid ID.

Members of the golf and bowling class taught by the Physical Education department made their third trip to the local bowling alley recently.

Carol Calcagno coaches students in the rules, etiquette, terms and techniques.

The first nine weeks of the semester students practiced golfing and the second nine weeks, bowling.

"We didn't get to do the usual nine holes of golf in class, because of the floods, but students are able to do this on their own time and turn in the scorecard for class points," said Calcagno.

The class was able, however, to go to the Miami Golf and Country Club course on the driving range and the putting green.

"The instruction and practice really helped my golfing. I learned some better techniques that improved my game," said Jason Etniel, freshman from Akron.

"I learned a lot from the golfing course. That's mainly what I wanted to do. I've been in a bowling league for three years, but I'm having fun bowling with the class," said Mike Berry, a freshman from Pickerington.

"I was interested in taking golf and bowling because I'm not good at either one of them. My family enjoys both and it's a way for us to do more together. Maybe I won't always be the one to come in last place now," said Kathy Wyrick, a sophomore from Miami.

Freshman Kevin Needham from Ontario, Cal., holds the two highest scores after the third game of bowling. Needham bowled a 187 and an 82.

Students do not need to be experienced players in golf or bowling to take the class.

"If students don't know how to play or don't understand the rules, or how to keep score, the course would be good for them. If everyone that joined was great at it, we wouldn't need it," said Calcagno.

"If they already know both games and how to play, they can always pick up a few pointers or else it's just good practice and enhances improvement," Calcagno said.

Calcagno believes staying relaxed and keeping it fun is the most important things to remember about golf or bowling.

If you're nervous, you get all tensed up. Relax and enjoy the game.

"I really wish I could work with each student more, but I go back and forth watching everyone and help whoever seems to need it at the moment."

"Even the experienced players need help sometimes," said Calcagno.

The college furnishes all golfing equipment and bowling at Miami Playland Lanes costs $1 per lane. This price includes the ball and shoes.

Benefit scheduled for college student

The Kim Smith-Hubey Musical Benefit will be held Saturday, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m. in the Commerce High School Gym.

Hubey has been diagnosed with cancer and money is being raised to help with medical expenses. She is taking classes at NSU in Tahlequah to be a teacher and was raised in North Miami, but is now living in Commerce.

Groups entering a benefit will include: Willow Creek Bluegrass, Oklahoma Wonders, Backyard Cloggers, Glory Bound.

Baker & Slater, John Lemaster & Mark & Mead Price, Barrow Tradition, Hammer Sisters and Shawn Howe (State Fiddler Champion).

Charge for the benefit will be donation only.

There will be a concession stand available.

For more information, call Carol Smith at 542-8441 or 238.

"We thought this would be a good way to raise money and give people something back," said Smith.

Men blunt Seminole rally
After jumping out to a 14-2 lead, the Golden Norse had to hold off a late rally by the Seminole Junior College to earn a 70-67 victory on Tuesday at Seminole.

The win improves the Norse record to 3-0. The Trojans slip to 2-1 on the year.

The Norse came out of the gate strong, hitting four of the first five shots. Ron Beas had two and Kevin Lunn and Shonn Williams had one each.

The Trojans came back however, fueled by six points by Antonio Sanders and a bucket by Lodger Perry to cut the Norse lead down to 14-0 with 13:18 left in the half.

When Beas hit a three-point bomb and Steen Reid and Kevin Lunn each scored a basket, the Golden Norse led 23-17 with 7:06 left before halftime.

The Trojans went on a 9-0 run to take a 26-23 lead. D'Andrea Purcell and Heiny Williams led the spur with five and four points respectively.

Trailing 32-29, the Norse grabbed the lead back with a three-point play by Scott and a pair of free throw by Beas. The Norse led 33-33 with 2:53 left in the half.

The Norse outscored the Trojans 16-6 over the next 2:53 to take a 49-39 lead into intermission.

"We just went in and told our kids to be patient. That they were doing right, but to take their time and find the open man," said Norse coach Lonnie Spencer.

Four points each by Shonn Williams, Chris Scott and a three-pointer by Lunsford boosted the Norse lead to 59-44 with 5:32 to go in the game.

Seminoles had a rally back with Theo Hama and J.T. Brown scoring four each and Sanders and Davie two each led short and the Norse came away with the victory.

Lunsford led a balanced Norse attack with 17 points Scott scored in 36 while Williams had 13 and Beas 12.

Sanders and Wills led the Trojans with 15 and 13 points respectively.

"This was a tremendous team effort," said Spencer. "Our kids showed a lot of heart and character after seeing a 14-point lead evaporate. Semi is a good basketball team, and we had to play very hard to win."

Norse 66, Cowley County 50 After trailing 26-26 at halftime, the Norse exploded for a 66-50 victory over Cowley County, Kan., last Saturday in the second round of the Golden Norse Classic.

Shane Williams led the Norse with 18 points followed by Lunsford and Beaner with 11 points each.

The Golden Norsemen will return to home court Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. contest with Butler County, Kan.

The Norse will travel to Arkansas City, Kan. Friday and Saturday to compete in the Cowley County Classic against the Tigers, Butler County and Southwest Iowa.

Ladies ring Seminole Belles

Vernon Latasha Byars scored 29 points and sophomore Lisa Guster grabbed 18 rebounds to spark the Lady Norse to a 68-57 victory over Seminole last Tuesday in Seminole.

The Lady Norse were ranked third in the presessional National Junior College Athletic Association poll and stand 2-0 on the year. With the defeat the Belles are 1-1 for the season.

The Lady Norse will travel to Overland Park, Kan. next Friday and Saturday to compete in the Johnson County Community College Classic.

"I was very pleased with the effort we got tonight," said Lady Norse head coach Randy Gipson.

"We played well at both ends of the floor. Anytime you can come to Seminole and get away with a win you have accomplished something."

The Lady Norse jumped out to a 13-6 lead in the first three minutes.

Trailing 45-33 the Belles received baskets by Kati Weaver, Cara Dilks and Dee Ellis Lewis to cut the deficit to six at 45-39 with 9:38 left in the game.

Gunter scored six straight points and Byars put into two points to push the lead to nine at 50-42 with 7:09 to go in the game.

Six straight points by Byars along with a field goal by Gunter gave the Norse a 60-46 lead with 4:26 to go in the game.

The Lady Norse were lead by Byars with 29 points on 11 of 21 shooting from the floor and 7 of 12 from the line.

Natalia Dockery led the Belles with 15 points while Dee Ellis Lewis had 13.

THAT'S MY BALL!
Sophomore center Nikki Edwards did the ball as Seminole's Kati Weaver wraps her body around the loose ball. Edwards scored seven points as the Lady Norse defeated the Belles 57-51 last Tuesday in Seminole. The Lady Norse play at home today and Saturday in the NEO Wendy's Classic. Both games start at 6 p.m.
Norsemen defeat Cisco

By Chad Grubbs
Sports Editor

In a game that was totally dominated by offense, the Golden Norse racked up their eighth straight win with a 52-27 victory over Cisco Junior College last Saturday in Cisco, Texas.

With the victory coach Mike Loyd's Golden Norse concluded the regular season with a 9-1 record while the Wranglers fell to 1-9 on the year.

The Norse were scheduled to go to Stephenville, Ark., Monday for an afternoon contest with the University of Arkansas Junior Varsity.

But on mutual consent by Loyd and Arkansas head coach Danny Ford, the game was cancelled.

The seventh-ranked Golden Norse await a bid to one of eight post-season bowl games sanctioned by the National Junior College Athletic Association. The bids will be extended Sunday, Nov. 19.

"We both agreed that it would be difficult to play a junior varsity game if they (Arkansas) didn't have enough kids to suit up. They've had quite a few injuries," said Loyd.

After Johnny Jones blocked a Cisco punt the Norse led 14-0 after the first quarter.

Larry Bowie capped a 14-yard two-play drive with a 10-yard touchdown run. Eric Jackson kicked the PAT and the Norse led 14-0.

On the Wranglers' second play of their next possession, Millerk McGeer ran 59 yards in two plays.

The Norse scored on a 4-yard run by Jackson, and the Norse led 21-0.

On the Wranglers' second play of their next possession, overtime pass attempt was intercepted by Mike Loyd's, who returned it 15 yards to the Norse 44.

After stopping the Wranglers again the Norse went on a 73-yard 14-play drive. Jerome Burroughs did the honors scoring from 4 yards out. Jackson's kick was again good and the Norse led 14-0.

The Wranglers got on the board with 5:20 left in the second quarter.

Following an interception of a McGeer pass the Wranglers moved 59 yards in two plays. Wide receiver Rodney Brown took the throw with a 55-yard catch from quarterback Nick Johnson.

The Norse scored on a 48-yard field goal and with 4:08 to go in the third quarter the Norse led 32-29.

The Norse went on a long scoring drive to take back the momentum. The first was a 66-yard nine-play drive. Bowie scored his third touchdown of the game with his 3-yard run.

The Norse forced a punt and they went on a 76-yard drive. This time McGeer scored on a 26-yard run. Johnson boosted the PAT and the Norse lead 52-29 with 1:34 to go in the game.

LeFever hit Johnson on a 11-yard TD pass for their final score.

Brown scored the first touchdown of the second half for the Wranglers on a 63-yard punt return. The two-point conversion was failed and the Norse led 34-26.

A questionable interference call led to Cisco's next score. The call gave the Wranglers a first down at the Norse 9-yard line. Johnson connected with Ed Henderson for the score.

The Norse led 52-29 with 1:34 to go in the game. After an NED punt the Wranglers scored after going 75-yards on 3-plays. This time quarterback Jeff LeFever hit Rick York on a 36-yard touchdown pass. The kick was good and Cisco had cut the lead to 38-29.

After another NED punt the Wranglers drove the field and kicked a 48-yard field goal and with 4:08 to go in the third quarter the Norse led 32-29.

The Norse went on a long scoring drive to take back the momentum. The first was a 66-yard nine-play drive. Bowie scored his third touchdown of the game with his 3-yard run.
