Look for these two tables on your syllabus in order to know how many points your assignments are worth and the percentage ranges of grades.

ATTENDANCE & PARTICIPATION

- Attendance and participation are extremely important for any college course.
- Student participation in class activities is what makes the class a fun and productive learning experience.
- No extra work may be turned in to make up for an absence and/or in-class assignment.
- Students are responsible for contacting classmates to get notes and information that they miss.
- Assignments that are due on the day of an absence may be emailed or placed in the instructor’s mailbox before the start of class.
- Students will be allowed five (5) absences throughout the duration of the 16 weeks – each absence will be recorded in a deduction of points. The 6th absence will constitute an F in the course regardless of the amount of progress and participation up to that point.
- Students who stop coming to class and do not officially withdraw from the course will receive an “F” at the end of the semester.

Do not neglect to review the attendance and participation portion of your syllabus! Each instructor weighs attendance and participation differently.
TARDY POLICY

- Two tardies will count as an absence.
- Students are considered tardy once attendance has been taken. They are also considered tardy if they leave class early.
- Students who are not present when attendance is taken are responsible for seeing the instructor AFTER class to avoid being counted absent.

It is good practice for the professional world to be on time. If you are running late, make sure you are familiar with your instructor’s tardy policy!

LATE ASSIGNMENTS
This will be at the discretion of EACH instructor. Examples provided below.

Assignments may be turned in up to two weeks late with a 50% penalty.

No late assignments will be accepted
Assignment may be turned in late within one week of due date with a 25% penalty.

As stated above, each instructor’s policy regarding late assignments is different. It is important that you are familiar with the policies for all of your courses.

Use the course schedule as your guide throughout the semester. Look at it often to see what readings are required, when assignments are due, when your exams will be held, and what topics you will be covering week to week. Consider making an extra copy of your schedule to post in your room or copy down important dates in a planner!

NEO A&M COLLEGE POLICIES:

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy Statement
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact the ADA Coordinator at (918) 540-6236.

Academic Misconduct (Page 41, Student Handbook):
Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following actions:
- Plagiarism or the representation of previously written, published material as your own. Paraphrased materials must be acknowledged in the same manner as material that is used verbatim.
- Collaborating with another person without authorization on projects, exams or other academic work or representing work as solely one’s own when it is a result of an unauthorized joint effort.
- Cheating on examinations or preparation of the academic work by copying from another student’s test, report, files, data or programs or using unauthorized notes or other unauthorized aids.
- Knowingly and without authorization using, buying, selling, stealing, soliciting, copying or possessing, in whole or in part, the contents of an unadministered exam.
- Substituting for another student or permitting another student to substitute for oneself in taking an exam or preparing other academic work.
- Knowingly cooperating with another person in an academically dishonest undertaking.
- Any student who is found guilty of an act of academic misconduct will be subject to disciplinary action. The disciplinary action may include reduction of the student’s grade for the examination, assignment, or course to the grade of “F.”

Tobacco-Free Policy Statement
In compliance with Governor Fallin’s Executive Order 2013-43, the use of tobacco products of any nature and the use of e-cigarettes and other vapor products are banned on all state property. This order includes any property owned and/or operated by Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College. Further information about the tobacco-free policy can be viewed on the NEO website at www.neo.edu/StudentLife/TobaccoPolicy/. If you have additional questions, please contact the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management at (918) 540-6212.

As a student, it is very important that you are familiar with NEO's policies regarding the Americans with Disabilities Act, Academic Misconduct, and tobacco use.

The instructor reserves the right to change this document based on experiences and needs of the students involved.

If your instructor finds a need to make changes to their syllabus, the above statement ensures that they can make any changes at any period during the semester. Always be aware of any changes that are made to your syllabi.
